An Act to amend the act approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty-six), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety, and welfare of minors: By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hours of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, reissuance, filing, return, and recording of the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment, attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, in certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school districts wherein they are employed; requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts, and police officers; and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder, and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," as amended, by prohibiting employment of minors between fourteen and sixteen years of age, except in certain types of work which will not interfere with school attendance; further limiting the occupations in which minors between fourteen and eighteen years of age may be employed or permitted to work, and the hours of labor; further regulating employment certificates, and requiring such certificates for minors under eighteen; imposing on school districts the duty to issue such certificates; further requiring schedules of the hours of employment to be posted; and repealing certain sections.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 304, entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives trains and other self propelled engines or machines with competent employes to provide the least number of men that may be employed on locomotive trains and other self propelled engines or machines to provide the qualification of certain employes and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the third time considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative on this bill and I desire to file my reasons.

I take it the major reason for H. B. 304 is increased employment, therefore, it should be discussed from that angle and the general effect on others already employed with respect to their jobs.

Let us review first present conditions. There are some 19 railroads in Pennsylvania, about 16 of which are in the red. All of them are struggling to make ends meet and are definitely faced with increased taxes and expenses this year. Hiring of men in one department compels the saving of that money in another, such as maintenance, clerk lay off, etc. Because of continuing deficits this bill compels a full crew on a single gasoline coach providing service in a rural community where a larger train is not practical on account of the loss of revenue involved. Therefore a net increase in employment is not the result and this legislation will be at the expense of some one elses job. For 20 years, I have helped to employ labor in a modest way and we have always been fair with each other—have reasoned things out together. The same reasoning should be applied to this bill which concerns the welfare of those already employed by the railroads and the public.

I therefore desire to vote naye on account of the above reasons.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following reason for my vote on this bill:

My reason for voting against House Bill No. 304 is because of one lobbist only, named McCarty. Owing to his nasty method of lobbying.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 311, entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employes upon railroads by prohibiting carriers by railroad hauling trains excessive in length providing penalties and providing for enforcement by the Public Service Commission or any other agency empowered to enforce the law.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to file my reasons for voting "no" on this bill.

Yesterday a public hearing before the House committee on Railroads and Railways was refused on this bill on my motion to re-refer to committee for public hearings. Since that time I have diligently investigated the effect of the bill without the aid of such a hearing. I find there is a great misconception among the members of this House as to both the Safety effect—purported purpose of the bill—and the financial effect upon the citizens of the Commonwealth. Inasmuch as a large part of our population vitally concerned in this measure were refused a chance to be heard before the House Committee with us assurance of a hearing before the Senate, I vote against the Bill.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative on this bill and I desire to file the following reason:

I understand the National Government will have before it a similar bill, and feel it should be passed on by such a body instead of by individual States. Believing that the regulation of the length of trains is a Federal matter, and that there has been no demand for this legislation on the part of the Interstate Commerce Commission, I desire to vote naye.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I voted against this bill and desire to file my reason:

Reason for voting against House Bill No. 311 is due to dirty methods of the railroad engineer Marino McCarthy in lobbying.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 89, entitled:

An Act to prohibit discrimination on account of race or color in employment under contracts for public buildings or public works.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in asking the members of this House to support this bill, I cannot help but draw the attention of the House and particularly the Republican members thereof, to the fact that the principle and the identical bill in substance and in wording before you was unanimously endorsed by the Republican caucus of this House at the very beginning of this session, and in pursuance thereof there was introduced by a Republican member on January 14 1935, House Bill No. 63, which was referred on January 15, 1935, to the Committee on Corporations. That bill in—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver will state his point of order.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia is not speaking on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will confine himself to the bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, there the bill providing the same substance as this bill went to the Committee on Corporations, and there it was feloniously, wilfully —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence will state his point of order.

Mr. EROE. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, insists on not speaking on the bill. I ask that he be requested to confine his speaking to the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will please confine himself to speaking on the bill. What occurred in committee does not belong in the discussion on the bill itself.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. WITKIN. Where a bill, bearing number 339, is identical with a bill of another number, and I discuss the merits or the contents of either bill, am I not speaking on the bill itself?

The SPEAKER. As long as the gentleman deals with the subject matter of the bill, he is entirely in order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the Republican members of this House as well as to my Democratic friends of the House, that House Bill No. 339 ought to be supported because it deals with a subject of importance, to-wit, industrial police, and repealing that act.

The Republican members of this House ought to support the bill because the Republican party platform is for that principle, and because you have from the very beginning of this session done everything possible that you could do to carry out the Republican party platform, by having enacted into law such a bill and such a measure.

The mere fact that a particular bill, bearing a particular number, that was introduced by a Republican, has been changed to a larger number, should be no reason why you should fail to support House Bill No. 339, because although the numbers are different — — one being a large number and the other a small number—the contents are the same, and while it is a Republican measure, it bears a Democratic label.

Mr. COOLAHAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to say that Mr. Witkin's apology is accepted and we hope that the vote will go on.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1935 No. 13

SENATE

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1935.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

During these short moments of devotion, O Lord, teach us the secret of prayer. Thou didst reveal this mystery to men of long ago—show it also unto us.

We need speak no word, we need assume no pose in order to pray. Even mute desire to know Thee—even silent waiting for Thee—even intense listening for Thy voice—these constitute prayer. Coupled with faith they bind together the hearts of man and God, permitting God to work His will through men.

Grant unto us such close alliance with Thee that the deliberations and decisions of this legislative body may be made in reality by Thee.

We make this petition humbly hoping that the coming of Thy kingdom may be hastened. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WOODWARD, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARVEY asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE APPROPRIATIONS TO HOSPITALS

Mr. PYTKO offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 11, 1935.

Whereas, the General Assembly, in making appropriations to hospitals, has followed a practice of making such appropriations at each succeeding biennial session in the same amounts or in the same relative amounts as at the last preceding session, without taking sufficiently into consideration the equitable apportionment of such appropriations or the changes in population or economic conditions of the locality in which the hospitals enjoying the benefits of such appropriations are located; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three Senators, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four members of the House of Representatives to serve as a committee whose duty it shall be to investigate all appropriations to hospitals in order to ascertain whether such appropriations are being equitably apportioned or whether changes in apportionment should be made by reason of abnormal increases or decreases in population or by changes in economic conditions which affect particular localities to a greater extent than the State at large, or for any other reason that may appear to such committee;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the Senate and House of Representatives of this Session as early as possible; and

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oath and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution will be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 31 on third reading entitled:

An Act to amend section six as amended and section eight of the act, approved the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 719), entitled, "An act regulating certain political parties; providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to national party conventions, and of certain party officers, including State committeemen; a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States; and the payment by the several counties, and their reimbursement by the State, of the expenses of the same; authorizing the State committee of a political party to make, and to alter, amend, and revoke rules; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein; and repealing inconsistent legislation," prohibiting candidates for office from being candidates for more than one party nomination, and requiring candidates affidavits from candidates for additional offices.

be recommitted to the Committee on Elections for a hearing.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 33 on third reading entitled:

An Act authorizing the transfer to and acceptance by the Commonwealth of the Philadelphia Hospital for Mental Diseases at Byberry; and for the management and operation thereof as a State Mental Health Hospital.

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for a hearing.

Mr. HUNSICKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 56, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (d) of section ten of the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1216), entitled "An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen; and providing for the licensing, regulation, and supervision of resident and non-resident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business," as amended, by defining the powers of the courts on appeals from the Department of Public Instruction.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 87, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (a) of section six, and sections ten and eleven of the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 198), entitled "An act to establish a county court for the County of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties, regulating the procedure therein, and providing for the expenses thereof," by increasing the jurisdiction of the court in civil actions to twenty-five hundred dollars; by increasing to twenty-five hundred dollars the maximum limit of set-off required to be pleaded by defendants; by permitting verdicts and judgments rendered after trial before a judge without a jury to be made liens upon real estate; by changing the effect of appeals from the county court upon judgments of that court; by regulating executions issued by the court of common pleas upon transcribed judgments of the county court rendered after trial before a judge without a jury; and by providing a continuous system for the filing and docketing in the common pleas court of transcripts from the docket of the county court in any case.

An said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 107 on third reading entitled:

An Act to amend clause three of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 129), entitled "An act to empower boroughs and cities to establish a police pension fund; to take property in trust therefor; and regulating and providing for the regulation of the same," defining the rights of policemen and firemen becoming separated from the service through no fault of delinquency of their own.

be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government for a hearing.

Mr. HUNSICKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 108 on third read entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph six of section thirteen of article nineteen of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581), entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," making provision for the reinstatement of certain policemen and firemen and restricting the powers of the civil service commission.

be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government for a hearing.

Mr. HUNSICKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 109 on third reading entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 69), entitled "An act relating to the minimum salaries and annual increments of the teaching and supervisory staffs of the public schools; granting power to the Superintendent of Public Instruction to permit, as to certain school districts, temporary reductions in the salary schedules; authorizing Superintendent of Public Instruction to suspend mandatory provisions of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine), entitled 'An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the methods of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith, and of its amendments and supplements, prohibiting school districts from demanding, requesting or accepting gifts or donations from members of the teaching and supervisory staffs, and empowering the Superintendent of Public Instruction to forfeit certain State subsidies for violations thereof; relating to the effect of payment of salaries which are less than those prescribed by salary schedules granting certain options to the members of the School Employes' Retirement System; and temporarily superseding and inconsistent acts and parts of acts," by reducing the period of time said act shall remain in effect in school districts of the first class.

be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government for a hearing.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 149, on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the selection of two additional jurors in civil and criminal cases to take the place of any juror or jurors becoming incapacitated.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is an act providing for alternate jurors. It is supposed to be in conformity with the procedure in criminal cases in the United States Federal Court. I hope the sponsor of this bill will agree to recommit it to the Committee on Judiciary General, because there is no provision made for additional challenges of the alternate jurors. The law as it now stands provides for twenty jurors chosen, and for eight challenges—four to each side. This bill would provide for the calling of twenty-two jurors, with only the same number of challenges. I am sure the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will have no objection to the recommitting of this bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have no objection to the suggestion made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 154, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing that State and Federal moneys appropriated and available for unemployment relief and work relief shall be allocated by the Department of Welfare for expenditure by political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor; defining the powers of such political subdivisions; and providing for the audit of accounts.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 171, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the support of the American Legislators' Association.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it would be quite refreshing if we could pass finally one bill, and I would like to explain to the members of the Senate that this bill is for an appropriation of $4,000.00 for the Amercian Legislators Association, and there is nothing that stands in our way, except the Executive Budget, to the appropriating of the $4,000.00, if we see fit, to the American Legislators Association.

I might explain to the new members that the Association has been in existence about seven years, and brings the legislators of all States together to work together. At the last meeting, in Washington, over thirty States were represented; at the end of this month we hope to have more than that. Pennsylvania has always stood very high in this representative body, and it is a matter of pride to appropriate this money so that we can go to Washington in good standing. I hope nobody will object.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49.

Aron,	Harris,	Miller,	Rodgers,
Batchelor,	Harvey,	Norton,	Rupp,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 185, entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven of the act approved the sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 820), entitled "An act regulating the practice of the profession of engineering in all of its branches including surveying providing for the registration of certain persons practicing or offering to practice said profession conferring certain powers and imposing certain duties upon the State registration board for professional engineers upon the court of common pleas of Dauphin County and providing penalties" by removing the penalty for failure to renew certificates.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 118, entitled:

An Act to authorize cities of the third class boroughs and townships to sue out writs of scire facias on certain municipal claims where more than five years have elapsed since said claims were filed and to reduce such claims to judgment and providing for the revival and collection of such judgments

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any city of the third class borough or township has heretofore filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county any municipal claim or claims and the city borough or township has not within the period of five years after the date on which any such claim was filed sued out a writ of scire facias to reduce the same to judgment then in any such case any such city borough or township may within one year after the passage and approval of this act issue its praecipe for a writ of scire facias on any such municipal claim and proceed to judgment in the manner provided by law to obtain judgments upon municipal claims and such judgment shall be a valid judgment and be a lien upon the real estate upon which it was a lien at the time it was filed and said judgment may be revived and collected as other judgments upon municipal claims are revived and collected Provided however That the lien of any such judgment shall not re-attach against any real estate transferred to any purchaser during the time when the lien of any such municipal claim was lost nor shall the lien of any such judgment impair or affect the priority of the lien of any mortgage or other lien which gained priority because of the failure of the city or borough or township to sue out the writ of scire facias within the five year period or was entered of record during the time the lien of such municipal claim was lost

Section 2 This act shall be in effect immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SECOND INTERSTATE ASSEMBLY OF THE AMERICAN LEGISLATORS' ASSOCIATION

THE AMERICAN LEGISLATORS' ASSOCIATION

Chicago, Illinois, February 5, 1935.

Hon. Thomas Kennedy,
President of the Senate,
State Capitol,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Senator Kennedy:

Enclosed with this letter is the official Call of the Second Interstate Assembly, which will convene in Washington, D. C., on Thursday, February 28, 1935.

Every state which participates will presumably benefit from this attempt to reduce governmental confusion and conflict, especially in tax matters. And no state can afford to have its interests unrepresented.

We urge upon you the desirability of having this Call read to the members of the Senate and printed in the Journal at the earliest possible moment.

The fact that the resignation of delegates should be completed on or before February 13, necessitates prompt action by both houses of the legislature, as well as by the Governor. Your influence in securing a favorable reception of this invitation in your branch of the legislature will be a service in a cause of great significance.

There is enclosed a copy of a resolution in the prompt adoption of which we are asking certain members of your branch of your legislature to share responsibility. It provides for designation of delegates and payment of their expenses.

For your information there is also enclosed a roster of the members of the First Interstate Assembly, in which are also incorporated the names of those delegates who were officially designated after the meeting of the Assembly to fill vacancies.

Very truly yours,

HENRY W. TOLL.

RECESS

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The chair hears none.

Mr. NORTON, from the Committee on Insurance reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 153, entitled:

An Act to further amend section five hundred and thirty-one of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance, amending, revising, and consoldiating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties: and repealing existing laws," by classifying foreign mutual fire, mutual marine, or mutual fire and marine companies for the purpose of licensing and relicensing and providing the requirements for licensing and relicensing.

Mr. ZEISENHEIM. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection, The Chair hears none.

Mr. ZEISENHEIM, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported as committed, the following resolution, which was laid on the table:

MEMORIAL IN HONOR OF
BRIGADIER-GENERAL CASIMIR PULASKI

In the Senate, January 14, 1935.

Whereas, In the course of the Revolutionary War and at a time when the American forces were in great need of assistance, there arrived in this country, among others, a nobleman of Polish birth, to wit, Casimir Pulaski; and

Whereas, The service rendered by him was of great value and assistance to the cause of American independence and of such high importance that on September 15, 1777, he was appointed Brigadier-General of the Continental Army and Chief of Dragoons, and on March 28, 1778, he was designated commander of an independent corps known as "Pulaski's Legion"; and

Whereas, It is the sense and feeling of the members of the Polish Union of the United States of North America, a fraternal benefit society, with headquarters in the City of Wilkes-Barre, and with a membership of over 50,000 members, that proper permanent recognition should be given to the memory of Brigadier-General Casimir Pulaski, whose illustrious service in the war for American independence is well-known to all who are familiar with our history; therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania be requested to take the necessary and proper steps for erecting and constructing some permanent memorial in honor of Brigadier-General Casimir Pulaski at some suitable location associated with the struggle of the American forces for independence.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BENNETT, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act to amend section nine of the act, approved the fifth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four (P. L. 223), entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War, the war between the United States and Spain, the China Relief Expedition, or in the Philippines or Guam; providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who, because of death or incapacity, cannot personally receive compensation; imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General; making an appropriation; and repealing inconsistent legislation; and providing penalties," providing for the payment of compensation of veterans hospitalized for nervous or mental diseases.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

The SPEAKER (Wilson S. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend David Dunn, Pastor of St. John's Reformed Church of Harrisburg offered the following prayer:

Our God and our Father, on the eve of the birthday of Thy great American servant, we thank Thee for him and for his life as it sets an example to us in the duties of our citizenship. We pray Thee to help us to look up to Thee as he looked. We pray Thee that we may receive our inspiration, and our courage and our firmer faith to go ahead on the way that Thou hast marked out for us.

We pray Thee to help us to look out also for our fellowmen, especially those who are dispossessed and afflicted and in need. May we not forget any of them. Whatever our capacity may be, we represent Thee and we represent our brethern.

May Thy blessing rest upon this Commonwealth of Thine and upon this nation of Thine, and may we, Thy servants, the citizens of this commonwealth and nation be aided by Thee in doing for Thee and for each other and for our fellow men what Thou hast for us to do.

We ask it in the name of our Lord and Master, Christ Jesus. Amen.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING HON. WILLIAM E. HABBYSHAW

Mr. WOODSIDE offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1935.

Whereas, A rumor has been circulated to the effect that today is the birthday of the Honorable William E. Habbyshaw; and

Whereas, That rumor is impossible of confirmation since, because of that Member's well known modesty, his biographical sketch in the current Pennsylvania Manual is the shortest in that volume giving neither date nor records; and

Whereas, Frantic telephone calls to his wife divulge the fact that she is steadfastly by his side in his duties this evening and cannot therefore be reached; therefore be it

Resolved, That if it be his birthday, we express to our honest, efficient and well-beloved fellow Member, our heartiest congratulations, and to his family, his constituency, and to ourselves; and be it further

Resolved, That if it be not his birthday, we nevertheless persist in our felicitations; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be handed by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Honorable William E. Habbyshaw.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is in answer to a personal attack upon me by certain newspapers.

To the astonishment of this young junior among you, I find that we still have amongst us certain members of that tribe who during the off season of the legislature promote and expound theories of liberalism and then during the session, the season when these theories should be put into practice, these same members of this tribe—I shall call them "editors" for the benefit of the newspaper men—and particularly the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania—and during the session when any measures are introduced which tend to put some of these theories in practice with a view to alleviating the situation of the aged, infirm and others, we find that the attack is not made upon the measures as they are introduced, but these newspaper men take it upon themselves to attack the intelligence, if I may say, of the members of this House who in their good judgment have introduced this legislation.

I shall refer to one little line and not take the whole item, because it would involve too much time, and read it for your benefit:

"Here, for example are a couple of measures sponsored by Representative John H. Dent, of Jeannette, who, though he calls himself a Democrat, goes about as far as the Socialists would, in proposing to take property from the industrious and thrifty and give it to the idle."

I care not what they think. I am immune from attacks, because I have nothing to lose and nothing to gain. I only want to ask the members here not to so classify me in their minds, not to make me out a radical legislator and condemn me just because of the criticism of one of this tribe of editors who abuse their privileges of bringing before the people of this country the questions of the day by tearing down the most constructive pieces of legislation that have ever been introduced in the House of Representatives.

They seem to think that they themselves are the legislators. We are sent here and we have a privilege and a duty, and that privilge and duty is to introduce legislation that we think is proper legislation. If that is treason, make the most of it. I am not trying to be a Henry Clay. I am speaking in sincerity and honesty, with a sincere indignation and with no hope of advancing my own personal standing. I do not care for that, but I would like you to give careful consideration to those bills when they come before you, as I am sure you will. If they don't come before you, maybe I had better take a seat with this man and maybe more of you had better take the same seat.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHREINER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHREINER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I took the privilege tonight to invite Joe Penner to address us. Unfortunately I just received this telegram which I am going to read to you:

> "Sincerely appreciate invitation to address House of Representatives regret inability to be with you due to my being on the stage at nine o'clock stop I feel sure the House will meet with deserved success in serving the interests of the fine people of Pennsylvania cordially Joe Penner

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1935 No. 14

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 12, 1935.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, O God, that a man shall be as a hiding place from the wind and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.

We are heartened by the thought that the humble and the poor, when called by Thee and consecrated to Thy purposes, may be mightier than princes and kings. On this birthday of a great leader and statesman, Abraham Lincoln, help us to renew our confidence in manhood and womanhood.

On this day of hallowed memory we dedicate ourselves anew to the land for which he died and which we love. We pray for our country, that land for which the Great Emancipator lived and wrought, and invoke the blessings of Thy peace to rest upon it and all mankind.

We ask this in the name of Him who was and is the Prince of Peace. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. ARON, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS

URGING DEFEAT OF HOUSE BILLS NOS. 304 and 311

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate petition from the Philadelphia Chapter, Institute of Scrap Iron Steel, urging defeat of House Bills Nos. 304 and 311.

Which was referred to the Committee on Judiicary Special.

PROTESTING AGAINST LOWERING HOURS OF LABOR FOR WOMEN

Mr. EALY presented petition of certain female employees, protesting against lowering permissible hours of labor for women, as such curtailment of hours will reduce earning power and cause loss of employment.

Which was referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

URGING THE REVISION AND AMENDMENT OF LIQUOR LAWS

A petition signed by residents of Warren, Warren County, requesting revision and amendment of laws pertaining to sale of alcoholic liquors and beverages.

Which was referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

LINCOLN ANNIVERSARY

The PRESIDENT. This being the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, the Senate will observe his ancestry. The Chair calls upon the Senator from Berks, Mr. Norton, to speak upon the Pennsylvania ancestry of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr NORTON. Ancestors of Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday we commemorate today, were residents of the County of Berks, which I have the honor to represent in the Senate of Pennsylvania, for almost a century prior to his birth. In Berks County we are very proud of the residences and service of the Lincolns among us.

The first of the name with whom the President's descent is immediately connected was Mordecai Lincoln, born in Boston in 1657. He had three sons, Mordecai, Abraham and Isaac, showing a marked preference for Scriptural names which succeeded through many generations. The second Mordecai removed with his brother Abraham to Monmouth County, New Jersey, about 1717. In 1726 Mordecai Lincoln appears as a property owner in Chester County being associated with the pioneers of the iron industry on French Creek.

In 1732 a few months after the birth of George Washington, Mordecai Lincoln purchased a thousand acres in what is now Exeter Township, Berks County.

He died in February, 1735, his will being dated February 22, 1735 and proved June 7, 1736. One of his sons was John Lincoln, the direct ancestor of President Lincoln. He sold his lands and emigrated to Rockingham County, Virginia, in 1765 in company with a group of people from York County. From that time his life is part of the history of Virginia and Kentucky.

The youngest son of Mordecai Lincoln was named Abraham. He was a half brother of John and was the most prominent member of the Berks County family in public life in Pennsylvania, serving as County Commissioner, Member of the Assembly and Delegate to the Constitutional Convention. His wife was Anne Boone, a first cousin of Daniel Boone, whose family had lived near the Lincolns in Berks County.

The Lincoln Homestead is in a good state of preservation. In 1915 the Historical Society of Berks County erected a stone marker on the property and has placed road markers in its vicinity for the guidance of visitors.

About two miles northeast is the Boone Homestead, owned by a clergyman residing in Birdsboro. Not far from these historic spots is the Friends Meeting House Burial Ground, where many descendants of the Lincoln and Boone families are buried. They were known as Members of the Meeting, and as such were entitled to interment there. Not a head-stone nor marker of any kind is to be found, though every available space is occupied.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. George L Reed, who will read the address of President Lincoln, delivered at the old State Capitol, at Harrisburg, on February 22, 1861.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S SPEECH BEFORE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FRIDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 22, 1861

Mr. REED (DAUPHIN). Mr President. "Mr. Speaker of the Senate and also Mr. Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania, I appear before you only for a very few brief remarks in response of what has been said to me. I thank you most sincerely for this reception, and the generous words in which support has been promised me upon this occasion. I thank your great Commonwealth for the overwhelming support it recently gave—not me personally—but the cause which I think a just one. in the late election.

"Allusion has been made to the fact—the interesting fact perhaps we should say—that I for the first time appear at the Capitol of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, upon the birthday of the Father of his Country. In connection with that beloved anniversary connected with the history of this country, I have already gone through one exceedingly interesting scene this morning in the ceremonies at Philadelphia. Under the kind conduct of gentlemen there I was for the first time allowed the privilege of standing in old Independence Hall, to have a few words addressed to me there and opening up to me an opportunity of expressing with much regret that I had not more time to express something of my own feelings excited by the occasion—somewhat to harmonize and give shape to the feelings that had been really the feelings of my whole life.

"Besides this, our friends there had provided a magnificent flag of the country. They had arranged it so that I was given the honor of raising it to the head of its staff; and when it went up, I was pleased that it went to its place by the strength of my own feeble arm. When according to the arrangement, the cord was pulled and it flaunted gloriously to the wind without an accident in the light glowing sun-shine of the morning, I could not help hoping that there was in the entire success of that beautiful ceremony, at least something of an omen of what is to come. Nor could I help, feeling then as I often have felt, that in the whole of that proceeding I was a very humble instrument. I had not provided the flag; I had not made the arrangements for elevating it to its place; I had applied but a very small portion of even my feeble strength in raising it. In the whole transaction, I was in the hands of the people who had arranged it, and if I can have the same generous co-operation of the people of this nation, I think the flag of our country may yet be kept flaunting gloriously.

"I recur for a moment but to repeat some words uttered at the hotel in regard to what has been said about the military support which the general government may expect from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in a proper emergency. To guard against any possible mistake do I recur to this. It is not with any pleasure that I contemplate the possibility that a necessity may arise in this country for the use of the miltary arm. While I am exceedingly gratified to see the manifestation upon your streets of your military force here, and exceedingly gratified at your promise here to use that force upon a proper emergency, while I make these achnowledgments, I desire to repeat, in order to preclude any possible misconstruction, that I do most sincerely hope that we shall have no use for them—that it will never become their duty to shed blood, and most especially never to shed fraternal blood. I promise that, (in so far as I may have wisdom to direct,) if so painful a result shall in any wise be brought about, it shall be through no fault of mine.

"Allusion has also been made, by one of your honored Speakers, to some remarks recently made by myself at Pittsburgh, in regard to what is supposed to be the especial interest of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I now wish only to say, in regard to that matter, that the few remarks which I uttered on that occasion were rather carefully worded. I took pains that they should be so. I have seen no occasion since to add to them or subtract from them. I leave them precisely as they stand; adding only now that I am pleased to have an expression from you, gentlemen of Pennsylvania, significant that they are satisfactory to you.

"And now, gentlemen of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, allow me again to return to you my most sincere thanks."

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, who will read President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

(Address of Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth President of the United States (born in Hardin County, Kentucky, February 12, 1809; died in Washington, April 14, 1865), delivered at the dedication of the National Cemetary at Gettysburg, Pa., November 19, 1863.)

Mr. RICE. Mr. President: Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here; but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us: that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the Senate the Chair desires to thank the Senator from Berks, Mr. Norton, the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, and the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, for the splendid contributions made to this anniversary of the birth of the illustrious character, Abraham Lincoln.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. ARON, from the Committee on Municipal Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 108, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph six of section thirteen of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581), entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," making provision for the reinstatement of certain policemen and firemen and restricting the powers of the civil service commission.

Mr. SHAPIRO, from the Committee on County Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act providing for the fixing of the salary of county officers, members of the board of viewers, and the board of revision of taxes, and the number, salary and compensation of deputies, assistants, clerks and appointees in the several county offices, with certain exceptions, and clerks, assistants, assessors and appointees employed by the board of viewers and the board of revision of taxes in counties of the first class by the legislative authority levying taxes and raising revenue; and repealing existing laws.

Mr. HOMSHER, from the Committee on Rules, reported the following Resolution:

In the Senate, February 12, 1935.

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate be and is hereby authorized to appoint a Special Committee of five Members to be known as the Special Committee on Interstate Cooperation, whose duty it shall be to devote its attention solely to the improvement of relationships, in so far as legislation is concerned, between the government of this State and those of other states, especially the governments of neighboring states, and which committee shall also constitute the Council of the American Legislators' Association for the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. NORTON read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 243, entitled:

An Act to establish as a State highway a certain section of public road in the County of Berks, and providing for its construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. HARRIS read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 251, entitled:

An Act establishing a court of record in the County of Allegheny, under the name of the "Criminal Court of Allegheny County;" defining the jurisdiction and powers thereof of said jurisdiction to be concurrent with the jurisdiction and powers of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County in so far as it relates to the courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery and courts of quarter sessions of the peace; regulating precedure therein; providing for the transfer thereto of certain powers, functions, and duties heretofore exercised by other courts; providing for the judges of said court and the number thereof; defining the powers and duties of the judges of said court; providing for the appointment of the first judges and the election of the judges thereof thereafter; providing for the appointment of probation officers and other necessary staff officials and assistants.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 118, entitled:

An Act to authorize cities of the third class boroughs and townships to sue out writs of scire facias on certain municipal claims where more than five years have elapsed since said claims were filed and to reduce such claims to judgment and providing for the revival and collection of such judgments.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Aron,	Harris,	Miller,	Rodgers,
Batchelor,	Harvey,	Norton,	Rupp,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 154, entitled:

An Act providing that State and Federal moneys appropriated and available for unemployment relief and work relief shall be allocated by the Department of Welfare for expenditure by political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor defining the powers of such political subdivisions and providing for the audit of account.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as I understand this bill it is to allow the 425 poor boards of Pennsylvania to expend $120,000,000.00 of our money for relief, and while I like to believe in local self government, my information is that most of the poor boards' administration is decidedly poor; and if you were going to spend that much money as we spend it now, I

On the other side comes the story from Beaver County, that under Mr. Fred Roth's administration they have one hundred and one ex-employees on the pay roll, whereas under the Talbot Bill they had five extra ones. So that, as I said to the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, I am very glad he brought this bill in, as it is kind of a challenge; but I do not think we should place the spending of $120,000.00 in the hands of the poor boards.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, this bill is almost an exact copy of the first Talbot Act.

I do not just agree in the analysis made by my colleague, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, because we may not turn this money over to the poor boards of Pennsylvania except under order of the Common Pleas Court. It does, however, turn it over to the people who have been duly authorized by law, and who have been approved by the people, and who, in my opinion, are the ones who should administer relief.

Why is it necessary to have not only your regular channels but also to have this set-up that we have at the present time? In other words, the administration of relief comes from various sources, and is exceedingly costly and inefficient. In my opinion this bill will permit many millions of dollars to go to the people immediately rather than to go to those who do not need relief, and who are now employed in the administration of relief. I know, as far as my county is concerned, it will be administered more efficiently and less costly. I think the bill should be passed.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, under the first Talbot Act, passed by this Legislature, the sum of $10,000,000.00 was appropriated for the relief of the unemployed, and it was for the period of one year. During that year Pennsylvania carried on under that sum of money, which was appropriated by this Legislature.

There was not a single person in the State of Pennsylvania that starved, and there was not a single person, as far as I know, that really was hungry.

The Governor of the Commonwealth at that time decided that that system did not give him enough power in the handing out of the relief money, so he opposed that system, and the present system was introduced, which has built up a great bureaucracy, which is costing many, many times the sum which was expended during the first year, and has fastened a cold and clammy hand on us. Unless we get rid of it now this State will be ruined financially and in every other way. I am told that last month the sum of $20,000,000.00 was taken to provide poor relief in this State, and everybody knows that in every county of this Commonwealth a great part of that money was wasted.

This bill was designed to return to the county again the administration of this relief; and I, for one, do not wish to appropriate any more money to be squandered the way it has been squandered under the past system. This will fix the responsibility on some one, so that the people of the various counties may know how and where their money is being spent.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I do not wish to take much of the time of the Senate in explaining why I favor the passage of this bill. This bill follows the procedure which was declared by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to be a constitutional method, when the test was made under the Talbot Act, before that court.

I have always seriously questioned, and question today, whether subsequent methods of distribution meet the requirements of the Constitution. Therefore, believing as I do that this bill is clearly constitutional, and that it will provide a method of distribution which will be more economical than has been in experience under subsequent acts. I am in favor of this bill.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I am not here to talk on the constitutionality of the bill; I will leave that to the attorneys; but I will say that I quite agree with remarks that have been made which tend to reflect on the administration of relief in Pennsylvania in the past. I do not think there is any question about that; I think the entire Senate will agree on that; I think the State of Pennsylvania knows that; and it is that very thing that we are trying to correct. But I believe, if you pass this relief on to sixty-seven counties you are not going to have a central head, you are going to pass it on to sixty-seven different bodies, and I doubt whether the Federal Government will look with favor on having sixty-seven different bodies administer relief instead of one central head, with the seat of government at Harrisburg.

The whole thing now is under a process of reorganization, a reorganization that, I believe, will correct every evil that my friend, the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, has spoken of; and I therefore believe that at this time, when a reorganization is under way, and is working satisfactorily, it would be well to continue it under the reorganized plan rather than to pass it to sixty-seven different counties.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, as a former and first Relief Administrator of Pennsylvania, I believe I can probably speak with some degree of authority. Of the ten million dollars under the Talbot Act—it happened I was the Relief Director at that time—there is yet a half million dollars unaccounted for, which was given to our Poor Boards. I question very seriously whether the Federal Government, as Mr. Roberts has said, would look with favor upon administrating Federal relief through the Poor Boards, because the money is loaned to the Government, as you well know, and the State Emergency Relief Board is the body that is supposed to administer relief in Pennsylvania.

The State Emergency Relief Board chooses to have an Executive Director and a staff such as is now set up. Of course, it is possible that the State Emergency Relief Board, could set up any kind of a mechanical arrangement whereby they can administer this relief————, but I am certain in my own mind that sixty-seven county Poor Boards, the four hundred and twenty-six odd people—splendid people—but not able to handle this vast amount of money, and I can see no reason for changing the present set-up until after we have thoroughly investigated, and I respectfully urge this body to consider very seriously whether we may allow the present set-up to remain until at least we have given them a proper hearing,—the Executive Director and his staff—and until such time as we can definitely determine whether the present method is not the best.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the Committee from the House is in the Senate Chamber, and I move that further consideration of the calendar be suspended until we return from the Hall of the House, where the Governor is to address the Joint Session.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE PROCEEDS TO HOUSE TO HEAR GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

The hour of 12 o'clock noon having arrived, Messrs. Flinchbaugh and Welliour, a committee from the House of Representatives, being introduced, informed the Senate that the House of Representatives was ready for the reception of the President and members of the Senate for the purpose of listening to the reading of a message by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Whereupon,

The President and members of the Senate proceeded to the Hall of the House of Representatives.

(For Governor's message see House proceedings.)

SENATE RETURNS FROM THE HOUSE

After some time the President and Senators returned to the Senate Chamber.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 154, entitled:

An Act providing that State and Federal moneys appropriated and available for unemployment relief and work relief shall be allocated by the Department of Welfare for expenditure by political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor defining the powers of such political subdivisions and providing for the audit of accounts.

Mr. WOODWARD. I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to,

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMPSON (Center). Mr. President, in connection with Senate Bill No. 154, I doubt if there is a member of this Senate who would permit the same sort of arbitrary bureaucractic practices to continue in the relief administration, as all our districts have suffered from during the last two years without some sort of protest. At the same time I wonder whether this is just the right way to approach the problem. I am not saying that it is not, but at the same time I am not convinced that it is. There is apparently much that can be said both in favor of and against the returning of this relief administration to our local authorities. I feel that so early in the session it is perhaps not the best policy to pass definitely on a bill of this kind one way or another.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. PRESIDENT, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and Mr. CLARK, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Baumer,	Law,	Reed,	Sones,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Rice,	(Centre)
Harris,	Miller,	Roberts,	Thompson,
Huffman,	Prince,	Rodgers,	(Westmoreland)
Kahle,	Pytko,	Rupp,	Trainer,
Lanius,	Rankin,

NAYS—26

Aron,	Coyne,	Hunsicker,	Reed,
Batchelor,	Ealy,	Mallery,	(Dauphin)
Bennett,	Gelder,	McClure,	Salus,
Boyd,	Graff,	Norton,	Shapiro,
Buckman,	Harvey,	Owlett,	Staudenmeier,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Woodward,
Clark,	Howell,		Ziesenheim,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, if you will be indulgent, I will call your attention to the fact that both the Republican Party and Democratic Party have pledged themselves to the people of Pennsylvania in their respective platforms to do certain things in connection with the administration of relief. With the present set-up we have one man responsible to the people of this State for the keeping of that pledge. If you create sixty-seven separate units which are going to be entrusted with the administration of relief, you will have sixty-seven different kinds of divergent opinions, and some of them probably mixed up with politics. That is something we are trying to get away from. Let us give an opportunity to the present Director to prove to the people of this State that the relief can be administered without political influence.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think that there is a point of saturation which arrives when you discuss centralization of forms of governmental functions, and I think this is the point. I think it is much better to have sixty-seven counties decide in their own counties who is entitled to relief than to have a man in Harrisburg decide, who knows nothing about the conditions of the county or the necessities of the people to whom he is giving the money. I think it is high time that in the distribution of relief some of the burden of distribution should be placed in the county, where it can best be handled and where it belongs, rather than have it disbursed through Harrisburg channels, where they know nothing about any of our conditions.

I do not believe that this is the best measure that could be produced to get the desired result, but in my opinion this is a starting, and since I am quite sure that there are a number of people on the other side of the House who agree that the conditions which exist are not right and a change should be made, the quicker we make the change the better. This is putting the place of distribution where it belongs. The evils that arise therefrom can be corrected as they are discovered. To prophesy now what evils may arise and to attempt at this time to correct them, in my opinion, is folly.

I agree that this bill in its present form is infinitely better than the conditions which presently prevail, and for that reason I feel that the bill ought to be passed.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, if I am not out of order, I would suggest that this bill be postponed for the present. I have a reason. It may be wrong and it may be right, I do not know. The division was very close on the roll call on this bill. It may be in the course of the time between now and tomorrow morning that the bill can be changed in such a manner that may meet the ideas of both parties. If we are not here tomorrow morning, we will be here by next Monday. Everybody contends that under the present conditions things are not right. They are hoping that new conditions may make things right. It may be possible that we can get together and frame a bill that will be a cure of what did happen and a protection as to what may happen, and I think this body is big enough, sensible enough and has intelligence enough to frame a bill that will cover the situation.

This is one of the most serious propositions that this Legislature is to meet. Let us meet it in man fashion, in a manner that will do credit not only to both political parties of Pennsylvania, but to all the inhabitants thereof. This is not a bill to be hurried through. It is a matter of grave importance. If we are to believe the stories that we hear, that there is suffering in these communities, as in all other communities throughout the State, and the lives of our citizens are dependent on legislation like this. today or tomorrow will make no difference. Let us use common every-day horse sense, as they say, plain common sense. The scarcest thing that is known to all humanity and all the world is common sense. For some reason or other in these times it has not been instilled into the minds of the people. We lack common sense. Let us try to have it now. Let us not hurry this Legislation.

Let us take time by the forelock. Let us be careful and prudent, and see whether or not we can frame legislation on this particular subject, that will redound to the benefit of everybody.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I move that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion:

Mr. WOODWARD. In seconding this motion, I would like to say that for several months the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania has been working on this subject, and they are, at this moment, having a luncheon at the Penn Harris Hotel. I asked the members of the State Government Committee to go to the luncheon and hear the other side. I think it is only fair to hear the other side, and every Republican who votes for the bill more or less put himself in the position of closing his mind. That is the reason I am seconding this motion of my colleague.

Briefly, as perhaps you know, the proposition of the Public Charities Association set-up of the County Welfare Boards—you may not like it, but that is the proposition—it is to take every relief—Veterans, Blind, Mothers' Assistance, and put them in the County Welfare Board—the individual members of which are high-class citizens; to be perfectly frank, of higher class than the membership of the Poor Boards. We might as well tell the truth. It is absolutely true. And, therefore, I say that it is common sense to postpone this action for the present. I am happy to second the motion.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I wish to state my reasons why I trust the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will be voted down. In the first place, I deny that this bill is being hurried through the Senate. This bill was considered at a largely attended meeting of the Committee on State Government, of which I have the honor of being Chairman. It was thoroughly discussed and reported to the floor of the Senate, and has taken the usual course of a bill in the Senate.

When the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, states that this bill is hurriedly drawn, he is making a statement which I emphatically deny. This is a proposition that has been before the Legislature of Pennsylvania since 1931, the first Talbot Bill, which was drawn with the greatest of care. It had to be—it was violently opposed—it had to stand the scrutiny of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and if the Senator from Philadelphia had taken the precaution to examine this bill, he would find that it precisely follows the language of the first Talbot Bill. This is an issue which everyone understands. It is simply a question as to whether we are to attempt to restore popular government in Pennsylvania, or to keep in existence this extravagant bureaucracy which has been operated during the past two years.

This issue is fairly before the Senate and, I think, should come to a vote, so that the people of Pennsylvania will know where the members of this State stand.

A few moments ago we paid tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. To my mind this bill represents the fundamental principles of democracy, the right of the people to govern themselves, and as a tribute today to Thomas Jefferson, I ask that this motion be voted down.

Mr. SALUS: Mr. President, I bow in humility to the great learning of my fellow Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed. I do not know but what he has spent a lot of time on this bill. He may be the author of it, and I would not have the audacity to question his legal ability. He is not only the Senator from Dauphin County, but Professor of Law of the Senate of Pennsylvania, and I bow in humble submission to him as an authority.

I never questioned the legality of this bill or the manner in which it was drawn, nor do I use the question that it is not in accordance with the decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. I am very happy, in the practice of law, when I can, in my humble way, agree with the lower courts of Pennsylvania, so I do not take it upon myself to question anything that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, has passed upon. They are so far over my head that I do not assume to question their ability.

I have said that the vote in this body was so evenly divided on this question, that good common sense demanded that we get together and try to adjust this bill in a manner that will appeal to the common weal of our people. I do not question the manner in which the bill was drawn. I know if the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, had anything to do with it, it is drawn properly; and insofar as the legal end of it is concerned, I am satisfied that it ought to be printed and placed side by side with the famous speech of Abraham Lincoln of good-will to all people.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, as has been said by some speakers today, and rightly said, this is a most important piece of legislation. We have all, I think, been invited to the luncheon of the Public Charities Association. That splendid body has spent considerable time, much of their energy, and some of their money, in the study of this question, and I believe it would be an act of discourtesy to it if we voted on this bill at this time. Why not accept the situation and the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, that we postpone further consideration of the bill for the present. As we all know, then the bill would remain on the calendar, and it can be called up at any time. I would think that to vote on this question now and then go and hear the other side afterwards, would be an act of discourtesy. If you adopt the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, and put it on the postponed calendar, we can call it up this afternoon, or we can call it up tomorrow morning. I would ask the sponser of this bill, the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, to put it on the postponed calendar for the present and call it up this afternoon, if we have a session, or tomorrow. So I make that request of the sponsor of the bill, the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, I would ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, to withdraw his motion, and I will then move that the bill be made a special order of business for next Monday night.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is a splendid suggestion.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

Mr. PRESIDENT. The motion to postpone has been withdrawn.

SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 154 now on final passage, be made special order of business for next Monday evening at 10 o'clock.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act to amend section nine of the act approved the fifth day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four (Pamphlet Laws two hundred twenty-three) entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War the war between the United States and Spain the China Relief Expedition or in the Philippines or Guam providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who because of death or incapacity cannot personally receive compensation imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General making an appropriation and repealing inconsistent legislation and providing penalties" providing for the payment of compensation of veterans hospitalized for nervous or mental diseases

PRAYER

The Reverend W. Lawrence Campbell, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Dear Lord and Father of mankind,
Forgive our fev'rish ways!
Reclothe us in our rightful mind;
In purer lives Thy service find,
In deeper reverence praise.

Giver of Law and Truth and Righteousness and Peace, we beseech Thy blessing this morning upon this great Commonwealth of ours. We pray in all things we may reverence and in all things we may realize the Fatherhood of God. As the war clouds are now threatening and storms seem to be coming upon us again of blood and carnage, we pray that Thou wilt make us all sensible of Thy grace and goodness and blessings.

We pray Thy blessings upon this august body, the presiding officer and all of its members, and today while the civilized world is thinking of him, Abraham Lincoln, the martyred president, we pray that we may emulate his ideals and follow his practices.

We pray Thy blessings upon the President of this great nation. Be Thou with him today amid the struggles and the entanglements which beset him. Guide his feet in the paths of righteousness and glorious service. Be Thou with the Governor of this State. Give him keen perception in what Thou wouldst have him as Thy servant to do. Bless these legislators who come from every nook and corner of our Commonwealth. Help them, O Father, to have a deep consciousness of their duty.

Be Thou with our beloved America and make it indeed the land of the free and the home of the brave, and in all things let Thy will be done as it is in Heaven. Keep us is remembrance as Gray said:

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave Await alike the inevitable hour,
The paths of glory lead but to the grave.

Then let us so live that when our summons come to join that innumerable caravan, marching to that mysterious realm, where all must take their place, in the silent halls of death; we go not as a quarry slave at night, chained to his dungeon, but soothed and sustained by an unfaltering trust, may we approach our graves, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch around him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost. Amen.

BIRTHDAY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN COMMEMORATED

The SPEAKER. At this time we are about to take time in order to celebrate the birthday anniversary of one of our most illustrious Americans. It seems fitting and proper that since the most outstanding expression of our great American has been made within the confines of Pennsylvania, and also within the County of Adams, that the gentleman from Adams should preside during these ceremonies. Incidentally the birthday of the gentleman from Adams also comes on this day, so that perhaps we are in part celebrating, along with the birthday of our distinguished American, the birthday of the gentleman from Adams.

The Chair at this time calls to the rostrum, in order to preside over these ceremonies, the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Hartman.

The Chair takes pleasure in presenting the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Hartman, who will preside over the ceremonies.

MR. HARTMAN IN THE CHAIR.

The CHAIRMAN. Ladies and gentlemen of the House and visitors, once again we have reached a significant and memorable date in American history, the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

It is fitting that February 12 be observed as a day when the nation should pause to pay tribute to the memory of one of its most illustrious sons. For if Washington whose birthday we will commemorate later in the month was in a real sense the Father of his country, Lincoln, more than any other man, was its Preserver. Few men in any land have combined in themselves so many of the qualities of the ideal leader and ruler of men in great national crises, and few have left to the world the legacy of a nobler character. If the evidence that a man was truly great is found in the way his personality continues to impress mankind, and in the enduring contribution he has made to human liberty, well-being and happiness, then Lincoln is a truly great figure not only in the history of America but in the history of the world.

This is the man to whose memory and work we pause to pay our tribute of gratitude and reverence today.

We will now have a patriotic song. We will sing "America," led by the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Jones.

"America" was sung by the House.

The CHAIRMAN. One of the amazing things about Lincoln was his gift of self-expression, his power to put his thoughts into unforgettable words, his command of a style unsurpassed in its simplicity and beauty. This is the more remarkable in view of his lack of early educational advantages and the fact that nearly all his mature life was spent in the controversies of law and politics. Two productions of his pen, however, will live as long as the English language endures—the concluding part of his Second Inaugural and his address at the dedication of the National Cemetery in Gettysburg in November, 1863.

It is to the reading of this Gettysburg address, known and admired the world around, by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, that I invite you to listen.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman and members of the General Assembly, ladies and gentlemen, this is the first time since I have been a member of the House that I have gotten upon my feet to talk on the floor. I felt notwithstanding that I frequently found it difficult to suppress a desire to give expression to my feelings I should sort of wait until I got the feel of the thing—seasoned in a sense—but I am proud, however, that my first words on the floor are the same words that fell from the lips of the immortal Lincoln.

This is the second birthday observance we have had; the first one, of course, that of President Rosevelt, and the second that of the martyred President Lincoln; Roosevelt representing the man born with a silver spoon in his mouth, so to speak, and Lincoln representing the log cabin that we glorify in the political life of America.

The simple story of Bethlehem that fell from the lips of the Apostle Andrew converted the proud Greeks. No other eloquence was necessary than the sermons of James to convert the haughty Spaniards. Peter and Paul brought the glad tidings of His birth to the Romans, the glorious Patrick to the Irish, St. David to the Welsh and Austin to the English, but, my friends, the colored people of 1862 were waiting for the coming of one who would lift from their backs the heavy burden of life, who would lift from their bodies the shackles of slavery, who would erase from their minds the worry of poverty, that there would burn within their very souls the imperishable hope of happiness. They found that modern Messiah in the election to the presidency of the United States the immortal Abe Lincoln.

I have a special duty here today. Let me take you with me to the dedication of the National Cemetery at Gettysburg, November 12, 1863, to join that great and solemn assemblages that had gathered there to hear the immortal Lincoln deliver his speech of two hundred and sixty seven words, simple in construction, powerful in its choice of words, but above all breathing the purest kind of patriotism.

Listen to it, men, because there is some reference there to an unfinished task, which has a peculiar significance. Listen to the noblest gem in all America's literature.

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new Nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to this unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this Nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

The CHAIRMAN. I believe we have some time and I feel at this time it is fitting to sing one verse of the Star Spangled Banner. The Chair will request the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Jones, to lead the singing.

The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the House.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Hartman, and all those who participated in these exercises for the parts they have taken.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. KILROY. RESOLUTION No. 46.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1935.

Whereas, it appears that during the past eleven years there has been appropriated by the Councils of the City of Philadelphia out of the Treasury of the said city three million three hundred and fifty-five thousand dollars ($3,355,000) to the Police Pension Fund of the said City, and

Whereas, it appears that the present total annual liability for payment of benefits to persons legally entitled thereto very substantially exceeds the total annual amount of payments made to the said Police Pension Fund by members thereof, thus imposing on the Treasury of the City of Philadelphia increasingly great financial liability, and

Whereas, it appears that the benefits paid by the said Police Pension Fund to those legally entitled thereto is substantially less than the benefits which the members thereof might have received from approved life insurance companies, if payment of like sums had been made by them to such approved life insurance companies, and

Whereas, it appears that the cost of managing and administering the said Fund is greatly excessive, thereby tending to reduce the amount of benefits paid by the said Police Pension Fund to persons legally entitled thereto and also tending to unnecessarily increase the financial responsibility of the said City of Philadelphia to the said Fund, and

Whereas, it appears that the said Fund is not operated on a safe and sound acturial basis, and

Whereas, it further appears that the books of account and records of the said Police Pension Fund are not maintained according to the approved and accepted retirement and pension fund accounting standards, and

Whereas, it is believed that the interests of the taxpayers of the City of Philadelphia and the members of the said Fund and the beneficiaries thereof are placed in jeopardy because the funds and investments of the said Police Pension Fund are not subjected to regular periodical audits by the proper municipal authority or by certified public accountants;

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint five (5) members of the House of Representatives, who together shall constitute a legislative committee.

It shall be the duty of the said committee, following its organization and the selection of a Chairman, Secretary and Counsel, who shall serve without compensation to investigate and study the soundness, safeness, and security of the Police Pension Fund of the City of Philadelphia to ascertain whether the said Fund is efficiently and economically administered, and in accordance with standard practices of approved retirement or pension funds; to determine whether the said Police Fund of the City of Philadelphia is actuarially sound; to audit or cause to be audited the books of account and records of the said Fund and to appraise or cause to be appraised the investments thereof by persons competent to perform such service; to ascertain and determine whether the benefits accorded to members of the Fund are substantially equivalent to those benefits that might be obtained from approved life insurance companies; and to inquire into such other matters and facts concerned with and relating to the said Police Pension Fund of the City of Philadelphia as may be necessary in providing to the General Assembly information requisite to intelligent legislative action with respect to the said Police Pension Fund.

The committee shall have power to hold such hearings as may be necessary. It shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requiring and commanding any person to appear before it, and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person by any member of the committee or by any sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, and shall have the same force and effect as suppoenas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear or testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents shall be subject to the penalties approved by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

By Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. RESOLUTION No.47.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1935.

Whereas, on the fifth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association entertained officers and members of the administrative and legislative departments of the State government, at which a national advertiser for one of the large oil refining corporations provided the entertainment; and

Whereas, the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association ostensibly represents the truck owners of Pennsylvania and is alleged to maintain a legislative lobby in their interest, but according to common rumor said association is interested in opposing legislation for the regulation of superfreighters and tandem transports for the express penefit of large refiners and fleet owners to the detriment of the motor revenues of the Commonwealth; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Speaker of the House of Representatives be authorized to appoint a special committee composed of five members of the House, whose duty it shall be to examine the officers, directors, employes, books, papers and records of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association for the purpose of determining what portion of the moneys necessary to support and finance the alleged legislative lobby are derived from membership dues, and what portion, if any, is derived from subsidies and contributions from refiners and fleet owners and used for the purpose of defeating legislation designed to curb abuses in highway traffic and safeguard road beds from excessive weights.

Resolved, that said committee shall make a report of its finding to the House of Representatives at the present session of the General Assembly as early as possible.

Resolved, that the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

By Mr. HARMUTH. RESOLUTION No. 49.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1935.

Whereas, Many farmers in Western Pennsylvania were seriously affected by drought during last summer as the result of which they are facing the coming season without seed for Spring planting purposes, and by reason of the economic depression are without means to purchase seed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Agriculture be directed to study the economic condition of the farmers of Western Pennsylvania and devise ways and means by which those in need may be furnished with seed for the Spring planting season, either through loans or the furnishing of seed by the Federal Government or State Government, and to make report to this session of the House of Representatives as to any legislation which may be enacted to relieve the condition described by this resolution;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Agriculture by the Chief Clerk of this House.

JOINT SESSION

Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy in the Chair.

The SERGEANT AT ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you the Committee appointed to escort His Excellency the Governor to the Hall of the House.

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I have the honor to present His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. Members of the General Assembly it is my privilege and honor at this time to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

ADDRESS OF THE GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR EARLE. Ladies and gentlemen of the General Assembly, the time has come for us to consider and take action to meet the most serious crisis in the history of this Commonwealth.

Our problem has been gravely intensified because our predecessors in office deliberately refused to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis and failed to balance the budget for the current biennium.

Last fall I demanded that a special session of the Legislature be summoned to provide the funds necessary to operate the State's normal governmental functions and to meet emergency relief requirements.

A special session was held but instead of enacting a program designed to meet and solve the crisis the responsibility was passed on to this Administration.

As a result we will enter the next biennium with a deficit of almost $50,000,000 which must be met by taxes to be levied during this Administration.

This deficit totals exactly $49,840,952.52. It is made up as follows: $11,976,777.52 deficit on account of appropriations now in effect; $5,821,175 in deficiency appropriations recommended, principally subsidies to impoverished school districts; $13,843,000 borrowed from special funds at the September 1934 special session which must be returned by the end of this year; $15,000,000 unemployment relief and $3,200,000 for Old Age Assistance and Blind Pensions to the end of this biennium.

Before proceeding to a detailed analysis of the budget for the fiscal biennium from June 1, 1935 to May 31, 1937, which I now have the honor to present to your Honorable Body, I should like to make this statement in summary.

The total General Fund apropriations sought for the next biennium amount to $355,656,254.

Of this total $49,840,952.52 is to wipe out the deficit of the current biennium; $120,000,000 is for unemployment relief and $185,815,301.50 for general expenditures.

The $185,815,301.50 includes the following items, totaling $35,212,692.50, which did not appear in the appropriations for the current biennium: $20,000,000 for Old Age Assistance; $3,115,000 for Blind Pensions; $10,347,692.50 increase in interest and sinking fund charges on the State's funded debt and $1,750,000 extra expense to be incurred by the Revenue Department in collection of new taxes to be levied.

Deducting this $35,212,692.50 from the $185,815,301.50 we find that $150,602,609.00 has been appropriated for what may be described as "normal" expenditures for the next biennium.

The current biennium general fund appropriations amounted to $164,549,486.52. When the $5,821,175 deficiency appropriations are added to this sum we have a total of $170,370,661.52.

Making allowance for non-recurring items of $3,457,581.76 in the current biennium General Fund, normal expenditures amounted to a total of $166,913,079.76.

An analysis reveals therefore that the $150,602,609 allocated for normal expenditures in the next biennium reflects a $16,310,470.76 reduction from the comparable $166,913,079.75 for the present biennium ending May 31, 1935, allocated by the previous administration. This reduction has been accomplished by the purging of padded payrolls and the strictest economies in all governmental functions.

The $185,815,301.50 appropriated to the General Fund reflects a 36,135,664 reduction from the $221,950,965.50 appropriations requested. In addition, requests were rejected for allocation of $34,690,522.57 in capital expenditures for new construction and purchase of land.

In seeking a sound and equitable solution of the State's grave and immediate fiscal problems, I have been fortunate in having been able to enlist the services of men having special and expert knowledge of public finances.

Our first task was to ascertain the exact status of the Commonwealth's finances; second, to explore any and all available means for reducing costs of governmental operation and find additional revenue to meet those obligations.

The recommendations which I am submitting to your Honorable Body represent months of conscientious effort on the part of these experts, and I trust that you will give these recommendations your earnest and sympathetic consideration.

It is your responsibility and it is for you to say just how these revenues are to be raised. My responsibility is to lay before you suggestions and recommendations as to possible sources of additional income.

One thing we did not need expert advice upon was in reaching a decision that there are and always have been in this State certain powerful and special business interests that have never borne their proper share of the tax burden.

They have been able to escape in the past because through the control they have been able to exercise over our governmental agencies, they have been granted and guaranteed almost complete exemption from taxation.

Accordingly, in casting about for additional sources of revenue needed to meet the present emergency, these special and hitherto protected corporations should receive immediate scrutiny.

Specifically I refer to those manufacturing corporations which have enjoyed exemption from the five mill capital stock tax that must be paid by other corporations, and to the great utility companies, especially those engaged in the highly remunerative electric light and power industry.

Repeal of the five mill manufacturers' exemption should produce for the biennium the sum of $31,000,000. I recommend such repealing legislation.

Including the repeal of the $31,000,000 manufacturers' exemption, the total of exemptions recommended for repeal, subsequently itemized, total $34,725,000.

I also suggest that there be levied a two per cent gross receipts tax on all utilities; this in lieu of the present tax of eight mills which is collected on most of such corporations. This tax is estimated by experts to produce for the biennium approximately $11,500,000.

I further recommend a tax of one-half mill per kilowatt hour on all electricity produced, sold, bartered, or exchanced in the State. This additional tax will not be inequitable, in view of the fact that the real estate holdings of utilities are largely exempt from taxation by law. Expected revenue from this tax should amount to $8,500,000.

These taxes on the utilities must not be passed on to the public. Before these corporations should be allowed to question the fairness of these taxes, the burden of proof is upon them to show that their operating costs, including executive salaries and holding company management fees are justified.

There has been on our statute books for many years a law authorizing the collection by the counties of a four-mill tax upon personal property. To the extent that collections were made under this law, the taxes on real estate were reduced. Unfortunately, because of defects in this legislation, and in administration, little or no attempt has been made to collect the revenues that are available under this four-mill tax.

Therefore, I propose that this tax be repealed and in lieu thereof a new State tax of five mills on all personal property be levied, half of the net proceeds of which should be returned to the counties. Such a tax will not only serve to produce new revenues for the State but will, in addition, increase the amounts now received by the various counties under the present Act. According to estimates from reliable authorities the State would receive a revenue of $41,500,000 from this tax, while a like amount would be returned to the counties. Collection costs are to be shared equally by the State and counties.

A flat tax of six per cent on corporate net income per year on the basis of returns made to the Federal Government will, it is estimated, provide additional receipts of $20,000,000. This also I recommend on the ground that this tax will be assessed against those best able to pay and will not in any sense be a payroll tax.

As part of my suggested tax program, I ask that you increase taxes on gasoline an additional two cents per gallon. This tax has been estimated to provide $40,000,000 and is to be especially considered on the ground that it will produce immediate revenues urgently needed to meet current obligations and work relief.

Other legislation which I recommend for enactment in order to produce needed revenue are:

Repeal of exemptions under gross receipts tax; estimated revenue, $1,300,000.

Repeal of exemptions to motor trucks; estimated revenue, $375,000.

Repeal of exemptions under insurance tax; estimated revenue $750,000.

The transfer of the collection of mercantile licenses and inheritance taxes from the Auditor General's Office to the Department of Revenue, which will result in increased revenues amounting to $3,950,000.

Repeal of manufacturers' exemption on capital stock tax of foreign corporations; estimated revenue, $1,300,000.

Increased motor license rates on heavier trucks and busses estimated revenue, $7,000,000.

Increased taxes on foreign corporations to equalize with taxes paid by domestic corporations; estimated revenue, $3,000,000.

Establishing a gift tax of two per cent on direct gifts and 10 per cent on collateral gifts; estimated revenue, $1,500,000.

Establishing a tax on cigars, cigarettes and tobacco; estimated revenue, $11,217,260.

Establishing a documentary tax of two cents per $100 on all notes, deeds, bonds, and mortgages; estimated revenue, $2,000,000.

Establishing a tax of 10 per cent on admissions to amusements; estimated revenue, $6,000,000.

Reducing time for escheats and providing for escheats from national banks; estimated revenue, $1,375,000.

Establishing severance taxes covering the removal of natural resources, excepting coal; estimated revenue, $4,000,000.

Establishing a tax on chain stores; estimated revenue, $4,000,000.

Establishing an excise mileage tax on foreign trucks; estimated revenue, $3,000,000.

If all these proposed additional taxes are levied there should result additional revenues for the ensuing biennium which would approximately be equal to the total of the amount of extraordinary expenditures for this period.

No one is more keenly cognizant than I of the sweeping and unprecedented character of the proposals which I have just outlined.

But in considering these recommendations you must also consider, and not for a moment lose sight of the fact that we are confronted with an unprecedented crisis.

More than one-half of the requested increase is needed to keep citizens of Pennsylvania from going hungry or without protection from the elements.

The preceding administration shirked its responsibility to those of our people who, through no fault of their own, have been rendered destitute.

We can no longer evade our plain duty. Our contribution of $5,000,000 per month for relief, or $120,000,000 for the biennium, represents but the smaller part of the total cost of providing relief for our unemployed and their dependents; the balance we hope will be provided by the national government.

We must stop making a cruel farce of Old Age Assistance. The law is on the statute books and it is mandatory that you appropriate $20,000,000 for the needy aged. So, too, with the appropriation of $3,115,000 for the blind.

We cannot maintain our credit if we default on our debt service appropriation of $13,972,692.50 and we must also pay the bills amounting to $49,840,952.52 bequeathed to us by the preceding administration.

So far as I am able to observe, there is not a single item on the list that can be eliminated or reduced. The entire amount must be met through the raising of additional revenues.

I have suggested what I believe are equitable and practicable methods of providing these additional revenues. They may at first glance appear drastic, but they are just and sound. If the General Assembly feels that other methods are preferable, I shall be very glad to consider them, but I will not assent to any proposals which contemplate a general sales tax, a gross income tax, or a wage tax. Nor, will I assent to a graduated income tax, in view of the opinion of the Attorney General that such a tax is unconstitutional. I shall favor a graduated income tax, with exemptions, when the Constitution is revised, with the understanding that the proceeds of such a tax will be devoted solely to reducing the school tax on real estate.

I am unalterably opposed to a general sales tax because it is, in effect, a "sock-the-poor" tax. It is fundamentally an inequitable and unjust tax. The average citizen of this State has to spend every cent of his income and under a general sales tax he would be taxed on every cent of that income. On the other hand, people of means who spend only a part of their income in this State would escape taxation on the greater part of their income, only a relatively small part of which is expended for the necessities of life. In many instances, much of it is expended abroad or outside the borders of the State, while a considerable part of their income is never expended at all.

I am opposed to a gross income tax because it would work hardships on thousands of Pennsylvania businesses and industries operating on a small margin of profit. Such a tax would inevitably mean the difference between doing business at a profit and doing business at a loss, and is therefore unwarranted.

In the very near future I expect to submit legislation to your Honorable Body designed to correct some of the evils that have crept into the state's fiscal system and which through a steady process of accumulation through the years now constitute a heavy and unwarranted drain on the state's revenues.

Loose and remote control of our many and varied institutions must give way to centralized and co-ordinated polices and practices which will permit the establishment of uniform methods of accounting, standardization of salaries and the purchases of supplies and equipment under the direction of the State's Department of Property and Supplies.

State-owned institutions of all kinds, educational, medical and penal must be placed on a more efficient basis.

Management of such institutions by local trustees is in many respects a splendid thing and there are today scores of public-spirited men and women devoting great and earnest effort to the conduct of these establishments.

But the result of this system of "Home Rule" for those institutions, with the State Treasury at Harrisburg paying the bills, is reflected in constantly mounting operating costs out of all proportion to reasonable standards. This situation calls for immediate action.

Not many Pennsylvanians realize the extent of the drain on the State Treasury of subsidies to various public and semi-private educational facilities, hospitals, penal and correctional institutions, colleges and universities and miscellaneous institutions and activities. For example, of the $185,815,301.50 recommended to the General Fund for the next biennium, approximately $138,000,000 must be expended for education, old age assistance, blind pensions, Mothers' Assistance and in payments to various institutions in the forms of subsidies and outright grants. This is exclusive of the $120,000,000 requested for the next biennium for unemployment relief.

In the budget, recommended appropriations to the State-aided medical and surgical hospitals are given in total. This is also true of the recommended appropriations to State-aided homes. It is proposed to investigate thoroughly the effectiveness of the work of these institutions before specified allocations are made.

Definite allocations were made to State-aided universities and colleges. Here too, investigations will be made before the recommended appropriations become actual appropriations.

Questionable expenditures of State funds have been the furnishing of services to business and industry that should legitimately be paid for by these interests.

I refer particularly to the services rendered by such departments as Insurance, Mines, and Labor and Industry.

In the latter department for instance, there are maintained and operated several inspection divisions. Some of these, such as boiler, bedding and upholstery, and elevator inspections, are self-supporting, because nominal fees are charged for such inspections.

On the other hand, the important division of factory inspection makes no charge and receives nothing for the service it renders. This situation is unwarranted and calls for correction.

So too with the cost of administering the Workmen's Compensation Act.

In other states such as New York, Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, and Idaho, for example, the charge is passed on to business and industry and made part of the regular production costs. This is as it should be. There never was any good reason why this special service to business and industry should be paid out of the General Fund. I suggest the adoption of the procedure followed in these other states—that of assessing the entire cost of administering the Workmen's Compensation Law and occupational rehabilitation upon the employer, through the insurance companies.

I am citing only a few of the abuses in our fiscal affairs that cry out for correction. There are scores of other places in which substantial reductions in the drain upon the Treasury can be effected and what is more—must be effected.

I have instructed each and every member of my Cabinet to conduct his or her department as if he or she were engaged in competitive business. Every needless position must be abolished; every unjustified expenditure eliminated.

It is not generally realized that in addition to the expenditure of what is commonly known as the General Fund Budget, aggregating as stated above $355,656,255 for the next Biennium, the State collects and expends from the operation of the Motor License Fund, the Fish Fund, the Game Fund, the Banking Department Fund and the State Farm Products Show Fund, an additional $141,470,469.

In other words, the total expenditures by the State and its various agencies during the next biennium will amount to a grand total of $497,126,724, or slightly less than a half billion dollars.

It is my intention at frequent intervals, to inform the citizens as to the exact financial status of the Commonwealth. It is my purpose also to conduct through the various departments a survey of those institutions receiving financial assistance from the Commonwealth and also to make an annual audit in order to determine the use made of the funds supplied by the Commonwealth.

It is also my intention to make a study of existing salary schedules after the several departments have completed the elimination of unnecessary personnel.

No recommendation has been made for capital outlays because I feel that any such program must be coordinated with the recovery plans of the National Administration.

The Department of Highways estimates its revenues out of the Motor License Fund at $138,361,740.97. After deduction of fixed charges, including debt service, etc., there will be available for expenditure during the next biennium approximately $102,000,000 out of the Motor License Fund, plus an estimated $11,000,000 of Federal-aid funds, making a total of $113,000,000.

Of the $113,000,000 available for direct expenditures and road construction and maintenance, $50,769,000 will be expended for road maintenance; approximately $24,000,000 for Federal-aid roads; $9,311,000 for maintenance of rural roads, $1,000,000 for Philadelphia highways and $27,920,000 for State constructed highways and bridges.

In viewing and acting upon these matters affecting the state's fiscal needs and revenues to meet those needs, I have endeavored to keep in my mind at all times the thought that these great sums of money which we must raise to meet normal and extraordinary expenditures represent real financial burdens to each and every one of our taxpayers. I know that for many, new taxes will actually mean hardship and sacrifice.

But on two scores I offer my assurance:

First, all emergency taxes will be discontinued as rapidly as the emergency which created them diminishes.

Second, it is my earnest intention and purpose to keep eliminating all unjustified expenditures in the operation of the State Government. I am convinced that many millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money have been and are being wasted.

But the administrative offices of this Commonwealth can only go so far toward effecting such economies. Enabling legislation is necessary before many of these proposed changes can be initiated.

I therefore ask you to lend a sympathetic ear to any and all proposals originating in our several departments which have for their purpose the curtailment of the operating cost of the state government and the reduction of the tax burden.

I ask the cooperation of your Honorable Body in carrying out this pledge to our citizens. I plead with you to help inaugurate a policy of ruthless economy and high efficiency in our government.

Let us forget about past traditions and age-old practices in a united endeavor to give the people of this Commonwealth the kind of government which they want and to which they are entitled.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to express the thanks of the General Assembly to the Governor for the splendid message delivered to us this afternoon. Thank you very much.

The business for which the Joint Session of the General Assembly was convened having been transacted the Joint Session is adjourned, and the Senators will please assemble immediately in the Senate Chamber.

The SPEAKER. (WILSON G. SARIG) in the Chair.

BUDGET

The SPEAKER laid before the House the Budget and Supplement to the Budget of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the fiscal biennium June 1, 1935, to May 31, 1937, submitted by the Governor, which was read by the Clerk.

(For the Budget and Supplement to the Budget see Appendix).

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Law and Order Committee be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 98, entitled:

An Act to amend section four eleven of the Act approved the twenty-ninth day of November A. D. one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, pamphlet laws, extraordinary session nineteen hundred and thirty-three, page fifteen, entitled; "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, importation, and use of certain alcoholic beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State Government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in connections with, and transactions in, such beverages by licensees and others; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of license fees and imposing penalties," permitting the sale of liquor and malt liquor over counters and bars.

which was offered January 5, 1935 and referred on January 15th, 1935, and that the same be placed upon the House Calendar.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO MAKE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion be made a special order of business for tomorrow at 10:30 A. M.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, to inform the Chair as to the date of reference of this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the bill was offered on January 14, 1935; was referred on January 15, 1935; was taken up by the chairman of the Law and Order Committee on January 16, 1935. Request was made of the chairman for a hearing and for a meeting of that committee and nothing has occurred.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will call the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, to the fact that the history shows that the bill was referred on January 15, while the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, states that it was referred on January 21.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, well, I just made a mistake of six days in favor of the Law and Order Committee. Mr. Speaker, may I correct that mistake?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will correct the date.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to withdraw the motion that I made and substitute next Monday night at 9:30 as the hour for the special order of business.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion to discharge the committee?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the motion before you is a motion to discharge the Committee on Law and Order from further consideration of House Bill No. 98, which is an amendment to the Liquor Control Act permitting the sale of liquors over counters and bars.

The bill was offered in this House on January 14. The bill was referred by the Speaker of the House to the Committee on Law and Order on January 15. On January 16 of this year the chairman of the Committee on Law and Order picked up the bill at the Speaker's office and apparently has had it ever since. No meeting of the Committee on Law and Order has been had; that committee has not organized even.

Forty-two days of our prospective one-hundred day session have already expired and legislation in the Committee on Law and Order has received no consideration whatever. I requested the chairman of the Committee on Law and Order as early as a week or ten days ago to call a meeting of that committee. I made that suggestion in writing. Yesterday I requested the chairman of the Committee on Law and Order to hold a meeting and his answer to me was that he would call a meeting when it pleased him.

I submit to this House that that is not the way to handle legislation, especially as forty-two days of this session have already passed, and I further submit, Mr. Speaker, that the Committee on Law and Order ought to function. Our bills in that committee ought to receive consideration. They ought either to be approved or rejected. They should not be held there in abeyance.

I wish to say to the members of this House that if we are to continue as we now are, we will be here until September 1st. If you have no desire to stay here that long, you certainly ought to support this motion to discharge this committee from further consideration of this bill.

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to make one correction in connection with the little speech just made by my friend from Philadelphia, and that is, that he only asked me last night when I was going to call a meetings of the Committee on Law and Order and that he did not ask me ten days ago. That is the only correction I would life to make in his little speech.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the House gave its unanimous consent, possibly, a little more than a week ago for the institution of a committee of the House to investigate the Liquor Control Board.

As a part of that investigation, undoubtedly one of the functions of the committee would be to make certain recommendations to this House for future legislative enactment. This particular bill is an attempt to amend our present Liquor Control act and might possibly be one of the recommendations that will come from your committee, whose function it is to investigate the Liquor Control Board and the Liquor Control Board's functions and the operations of the Liquor Control act.

I, therefore, say to the members of the House that common logic would indicate that the motion to discharge the committee from the consideration of this bill should be defeated now, pending the submission of recommendations which will undoubtedly be presented to this House by your committee.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, state whether the Liquor Control investigating committee will investigate the question of the propriety or impropriety of drinking liquor at bars.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the committee appointed by your House will investigate the Liquor Control Board, ascertain how the present Liquor Control act affects the conduct of the Board, and ascertain how this Liquor Control Board performs the functions for which it was created. The administration of the act will also come within the purview of the committee, to ascertain its effect upon the drinkers, whether they drink it at the bar or at the table.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from York whether the committee expects to call experts on the subject?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House, the Chair wishes to read Rule 40, which governs the discharge of committees:

"That when a bill or resolution has been ten calendar days in the hands of the committee after having been referred to it any committee may be discharged from the further consideration of the bill or resolution by a vote of eighty-five members."

MOTION LAID ON TABLE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion to make a special order lie on the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 227, entitled:

An Act requiring the corporate authorities of cities of the first, second, second A and third class cities, having a paid or part paid fire department, to ascertain the will of the electors of such cities as to salary or compensation to be paid to firemen, and the hours and working conditions of such firemen in such cities; providing an election to ascertain the will of the electors, and the manner and method of whereby such election may be held; and providing the form and manner in which the question shall be submitted to the vote of the people of such cities.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities for further consideration.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to call up at this time House Bill No. 430, Senate Bill No. 20, which was reported from Committee this morning so that we can read it the first time today, have it on second reading tomorrow and third reading on Monday night, for the reason that there is a County Treasurer who is going to have a tax sale on Tuesday morning unless we pass this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I join with the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, in asking unanimous consent to call this bill up and read it the first time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to call this bill up and read it the first time? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 430 (Senate Bill No. 20), entitled:

An Act authorizing the adjournment and readjournment of any county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands to be held in the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six validating any action in adjourning or readjourning tax sales taken prior to the effective date of this act and preserving the lien of all taxes on lands to be sold at such sales.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 355, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty-six), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety, and welfare of minors: By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hours of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, reissuance, filing, return, and recording of the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment, attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, in certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school districts wherein they are employed; requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts, and police officers; and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder, and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," as amended, by prohibiting employment of minors between fourteen and sixteen years of age, except in certain types of work which will not interfere with school attendance; further limiting the occupations in which minors between fourteen and eighteen years of age may be employed or permitted to work, and the hours of labor; further regulating employment certificates, and requiring such certificates for minors under eighteen; imposing on school districts the duty to issue such certificates; further requiring schedules of the hours of employment to be posted; and repealing certain sections.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 14, by striking out the word "alwful," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "lawful."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill together with the amendments be recommitted—

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that we not yet agreed to the bill on second reading. The motion is therefore premature.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to amend section seven hundred and eighteen of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 359), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," as amended, permitting dogs to be trained on Sunday during the training season.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Game for further consideration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was before the Game Committee and was unanimously approved and is now before this House for consideration.

This bill is not a very difficult bill to understand; it simply permits the training of dogs on Sunday during the training season.

Therefore, I ask the members of this House to vote down the motion.

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am asking for your support in the recommitment of this bill. This bill is not fair to the wild life in the woods. They can not come here to defend themselves, and they are not even allowed one day in the week to have a family reunion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Schuylkill will state his point of order.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair, Mr. Parks, must confine his remarks to the motion to recommit.

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the members of the House to recommit this bill because it vitally concerns the future sportsmanship of our State as well as the inhabitants thereof.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

The SPEAKER. The Chair has a letter received from Mr. Fertig of the Legislative Reference Bureau, which he has asked me to read for the information of the members. It is as follows:

The Legislative Reference Bureau earnestly requests Members of the House of Representatives not to transmit bill requests by page or other messenger unless the manuscript is signed. Pages are bringing large quantities of unsigned material into the Bureau, and when questioned as to the author, will announce a name which is frequently found to be incorrect. This results in confusion and the transmittal of bills to wrong parties. Where more than one request is transmitted at one time on separate sheets of paper, each request should be signed to avoid error. The cooperation of the Members in this respect will greatly minimize errors.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 13, 1935.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Frank W. Ruth, a member of the House, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our Redeemer, we come to Thee on this beautiful winter morning. We give thanks for the blessings which Thou hast bestowed upon us during the past night and for the opportunities that Thou art presenting to us today. May we in the short time that has been given us today to do Thy work give the best that we have in us. As we return to our home to assume our duties and obligations there, we ask that Thou wilt guide us so that we may come back determined to do the work which Thou hast called upon us to do to full completion, that Thy will may be done and that Thy kingdom may come. In the Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. Cochran the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. SIMON. RESOLUTION NO. 50.

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Resolved, That a select committee on Interstate Cooperation be appointed by the Speaker, whose duty it shall be to devote its attention primarily to the improvement of relationships between the Government of this State and those of other states, and more especially the governments of neighboring states, and which committee shall also constitute the Council of the American Legislators' Association for the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. REYNOLDS (Concurrent).
RESOLUTION No. 51.

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, During each year many lynchings occur, statistics revealing that twenty-five happened during the last year and more than five thousand during the last fifty years; and

Whereas, State governments cannot put an end to this evil which reflects upon the good name of the states in which occurring and upon the United States; and

Whereas, A bill is pending in Congress to enable the Federal Government to control this evil; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to pass legislation consistent with the Constitution of the United States which will enable the Federal Government to assist in the prevention of this crime and punish offenders against the Federal law;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

By Messrs. ROAN and TUMELTY (Concurrent).
RESOLUTION No. 52.

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation; and will provide relief for the holders thereof who are in dire need and distress because of the present unfortunate economic conditions; and will lighten immeasurably the burden which cities, counties and States are now required to carry for relief; and

Whereas, The payment of said certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the government; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That since the government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth recommends and urges the immediate cash payment at face value of the adjusted service certificates, with cancellation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, as a most effective means to that end; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives, be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

By Mr. MOOMAW. RESOLUTION No. 53.

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The General Assembly, in the session of 1931, created a State Emergency Relief Board, and

Whereas, The Legislature during the last several sessions has made appropriations of monies for financing or partly financing various forms of relief to help relieve unemployment and suffering; and

Whereas, The Federal government also has made several appropriations to this Commonwealth of monies for finacing or partly financing various forms of relief to help relieve unemployment and suffering; and

Whereas, The Emergency Relief Administrator of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania appointed Boards in several Countties and districts and in particular, the counties which at some time in the past, or are at present functioning in conjunction with District office at Chambersburg, Franklin County, Pennsylvania, to provide employment and to administer relief for the welfare of the people of that district; and

Whereas, There have been numerous complaints, and in many instances visible evidence of gross abuse of the discretionary power and authority granted certain persons operating in the district and its various Governmental, State, and local agencies established by and operating in conjunction with the State Emergency Relief Board, and it is further said that the following additional irregularities have also been reported;

Use of relief funds and offers of employment for political purposes, discrimination in the selection of employes, setting up of unnecessary qualifications for certain positions, so only certain persons not in need of employment or relief could obtain better positions, payment of excessive salaries in administrative positions, furnishing employment and relief to persons who have others in the family gainfully employed, or employment of two or more in one family, while refusing employment to persons in dire need of same, high cost of administration in proportion to cost of productive labor, failure to pay money due for wages, etc., and salaries in administrative positions, furnishing employment and relief to persons who have others in the family gainfully employed, or employment of two or more in one family, while refusing employment to persons in dire need of same, high cost of administration in proportion to cost of productive labor, failure to pay money due for wages, etc., and

Whereas, This session of the Legislature will be called upon to provide funds by taxation for financing and partly financing the State Emergency Relief Board who will in turn furnish finances for the operation of the Relief Board and other Governmental, State, and local agencies operating thereunder in this district, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of at least three (3) members of the House of Representatives whose duty it shall be to make a rigid investigation of the conduct and operation of the Emergency Relief Boards operating in this district and operating in conjunction with other Governmental, State, and local agencies of the district, dating back to the inception of the activities of the State Emergency Relief Board in the Chambersburg, Pennsylvania district, as it deems necessary for the information of the House of Representatives.

That said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of said Committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said Committee, or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases, and be it further

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have a further right and authority, to issue a requisition to the aforesaid District Board and other agencies operating in conjunction therewith for such stenographic help or other service as it may deem necessary under the circumstances in the taking of the testimony, making reports, etc.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, January 14, 1935.

Whereas, In the course of the Revolutionary War and at a time when the American forces were in great need of assistance, there arrived in this country, among others, a nobleman of Polish birth, to wit, Casimir Pulaski, and

Whereas, The service rendered by him was of great value and assistance to the cause of American independence and of such high importance that on September 15, 1777, he was appointed Brigadier-General of the Continental Army and Chief of Dragoons, and on March 28, 1778, he was designated commander of an independent corps known as "Pulaski's Legion", and

Whereas, It is the sense and feeling of the members of the Polish Union of the United States of North America, a fraternal benefit society, with headquarters in the City of Wilkes-Barre, and with a membership of over 50,000 members, that proper permanent recognition should be given to the memory of Brigadier-General Casimir Pulaski, whose illustrious service in the war for American independence is well-known to all who are familiar with our history, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania be requested to take the necessary and proper steps for erecting and constructing some permanent memorial in honor of Brigadier-General Casimir Pulaski at some suitable location associated with the struggle of the American forces for independence.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

RESOLUTION NO. 44

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up Resolution No. 44, Printer's No. 68.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 6, 1935.

Committee to Investigate Operation and Conduct of Allegheny County Emergency Relief Board

Whereas, The General Assembly, in the session of 1931, created a State Emergency Relief Board, and other Governmental and Commonwealth agencies operating in conjunction with the Allegheny County Emergency Relief Board to aid the thousands of unfortunate and starving citizens of this Commonwealth, forced to depredation by the depression, and

Whereas, The Emergency Relief Administrator of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania appointed a Board consisting of several citizens in the County of Allegheny to administer relief and welfare to the people of that county, and

Whereas, There have been numerous complaints of gross abuse of the discretionary power and authority vested in the Allegheny County Relief Board, and other Commonwealth and Governmental agencies, and it further reported that certain groups and individuals have been discriminated against, and

Whereas, The Allegheny County Emergency Relief Board recently resigned their offices, and have left the affairs of their office in a very unsettled and unstable condition, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five Members of the House of Representatives whose duty it shall be to make a rigid investigation of the conduct and operation of the Allegheny County Emergency Relief Board, and other agencies above mentioned operating in conjunction with said board, dating back to its inception, and to investigate such other facts and circumstances surrounding the conduct of the Allegheny County Emergency Relief Board and other agencies above mentioned as it deems necessary for the information of the House of Representatives.

Resolved, That said Committee shall make a report to the House of Representatives during this session as early as possible, and

Resolved, That said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of said Committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said Committee, or to produce any book, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. And be it further

Resolved That said committee shall have the further right and authority to issue a requisition to the aforesaid

Board and Agencies for such stenographic help or other service as it may deem necessary under the circumstances in the taking of testimony and conduct of hearings et cetera.

On the question,
Will the House adopt the resolution?
It was adopted.

SECOND INTERSTATE ASSEMBLY

Mr. RUTH offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

In the House of Representatives, February 13, 1935.

Whereas, The Second Interstate Assembly has been called by the Council of State Governments and the American Legislators' Association, to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 28, and March 1, 2, 1935, at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C., to consider Federal and State tax policies on the basis of the recommendations submitted by the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation, which was established two years ago by the First Assembly; and

Whereas, It is apparent that substantial benefits would result from closer contacts between the legislative and administrative divisions of the various state governments, and that many governmental difficulties are aggravated by the absence of adequate facilities for conference between these bodies; and

Whereas, The present economic emergency creates an imperative necessity now emphasized by the President's Program of Economic Security for joint council and concerted action; and

Whereas, It is believed that the moment has now arrived for establishing adequate means for communication and conference between the states and the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives of this State is invited to send delegates to this conference; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and one Member of the House appointed by the Speaker, be authorized to attend the Interstate Assembly which convenes in Washington, D. C., on February 23, 1935, as delegates of this House. Such delegates shall be without power to commit the House of Representatives to action;

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House immediately advise the corresponding secretary of the Convention in care of the American Legislators' Association, Drexel Avenue and 58th Street, Chicago, Illinois, of the appointment of such delegates.

On the question,
Will the House adopt the resolution?
It was adopted.

STATEMENT BY MR. McCREARY.

Mr. McCREARY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this statement I wish to make is not very long and not very important. Behind the statement, however, is a little story, and if the members will not rise too many times to a point of order, it should take me but a very short time to make the statement.

I want to state here and now that I am not going home over the weekend. As I have already told you, the statement is not very long nor is it very important, but behind it is a story. It concerns the way I was received when I went home last week, which rather shocked my sensitive nature, and I think I will wait two or three weeks before I go back there again.

In order that the members from the east and the south end of the State may be informed, I will say that my home is in Erie county, that little odd shaped county up in the northwest corner, that sticks out like a sore thumb. Some of the members from the east apparently don't know that there is such a place, because in a conversation with one of the eastern members one of my colleagues I said to him, "I'm from Erie," and he says, "Why that's a lake," and he looked at me as if he thought I was some kind of a fish. For your information let me say that Erie is a lake, it is also a city, and it is also a county.

There are about one hundred and seventy-five thousand people in that county and most of them have now got so they can read and write, and "it is alleged" that is the reason the county went Democratic last fall for the first time in its history. That fact has also been causing trouble, I ran into some of it last week and that's why as I have told you, I am not going back this week. I enjoy going back home and I have always met with a very cordial reception heretofore, but this last time I had on my old clothes and was out in the hot house planting tomatoes. One of my neighbors came in and looked rather surprised. He says, "I thought we sent you down to Harrisburg to make laws. What the hell are you doing up here loafing around home?" I didn't know what to say to that neighbor of mine at first. I finally said to him, "Well, all the other fellows went home and I couldn't make the laws alone. What was the use of my staying there?" He said, "Why did all the other fellows go home?" Then I had to think quickly. I said, "Well, there was a convention of the school directors of the State down in Harrisburg last week, and they made so much noise that the legislators couldn't work, and they thought they might as well quit too." Then the school directors all got hornswoggled into a banquet, for which they were charged one dollar and seventy-five cents, and then they got mad and they adjourned and went home also on Thursday noon.

I didn't understand that line of talk and was, therefore, not prepared for it, and that is why I am making this statement to you members here, so that you may be prepared for something of that kind the next time you go home.

Then he kept right on with the talk and said, "I understand you have got four or five hundred bills in the hopper, and that you haven't got a darn one of them through yet and up to the Governor to sign. What have you been doing down there all these four or five weeks?" "Well," I says, "it's a very difficult matter to make wise laws for all this State and all the people here, and they have been taking a lot of time trying to figure out what to do about the Constitutional revision." "Well," he said, "two hundred of you in four or five weeks ought to at least have gotten one bill through, so that we would know you were doing something down there," I don't blame him for feeling that way, because I feel that way myself. However, I didn't expect to be questioned like that. It was worse than being down at Flemington at the Hauptmann trial. A farmer can ask more questions than any lawyer can answer, if he gets a chance at you. I didn't know how to appease that man. He was hostile and seemed to think that we are wasting our time down here, and I couldn't convince him of anything different. I, therefore, made up my mind that I had made a mistake in one respect. I have had the privilege of sending the Legislative Journal to fifteen of my people up in Erie County, and I'll be darned if some of them haven't been reading it, and this was one of the fellows that had been reading it. I have about come to the conclusion that if I had to do it over again, I wouldn't send it to them. I have a good mind to go down into the stock room now and tear up all my envelopes, because every one of those fellows back home that gets this Legislative Journal and reads it is going to be a candidate against me the next session. A word to the wise is sufficient. I hate to see any of the members here placed in the uncomfortable position that I was and be taken unawares.

I have warned you so that you can be prepared to be questioned when you go home, and one other thing: While I am up here, having this microphone to talk through, let me suggest—this is just a suggestion; don't mistake it for a motion—I belong to quite a few different organizations, and they have all their procedure the same as we have here, but in those organizations to which I belong there is one place where the Chairman says "Remarks for the good of the order." There isn't any such provision here and I just thought it would be a very good idea, if we had a place where the Speaker would ask for "Remarks for the good of the order," because I believe this organization would have a lot of such remarks, and I am going to further suggest that the Speaker appoint a committee to confer with the Committee on Rules and see whether there can't be some place and some time squeezed in here to give each and every member an opportunity, as he sees fit, to make remarks "For the good of the order." In order to avoid any partisanship in the matter, I think it would be wise to appoint quite a good sized committee, that would have some influence with the Rules Committee, appointing a member from each county to confer with the Rules Committee to see if we can't have a place and time here for "Remarks for the good of the order."

I told you my statement would be short, but the statement and the story have been longer than I intended, and I am sorry I have taken so much of your time up here in front, and I won't do it again.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

REMARKS BY CHIEF DEERFOOT AND CHIEF TWO CITIES

The SPEAKER. We have with us today Chief Deerfoot of the Apache Tribe and Chief Two Cities of the Iroquois Tribe who will favor us by talking a short time on wild life.

CHIEF DEERFOOT. I know you have all seen an Indian before, but it is very seldom you see any in this part of the country. I have not been here very long; I am a Western Indian. I have hunted out in the states of Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado up into the Wyoming and Montana. I have hunted game all my life. I might say we hunt different from what you boys do, or men do.

At this time I would like to say something about the game. I would like to see it saved, all that can be saved. That is why we are here to hear the bill that is before the House to save your game in this state. The same way with making fires. We don't make great big fires like White men do. No, when we make a fire we make a small one and lay all around it. That is the way Indians do and the forests don't catch fire, or you would not have any when you came here. The same way with the game we use all the hide and eat all the meat. You men when you go out you kill four or five and just bring the horns of the animal in or two or three of the legs and not use all of it like we do. That is why you haven't the game today that you should have, or that we had when we were here.

The SPEAKER. Members of the House I now have the pleasure of introducing to you Chief Two Cities of the Iroquois Tribe.

CHIEF TWO CITIES. "Sha na go wa es na was la jotah stonah." I mean to say that each and every one of you are interested in the Indians and your game. I am an Iroquois Indian. I have a few friends here. One from Fulton County, Mr. Lynch, and also Mr. Wakefield from Fulton County and my friend Mr. Bob Gorman, because I am an Iroquois Indian.

The SPEAKER. The Chair takes this occasion to thank Chief Deerfoot and also Chief Two Cities for their remarks.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1935 No. 16

SENATE

MONDAY, February 18, 1935.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Help us, Our Father, to abhor that which is evil and cleave to that which is good. Quicken our spirits so we may be able to distinguish between the evil and the good. "Even Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light," deceiving many whose desires and intentions are to walk uprightly and deal justly.

As we shun temptations coming from without may we also shun the temptations lurking within our own hearts. Bestow upon us Godly guide that we may be "wise as serpents and harmless as doves." Make us morally courageous, ready to do and dare and die for our country and our convictions.

Above all spur us on to live for those things—for it often requires nobler heroism to live than to die.

We thus pray in behalf of this Senate, this Legislature, our Commonwealth and our Nation. Amen.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. CLARK asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ABOLISH FEDERAL TAX ON MOTOR VEHICLES FUELS

Mr. WOODWARD offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, February 18, 1935.

The taxing of fuel used in the operation of motor vehicles has, from its earliest inception, been considered justified because of the dedication of the funds arising therefrom to the construction and maintenance of modern, smooth surfaced highways, especially enjoyed by those who are called upon to pay the tax.

Taxation of motor vehicle fuel for any other purpose is unjust, and imposes upon a comparatively few persons, on no justifiable basis of classification or apportionment, burdens of maintaining government not shared in by others, who equally enjoy the benefits thereof.

The government of the United States now exacts one hundred and seventy millions of dollars during each year from this source of taxation, which is expended for general governmental purposes, which sum should properly be diverted to the several states for use upon their highways.

Fourteen States of this Union already have petitioned their Senators and Representatives in Congress in an effort to bring about an abolition of the Federal tax on motor vehicle fuels, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact appropriate Federal legislation to forthwith abolish the Federal tax of one cent per gallon on motor vehicle fuels.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this Senate.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. ROBERTS. I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hear objections, and under the Rules of the Senate the resolution will be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENTS ASSOCIATION DINNER

Mr. HOWELL offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, February 19, 1933.

Whereas, It is the biennial custom of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents Association to entertain at a gridiron dinner to which members of the Legislature, public officials and persons prominent in political and private life, are invited and

Whereas, The year 1935 marks the fortieth anniversary of the organization of this association, the oldest fraternity of legislative correspondents in the United States; and

Whereas, In past years the business of the Legislature has upon occasion been so protracted that legislators are hurried in their preparations for the dinner on the day selected and correspondents have lacked sufficient time to carefully prepare the entertainments; and

Whereas, Wednesday, April 24, at 6:30 p. m. in the Penn Harris Hotel is the time and place of the dinner for 1935; therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That as an order of the day for Wednesday, April 24, 1935, the General Assembly shall adjourn not later than 4 p. m.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. GRAFF, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 18, 1935.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 25, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 25, at nine o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

USE OF SENATE CHAMBER BY COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the use of the Senate Chamber be granted to the Senate Committee on Constitutional Changes, Wednesday morning, February 20, at ten o'clock, for the purpose of a public hearing.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ADDITIONAL FACILITIES FOR CARE AND TREATMENT OF TUBERCULAR PATIENTS

Mr. RANKIN offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Public Health:

In the Senate, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, The waiting lists at the three sanatoria for tubercular patients are extremely crowded and patients in immediate need of care and treatment are required to wait months before being admitted, therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate be authorized to appoint a committee of five senators whose duty it shall be to investigate the necessity of providing additional facilities for the care and treatment of tubercular patients, eligible to admission to the state sanatoria of this Comminwealth, and whether any property of the Commonwealth now in use for other purposes or unused could be employed more advantageously in the care and treatment of tubercular patients.

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the Senate as early as possible with drafts of such legislation as it deems proper to carry out the recommendations of the committee.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection and the Resolution will be referred to the Committee on Public Health.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act to amend section nine of the act approved the fifth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four (P. L. 223), entitled, "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War, the war between the United States and Spain, the China Relief Expedition, or in the Philippines or Guam; providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who, because of death or incapacity, cannot personally receive compensation; imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General; making an appropriation; and repealing inconsistent legislation; and providing penalties," providing for the payment of compensation of veterans hospitalized for nervous or mental diseases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 108, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph six of section thirteen of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" making provision for the reinstatement of certain policemen and firemen and restricting the powers of the civil service commission

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That paragraph six of section thirteen of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

6. Regulations governing the reinstatement of persons who without fault or delinquency on their part have resigned or have been separated from the service Provided That persons who haye voluntarily resigned from the service shall not be reinstated within six months Provided however That the civil service commission shall not certify for appointment to the Director of Public Safety any policeman or fireman under probationary appointment or otherwise in the event of vacancies occurring in the department or any increase in the number of policemen and firemen required to be filled if there are available for appointment policemen or firemen who without fault or delinquency on their part have been separated from the service and whose separation from the service was not occasioned by reason of a finding of guilt by the commission after the filing of charges against the policeman or fireman And provided further That the civil service commission shall not hold any examination for any vacancies existing as aforesaid until such list of policemen and firemen separated as aforesaid shall have been exhausted by appointment to such vacancies

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, at the request of our City Controller, S. Davis Wilson, of Philadelphia, in whom people of Philadelphia have great confidence, I introduced Senate Bill No. 108. The provisions of that bill are that when any policeman or fireman is discharged from the force without any fault of his own, then in case of any vacancy that may occur the Director of Public Safety must give preference to such discharged policeman or fireman.

You might ask, "What brought this bill into this Legislature?" Under the Charter Act of 1919, which governs the City of Philadelphia, we surrounded the policeman and fireman with a certain amount of protection in his position, so that no policeman or fireman who did his duty could be discharged, and if a Director wished to discharge a policeman or fireman he had to prefer charges against him before the Civil Service Commission. That officer had a right to trial; he had a right to be represented by counsel; and if he was dissatisfied with that decision he could have his case reviewed by the Courts.

Now, the object of that provision was that the policeman should do his duty, the fireman should do his duty, and they should not be embroiled in politics. Now, something happened in the month of December, 1931. At that time there were 179 vacancies in the Police Bureau, and there were around 30 vacancies in the Fire Bureau. The Director of Public Safety went before Councils in December of '31, and Councils were preparing their budget for '32, and were anxious to cut expenses in every way possible; and the Director said, "I can get along with a force reduced by 130 men", which would save the city the sum of six or seven hundred thousand dollars. And Councils agreed to accede to the request of the then Director.

What did he do? He filled these 179 places with new men, and, on the 31st of December, 1931, 130 veterans on the force received honorable discharge, with a notice that their services were no longer required,—no trial, no cause whatever.

Now, such conduct was rather reprehensible, because some of these 130 men had been on the force five, ten, fifteen, and some were on the force eighteen-and-a-half years, and one of the men discharged received a gold medal for bravery, given by The Public Ledger for the bravest act during the year 1931. Naturally, this case went to litigation, and, in a court case in C. P. No. 1, the Court ordered the men reinstated, on the ground that the action of the Director constituted an abuse of discretion. The case was appealed by the City, and, in April of 1934, our Supreme Court, by a divided opinion, reversed the Court below, and discharged the complaints of these officers.

So, where do we find ourselves? If we permit that Supreme Court decision to remain as the law relating to these officers and these firemen, then the protection with which we surrounded these officers and firemen, as Justice Maxey says in his dissenting opinion, is merely a scrap of paper. In other words, the Director, today, could go to Councils and say, "I want my force reduced," and put in a bag 250 or 300 men against whom he has a personal grudge or a political axe, and then come back later and have new men appointed to their places.

Therefore, I say, if we wish to have a real Fire Department and a real Police Department, we must protect these men in their positions; and this law says that when a Director wants to reduce his force, then, such men as innocently lose their jobs shall have first preference to fill vacancies. I ask the Senate to vote for this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, while it may be true that one of the officers discharged had received a gold medal for bravery, the City of Philadelphia also had found amongst those police officers men who received public condemnation for their conduct as policemen. They were the men who, in the Grand Jury Investigation, were found to have accepted bribes and graft from houses of ill repute, and other illegitimate transactions, in the City of Philadelphia; and when this bill was originally framed it was framed so as to include, obviously, the men who were discharged after hearings by this Civil Service Commission,—those men who had received and accepted graft, and were found to have had considerable moneys in their banks and banking accounts, and who would offer no explanation as to the source of this money. So, this bill, when it first came out, read so as to include not only the gentlemen for whose interest I have as high a regard as does the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, but also for gentlemen who were separated from the service "and whose separation from the service was not occasioned by reason of a finding of guilt by the Commission after the filing of charges against the policeman or fireman, the entering of a defense to the same, and a full hearing allowed, in accordance with the terms of this Act."

So that, this Act, when originally drawn, would have permitted those people who thought better of filing a defense before the Civil Service Commission, and allowed the Civil Service Commission to fire them by default upon the evidence received before the Grand Jury,—these men would have been reinstated under the original bill. I make objection here on this floor, and I made objection before the Committee, to that provision in this bill. I suggested, and I repeat, that the bill, without another provision, covers every person to whom the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, has referred tonight.

In other words, when this bill provides that the appointment shall be made without civil service examination, and from amongst those, exclusively, whose separation from the service was not occasioned by any delinquency on their part, it covers completely the purposes stated by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron; but when the bill goes further and says "whose separation from the service was not occasioned by reason of a finding of guilt by the Commission after the filing of charges against the policeman or fireman," I take it that the bill, in other words, includes more than the people to whom the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, referred. I am not able to follow this kind of wording to the final analysis, but I know there were a number fo policemen against whom charges were made, and I know that rather than take a verdict of guilty they either withdrew from the service, resigned or took some other step avoiding the finding of guilt; but I say that this Senate should not be asked to join in compelling the Director of Public Safety to appoint people, in preference to Civil Service appointees or nominees, whom he may feel have no moral right to be on the force.

Therefore, as long as this bill contains the provisions which I have read, which provisions can have no force or effect, and no value in accomplishing the desired purposes, then there is, still, something in this bill which does not belong there; and I still contend that this bill covers people that this Senate, if they could be properly described, would not for a moment think of putting their stamp of approval on; nor would they think of compelling —as the terms of this bill would compel—the Director of Public Safety to reappoint those people who may have been—and they have, in many instances, been—charged with crime, in the City of Philadelphia.

This is not an original Act, it is an amendment to the Act of 1919. The original Act gives all the protection that is necessary. Now, the policeman or fireman who may be discharged for cause must have a hearing. Charges must be made against him; he must be served with a copy of those charges; and he is entitled to enter a defense. Why this bill should now repeat the provisions which are in the original Act is more than I can say, unless, as I say, it is deliberately intended to include people who have no right to be included, and who have no right to ask for the appropriation of the Senate.

I make these statements because I know it is not the custom—and particularly so for Senators outside of the city, and particularly where the county is involved—where a bill does not affect their counties, to vote against the bill but when a Senator presents to this body a bill of this kind without explaining to them that this bill, by its terms, includes people other than those he describes, people who in the public mind, and on the record of the Court, today stand as grafters, I think it ought to be voted down.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, just one word and I am finished. I feel certain that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, does not understand the provisions of this bill, and I come to that conclusion from the trend of his remarks. This is not intended to protect any officer guilty of any dereliction of duty; this only provides that where a man, or policeman, is separated from the force through no fault of his own, and who has not had a trial before the Civil Service Commission—the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, separates the two clauses instead of reading them together as they are printed in the Act—if any Director has any charges to prefer against an officer or fireman for any infraction of his duties, he has a perfect right to do so under this Act; and I ask the Senate to vote for this bill.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I seldom arise to say anything but what would concern Philadelphia. There is no question in the minds of the citizens of Philadelphia that this was one of the most cruel, heartless and brutal movements that were ever made by a Director of Public Safety. Here are these men, that number about 135 or 150 men, that are just taken in and thrown out of office without a trial, a charge or anything against them. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, says they have been in there for five years. I understand there is one of them who has been in there for nineteen years and eight months. There is one of them who has not only received the reward from the City of Philadelphia Evening Ledger, but has been complimented by the President of the United States, and has five different decorations for service rendered while on the force and yet he is heartlessly called into the Director's office and told, "Your services are no longer required," and out he goes!

As far as the argument of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, goes, those men who were charged and were not proved guilty, cannot come back on the Philadelphia Police Force before they go before the Civil Service Commission. They must go there and stand trial. But we are voting now on the 130 or 140 innocent men who were thrown out without being given a chance; and I intend to vote for this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, has just fixed the line of demarcation, and he has just stated what I have been contending for. There have been men who have been charged with crime, men whose records in the District Attorney's office and those records in the Grand Jury Investigation showed that they were in possession of thousands and thousands of dollars for which they could give no explanation. Those men did not appear, and have not been tried; yet, as this bill is worded, those men will go back into the service in preference to any one else; and before any one else can pass the civil service examination or stand the test of honesty, they can be appointed on the city police force.

Under the terms of this bill the men who have been charged with crime and who have not been found guilty because they did not come up for hearing, had no hearing,—those men will be appointed, without trial. This bill says so.

I am perfectly willing to vote for this bill if the words I have referred to are taken from it, and it then takes care of these men talked about; but there is no sense in tying up these men of long service with the men whose records are in the District Attorney's office.

MOTION TO SUSPEND CONSIDERATION OF BILL

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that further discussion of Senate Bill No. 108 be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 154, on final passage, entitled:

An Act providing that State and Federal moneys appropriated and available for unemployment relief and work relief shall be allocated by the Department of Welfare for expenditure by political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor; defining the powers of such political subdivisions; and providing for the audit of accounts which was made a special order of business for this evening at 10 o'clock.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

SPECIAL ORDER

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 154, entitled:

An Act providing that State and Federal moneys appropriated and available for unemployment relief and work relief shall be allocated by the Department of Welfare for expenditure by political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor defining the powers of such political subdivisions and providing for the audit of accounts.

And the question recurring,

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 2, page 3, by inserting between lines 15 and 16 the following:

(3.1) Section three of the act, approved the tenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 857), entitled "An act to provide for the personal registration of electors as a condition of their right to vote at elections, and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries, in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth, by removing from office all existing registration commissioners and their appointees in said cities, and authorizing the Governor to appoint registration commissions therein; defining the jurisdiction of said commissions, and the powers and duties of the commissioners constituting same, and of their appointees, including registrars, inspectors of registration, clerks, and counsel; fixing their qualifications, terms of office, and compensation; granting them certain immunity from arrest on registration days; and empowering such inspectors to arrest without warrant certain persons committing certain offenses in violation of this act in their presence, as well as to enter and inspect buildings given as residences of electors to interrogate the inmates thereof, to copy or demand a list of the lodgers therein, and to supervise the conduct of registrars; regulating the registration of electors at polling places by registrars, and at the offices of commissions by commissioners, and the right of parties or bodies of electors to have watchers thereat, and the preparation and use of street lists and other records of those registered; allowing the names of persons not entitled to vote to be struck from the registers in certain cases; permitting all records regarding registration to be inspected and copied by any elector under certain conditions; directing how the registers shall be used at elections and primaries; compelling the attendance of witnesses and payment of witness fees; and providing penalties for refusal to obey subpoenas; directing receivers of taxes to appoint chief clerks of commissions as deputies to collect poll taxes and to give receipts therefor; authorizing such clerks to administer oaths, sign subpoenas and vouchers, and to collect and disburse witness fees; prescribing a method for challenging persons applying for registration, and the procedure for the correction of registers; and for appealing from actions of registrars to said commissions; and allowing for appeals from the decisions of the commissions in certain cases to courts of common pleas; imposing certain duties upon election officers and upon the councils, treasurers, controllers, receivers of taxes, police officers, and other officials of said cities and upon the courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, commissioners, peace officers, and other officials of the judicial districts and counties in which said cities are situated or with which they are coextensive; legalizing certain acts required hereby if done on any Sunday or legal holiday; requiring said cities to provide for the maintenance of said commissions, and the compensation of their appointees, and the payment of all expenses necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and to transfer the unexpended balances of all appropriations heretofore made for the personal registration of electors of said cities during the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen to and for the use of the said commissions; punishing and fixing penalties for violations hereof; and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith," in so far as the same provides for the compensation of the registration commissioners, and section forty-three of said act and its amendments in so far as it fixes the number and compensation of the employes of the registration commission.

Also page 8, line 15, by striking out the word "The" inserting in lieu thereof: "Section two of the"

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

An Act providing for the fixing of the salary of county officers, members of the board of viewers, and the board of revision of taxes, and the number, salary and compensation of deputies, assistants, clerks and appointees in the several county offices, with certain exceptions, and clerks, assistants, assessors and appointees employed by the board of viewers and the board of revision of taxes in counties of the first class by the legislative authority levying taxes and raising revenue; and repealing existing laws.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred forty) entitled "An act concerning declaratory judgments and decrees and to make uniform the law relating thereto" further defining the circumstances under which the remedy provided is available

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section six of the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred forty) entitled "An act concerning declaratory judgments and decrees and to make uniform the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 6 Discretionary [The court may refuse to render or enter a declaratory judgment or decree where such judgment or decree if rendered or entered would not terminate the uncertainty or controversy giving rise to the proceeding] Relief by declaratory judgment or decree may be granted in all civil cases where an actual controversy exists between contending parties or where the court is satisfied that antagonistic claims are present between the parties involved which indicate imminent and inevitable litigation or where in any such case the court is satisfied that a party asserts a legal relation status right or privilege in which he has a concrete interest and that there is a challenge or denial of such asserted relation status right or privilege by an adversary party who also has or asserts a concrete interest therein and the court is satisfied also that a declaratory judgment or decree will serve to terminate the uncertainty or controversy giving rise to the proceeding Where however a statute provides that jurisdiction shall be exercised in a specific type of case in a particular way that statutory remedy must be followed but the mere fact that an actual or threatened controversy is susceptible of relief through a general common law remedy or an equitable remedy or an extraordinary legal remedy whether such remedy is recognized or regulated by statute or not shall not debar a party from the privilege of obtaining a declaratory judgment or decree in any case where the other essentials to such relief are present

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 42, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred forty) entitled "An act concerning declaratory judgments and decrees and to make uniform the law relating thereto" prescribing the practice to be pursued in such proceedings

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That (a) Every proceeding for a declaratory judgment shall be commenced by a petition filed in a court of record having jurisdiction over causes of action complaints or subject matters of the kind involved in the controversy alleged

(b) The petition shall be as brief as the nature of the case will admit and shall be drawn in paragraphic form the paragraphs to be numbered consecutively and each to contain but one material allegation It shall have attached as exhibits copies of all writings depended upon by the petitioner or the construction of which he desires determined and shall conclude with a prayer for the declaratory judgment or decree the petitioner asks to be entered

Section 2 (a) The petition shall have endorsed thereon a notice to the defendant or defendants as follows "You are required to file an answer within fifteen days from the service of this copy upon you and to enter a written appearance in the court named to the term and number stated hereon specifying a person and a place within the county where service may be made upon you of all other papers processes and notices in the case If you fail in either respect a declaratory judgment or decree may be entered against you in your absence

(b) Petitions for declaratory judgments may be served by any adult person and in default of an appearance by the person served an affidavit of proof of service shall be made and filed

Section 3 If no answer if filed within the specified fifteen days the facts averred in the petition shall be taken as admitted and the court may if it deems the case a proper one for such relief enter an appropriate declaratory judgment or decree If the court reaches a contrary conclusion it may dismiss the petition or make such other order as right and justice may demand

Section 4 If the court finds that any person who has claims or might claim an interest which would be affected by the judgment or decree prayed for has not been served with a copy of the petition it may require the petitioner to bring in such person or persons by serving a copy of the petition on it him her or them with an endorsement thereon as provided for in section two of this act and such service shall make all persons so brought in parties to the proceeding

Section 5 A defendant may by his answer without first replying to the averments of fact in the petition raise any question of law which goes either to the jurisdiction of the court or to petitioner's legal right to have the disputed matter determined in this character of proceeding and any such question of law may be set down for hearing and disposed of in limine If in the opinion of the court the decision of the question thus set for hearing requires the determination against the petitioner of the point or points there raised the court may make such order thereon as the situation demands If the court shall decide such points so raised against a defendant he may within fifteen days file an answer to the averments of fact in the petition and the case shall be set down for a hearing on the merits of the controversy

Section 6 If the petitioner or a defendant desires any issue of fact to be tried and determined by a jury he shall so demand in his petition or answer and if no such demand is made its absence shall be treated as equivalent to an agreement to dispense with trial by jury and that all issues of fact as well as those of law may be determined and found by the court subject to exceptions and appeal as in equity cases

Section 7 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REQUEST TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I must confess that it is hard to hear. I am trying to make a motion in connection with Senate Bill No. 42. With the consent of the sponsor it is my intention to move that the bill be recommitted in Committee.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 42 was prepared by former Chief Justice Von Moschzisker. If the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, thinks it is not in proper form, I am perfectly willing, if he is satisfied, to return it to Committee. The bill was prepared by a former Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, the Honorable Robert Von Moschzisker.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will rule that the bill has passed second reading and it is really not before the Senate.

HOUSE MESSAGES

ADEQUATE APPROPRIATIONS TO BE PROVIDED FOR MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE, OLD AGE ASSISTANCE, BLIND ASSISTANCE AND STATE-AIDED HOSPITALS.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

In the House of Representatives, January 14, 1935.

Whereas, It appears that existing appropriations for mothers' assistance old age assistance blind assistance and to State-aided hospitals is insufficient to fully care for all of the wards of the State who come within this specialized form of care, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that those intrusted with the program for the raising of revenues and the making of appropriations at this session of the General Assembly take into full consideration the amount necessary to care for the wards of the State referred to in the preamble hereof in order that they may be adequately protected and maintained through sufficient appropriations.

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO ENACT LEGISLATION TO EQUALIZE TAXATION BETWEEN RIVER AND RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION.

He also presented extract from the Journal to the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

In the House of Representatives, January 21, 1935.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memorialize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, February 18, 1935

The House met at 9.00 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend J. Resler Shultz, Pastor of Ridge Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church of Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, The Father of us all, we come remembering that Thou art Truth and beauty and goodness. Thou art holy and righteous altogether, Thou art the One in whom we live and move and have our being, it is from Thee that guidance and inspiration come. From a heart of love and mercy Thou has given unto thy children the blessings of life and the glory of opportunity. Justice and faithfulness are Thy laws and in Thee do we find the perfection toward which we move.

Move through the minds and hearts of these thy servants the law makers of this commonwealth that thy justice and love and mercy and fraternity might motivate them in their every decision. Keep them from the shortcomings of petty selfishness which would make them substitute the gains of office and the interests of party for the high interest and sacred rights of the people of our State. Make them to deliberate in the important matters of State as if in Thy sight. Place upon their conscience the unsolved problems of social maladjustment, and make them faithful to every trust that is theirs because the mantel of public office has been placed upon them. Grant that poise and calm and dignity and humility might be theirs in the presence of the requirements of their office and that in and through all that they do there might be a self surrender to right and love for all men regardless of race or clan or creed.

Shed the light of thy face upon Thy servant, the Governor of our State and upon all in authority over us That justice might prevail and joy might dwell in the life of our people. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read of the Journal of Wednesday, February 13, 1935.

RESOLUTIONS

RESOLUTION NO. 46

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 46, Printer's No. 73.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1935.

Whereas, it appears that during the past eleven years there has been appropriated by the Councils of the City of Philadelphia out of the Treasury of the said city three million three hundred and fifty-five thousand dollars ($3.355,000) to the Police Pension Fund of the said City, and

Whereas, it appears that the present total annual liability for payment of benefits to persons legally entitled thereto very substantially exceeds the total annual amount of payments made to the said Police Pension Fund by members thereof, thus imposing on the Treasury of the City of Philadelphia increasingly great financial liability, and

Whereas, it appears that the benefits paid by the said Police Pension Fund to those legally entitled thereto is substantially less than the benefits which the members thereof might have received from approved life insurance companies, if payment of like sums had been made by them to such approved life insurance companies, and

Whereas, it appears that the cost of managing and administering the said Fund is greatly excessive, thereby tending to reduce the amount of benefits paid by the said Police Pension Fund to persons legally entitled thereto and also tending to unnecessarily increase the financial responsibility of the said City of Philadelphia to the said Fund, and

Whereas, it appears that the said Fund is not operated on a safe and sound acturial basis, and

Whereas, it further appears that the books of account and records of the said Police Pension Fund are not maintained according to the approved and accepted retirement and pension fund accounting standards, and

Whereas, it is believed that the interests of the taxpayers of the City of Philadelphia and the members of the said Fund and the beneficiaries thereof are placed in jeopardy because the funds and investments of the said Police Pension Fund are not subjected to regular periodical audits by the proper municipal authority or by certified public accountants;

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint five (5) members of the House of Representatives, who together shall constitute a legislative committee.

It shall be the duty of the said committee, following its organization and the selection of a Chairman, Secretary and Counsel, who shall serve without compensation to investigate and study the soundness, safeness, and security of the Police Pension Fund of the City of Philadelphia to ascertain whether the said Fund is efficiently and economically administered, and in accordance with standard practices of approved retirement or pension funds; to determine whether the said Police Pension Fund of the City of Philadelphia is actually sound; to audit or cause to be audited the books of account and records of the said Fund and to appraise or cause to be appraised the investments thereof by persons competent to perform such services; to ascertain and determine whether the benefits accorded to members of the Fund are substantially equivalent to those benefits that might be obtained from approved life insurance companies; and to inquire into such other matters and facts concerned with and relating to the said Police Pension Fund of the City of Philadelphia as may be necessary in providing to the General Assembly information requisite to intelligent legislative action with respect to the said Police Pension Fund.

The committee shall have power to hold such hearings as may be necessary. It shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requiring and commanding any person to appear before it, and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person by any member of the committee or by any sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear or testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents shall be subject to the penalties approved by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with reference to Resolution No. 46, I merely want to direct your attention to the fact that this resolution contains a number of whereas clauses.

The statements made in those whereas clauses I do not believe to be accurate and I do not believe them to be true. However, the purpose of the resolution is to make an investigation and I can see no harm that can come from making the investigation. I would have preferred that this resolution be a joint investigating power composed of both the Senate and the House. I approve of this resolution despite the fact that it does not so do. However, I do not want the resolution to go by without directing your attention to the fact that the whereas clauses contain information and statements that are not accurate, and I will ask the members of this House to vote in favor of the resolution in order that the investigation may be made and in order that the purposes of the resolution may be carried out.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 17

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 17, Printer's No. 71.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 21, 1935.

Whreeas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memorialize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parlimentary inquiry.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, House Resolution No. 21, was adopted on January 22nd, and I desire to know whether the Public Service Commission has made any reply thereto.

The SPEAKER. In answer to the parlimentary inquiry of the gentleman from Philadephia, the Chair wishes to inform him that the Chief Clerk has received no answer from the Public Service Commission.

RESOLUTION NO. 43

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 43, Printer's No. 67.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1935.

Whereas, The rates of the Associated Gas and Electric Company, the Penn Central Light and Power Company and the Johnstown Water Company of Delaware, operating in the City of Johnstown and in the County of Cambria and elsewhere, are higher than those of any other similar companies in the State, and are unfairly discriminatory; and

Whereas, Although the attention of the Public Service Commission has been repeatedly called to this situation, it has taken no action or made any investigation in the matter; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Public Service Commission is hereby urged to forthwith commence and carry on to an early conclusion an investigation of the service and charges of the said Associated Gas and Electric Company, the Penn Central Light and Power Company and the Johnstown Water Company of Delaware, and to take such further steps as are necessary pursuant to such investigation to compel said companies to establish and charge uniform and reasonable rates for the service furnished and supplied; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Chairman and members of the Public Service Commission.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF INVESTIGATING COMMITTEES

Mr. McCREARY offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, It is necessary for the Governor of the Commonwealth to appoint boards and commissions to conduct, supervise, or operate different agencies of government, and

Whereas, It frequently happens that because of careless, indifferent and inefficient management of State affairs by such boards or commissions, a public investigation is demanded, and

Whereas, The choice of an appointment of the members of the investigating committee causes great political turmoil and delay, and

Whereas, The securing of appropriations to finance the cost of such investigations also causes acriminous debate, political turmoil and delay, and

Whereas, The time lost in making all these arrangements for an investigation, allows the waste, extravagance and mismanagement in the State agency to continue to the great loss of the taxpayers of the Commonwealth therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Governor of the Commonwealth be and is hereby requested to make it a rule that hereafter, whenever he appoints the members of a board or commission to conduct, supervise or operate a State agency, of this Commonwealth, that he will at the same time appoint an investigating committee of three members, two from the majority party and one from the minority party, who shall hold themselves in readiness at all times, day or night, to answer a call to start an investigation, and be it further

Resolved, That the Appropriation Committee of the House be requested to insert in the General Appropriation Bill an item of $5,000 to be for the use of any investigating committee appointed by the Governor pursuant to this resolution, and be it further

Resolved, That the investigating committee be required to give full and complete publicity to all of its findings.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

TIME OF MEETING OF HOUSE

Mr. WELLIVER offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, The Legislature has been in session one month and a half, and has not placed on the Governor's desk a single measure for his consideration, and

Whereas, This failure to do anything constructive so far, is the result of short sessions held each week, which failed to hold members at the Capitol sufficiently long to hold committee meetings for the consideration of legislation re-referred to committees, and

Whereas, It is in the interest of economy to speed the legislative session and adjourn at the earliest possible date, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Members of the House of Representatives that the House should meet in sessions each week commencing Monday evening, at 9 P. M., and continuing until Friday evening.

The Speaker. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

RESOLUTION NO. 2

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, Resolution No. 12, Printer's No. 2.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 14, 1935.

Whereas, It appears that existing appropriations for mothers' assistance old age assistance blind assistance and to State-aided hospitals is insufficient to fully care for all of the wards of the State who come within this specialized form of care therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That it is the sense of the General Assembly that those intrusted with the program for the raising of revenues and the making of appropriations at this session of the General Assembly take into full consideration the amount necessary to care for the wards of the State referred to in the preamble hereof in order that they may be adequately protected and maintained through sufficient appropriations

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

INVESTIGATION OF FINDINGS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. SCHWARTZ offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, In response to the suggestion of his Excellency, the Governor, this body did on January thirtieth adopt a resolution creating a committee to investigate the operation of the liquor store system; and

Whereas, The Speaker of the House in the performance of his duties under the resolution appointed a committee consisting of seven members of the House, all of whom are lawyers; and

Whereas, House Bill No. 759 provides for an appropriation to said committee to enable it to hire lawyers to assist the lawyers of the committee in making said investigation; and

Whereas, Members of this House who are not learned in the law, while not so competent and expert in liquor matters as lawyers, are nevertheless as deeply interested; and

Whereas, the subjects within the scope of the legal investigating committee are matters of business rather than law; and

Whereas, The members of this House not learned in the law desire business conclusions and findings, and wish to be assured of such findings in order to guide them in the handling of the matter; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of seven Members of the House of Representatives, not learned in the law but with business training, whose duty it shall be to make a rigid investigation of the investigations of the investigating committee created under the provisions of Resolution No. 40, Serial No. 49, to the end that the results of the investigations, conducted by the original investigating committee may by such re-investigation be deleted of legal terms and vagaries, and whatever findings and facts of a business nature produced by the investigation be brought to light; and, be it further

Resolved, That the committee appointed pursuant to the provisions of this resolution shall have equal powers with the committee created under the provisions of Resolution No. 40, Serial No. 49, including the right to associate with it a number of business men to aid in its investigation equal to the number of lawyers the original investigation committee of lawyers shall require for assistance.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted. The resolution lies over under the rules.

BILL ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests unanimous consent of the House to take up out of order Senate Bill No. 20, House Bill No. 430. The reason for this action is that this bill if it is to be of any use must be passed, returned to the Senate and signed by the Governor tonight, otherwise it will be useless. The bill is a special tax sales measure, and unless we take this action at this time our action will be futile. Are their objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 430 (Senate Bill No. 20), entitled:

An Act authorizing the adjournment and readjournment of any county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands to be held in the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six validating any action in adjourning or readjourning tax sales taken prior to the effective date of this act and preserving the lien of all taxes on lands to be sold at such sales.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on January 21st, the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier, introduced a resolution known as Resolution No. 20, dealing with the adjournment of tax sales. Senate Bill No. 20 carries out the purpose and the tenor of the resolution of the gentleman from Lackawanna. I, therefore, urge upon the House to put into effect Senate Bill No. 20, which in fact carries out the will of the House as expressed by the adoption of the resolution of the gentleman from Lackawanna.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 433, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the City of Philadelphia for monies advanced by said City to the Delaware River Bridge Commission jointly with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with interest, which monies, including the monies so advanced by the City of Philadelphia were repaid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the Delaware River Bridge Commission.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for further study and consideration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell me what portion of the bill he desires to have further considered.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, the general purpose of the bill is to be further considered.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he is familiar with the provisions of the bill?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, for the information for the gentleman from Philadelphia, I will say I am.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Then, Mr. Speaker, may I repeat my original interrogation; what portion of the bill does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to be further considered?

Mr. OMINSKY. That portion of the bill, Mr. Speaker, where it appropriates money to be paid back to the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I believed that there was anything in this bill that required any further consideration by the committee on appropriations, I would join in the motion made by my colleague, the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The bill is a very simple and plain bill and merely provides for the return by the State of Pennsylvania to the city of Philadelphia of the sum—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please confine himself to the motion to recommit interrogation.

Mr. BLUMBERG. In order for the members of the House to consider the motion to recommit, Mr. Speaker, and particularly in view of the fact that I heard no objection from the floor, I desire to give a brief outline of the very simple provisions of the bill. I do not believe—

Mr. SPEAKER. The Chair informs the gentleman from Philadelphia that on a motion to recommit he cannot discuss the provisions of the bill. He must confine himself to the motion to recommit.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, might I just state to the members of the House, inasmuch as under the rules I know I am prevented from discussing the merits of the bill, that this bill was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and was thoroughly considered by that committee. It was introduced, as you know, by a Republican member. The majority on the Committee on Appropriations, as you also know, are of the opposite party and yet despite that fact, after consideration the bill was reported to the House.

The bill is now on first reading. It is a very simple bill. I will ask you members of the House to look at it before you vote. It merely provides that the state of Pennsylvania pay to the city of Philadelphia the small sum of twelve thousand dollars, which the State received from the Delaware River Bridge Commission and which it owes to the city of Philadelphia.

I am, therefore, going to ask the members of the House to vote against this motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Blumberg and Mr. Sowers.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 517, entitled:

An Act providing for the appointment and duties of county detectives in counties of the first class, and repealing inconsistent acts.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 530, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections four and nine of the act approved the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 711), entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia; prescribing its jurisdiction and powers; providing for the service of its writs, process, or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia; regulating the procedure therein, and appeals therefrom, and providing for the expenses thereof," providing that the compensation of officers and employes of said court shall be fixed by the tax levying body of said county.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for further amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Do I understand from the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the reason this motion was made is because it was understood in the committee from whence it came that the bill would be given two readings and it was agreed by the committee that upon that condition the bill would be reported out and then returned back to the committee.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that we cannot divulge any work that was done in the committee, but we understood, and the sponsor of the bill understood, that this bill was to be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for amendments.

QUESTIONS OF INFORMATION

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is not the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, permitted to divulge the action of the committee if that action was an agreement that the bill be reported out for two readings and understood at that time that a motion would be made to recommit it to the Committee? I want to know whether he is privileged to give that information.

The SPEAKER. The Chair informs the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, is privileged to divulge only such information from the committee as the committee itself permits or consents that he may divulge.

Mr. WITKIN. May I rise to a further question of information?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WITKIN. May I ask the Speaker to advise me, so as not to waste any time, from what committee this bill came?

The SPEAKER. The Chair advises the gentleman that it came from the Committee on State Government on January 22nd.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on State Government.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. McHenry, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. May I ask the gentleman whether or not House Bill No. 244, was reported out of committee by the Committee on State Government in order that the bill might receive two readings and then be returned back to the committee?

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, the bill was reported out of the Committee and we were going to get in touch with the sponsor of the bill and the sponsor of the bill was willing that the bill be returned after second reading for further consideration.

Mr. WITKIN. May I ask the gentleman further whether or not it was understood in committee that this bill would be returned to the committee at the time the committee on State Government reported it out? Is it possible to answer that question?

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, it was not.

MOTION WITHDRAWN.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, if the chairman of the Committee on State Governments says that that was not the agreement in that committee, I withdraw my motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Witkin and Mr. Sowers and were as follows:

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 20.

An Act authorizing the adjournment and readjournment of any county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands to be held in the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six validating any action in adjourning or readjourning tax sales taken prior to the effective date of this act and preserving the lien of all taxes on lands to be sold at such sales

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the While being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 208, as follows:

An Act to protect the lives and secure the safety and health of the people by making it unlawful to evict persons from dwellings or levy upon and sell necessary household goods under certain conditions requiring notice of intent to serve any writ of distress for rent writ of possession or execution to be served on occupant of dwelling authorizing courts of common pleas to grant injunctions against the service of such writs and in such cases to suspend payment by owner of premises of interest on liens and to release such owner of liability for payment of certain taxes

Whereas All power is inherent in the people and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their peace safety security and happiness and

Whereas The paramount duty of every government is to protect the lives and insure the health and safety of its citizens and

Whereas The proper protection of the lives of its citizens and the preservation of their health and safety demands not only food and clothing but proper and adequate shelter and

Whereas The present economic depression by causing unemployment loss of income and creating inability on the part of tenants and home owners to pay rent or installments of principal and interest on liens against their homes and places of shelter has resulted in widespread eviction proceedings against tenants and former home owners throughout the State who now have no adequate shelter by reason thereof and

Whereas It is for the ultimate benefit and safety of the Commonwealth that shelter be afforded to such unfortunate citizens to safeguard their health and thus to preserve the peace and wellbeing of the Commonwealth and

Whereas The General Assembly finds as a fact that existing economic conditions throughout the State necessitate the exercise of the police power for the protection of the health and safety of the people therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That subject to the condition hereinafter set forth no person who occupies any property used by him and his family as a dwelling and who because of involuntary unemployment or other involuntary condition arising out of economic depression is unable to pay rent interest or principal of any lien shall hereafter be evicted therefrom or dispossessed thereof by reason of any writ of any kind issued by any court magistrate or person whatsoever and no necessary household goods owned and used by such person and his family shall be levied upon or sold under or by reason of any writ issued upon any judgment entered against any such person.

Section 2 Before any distress for rent execution or other writ authorizing levy on household goods of or final writ of possession to evict any individual who as owner lessee or occupant under an agreement of sale or otherwise occupies real property in this Commonwealth used by him as a dwelling shall be served by any sheriff constable or other officer or individual having the legal right to serve such writ a notice in writing of the intention to distrain or to serve such writ shall be given to such individual in possession as owner lessee occupant under agreement of sale or otherwise at least five days prior to the actual levy or service of the writ whereupon within said period of five days the individual receiving such notice or if for any reason he is unable to do so some one on his behalf may petition the court of common pleas of the county in which the premises are located setting forth that because of his inability to secure employment he is unable to pay the amount owing to the plaintiff issuing the distress execution writ of possession to evict or other writ and praying the court to enjoin said levy or writ until such time as it may deem reasonable and just under all the circumstances

Section 3 The several courts of common pleas are hereby empowered to hear all petitions made under section two of this act and to pass upon all questions of the petitioner's ability or inability to secure employment and of his ability to pay the amount owing to the plaintiff about to issue the distress execution writ of possession to evict or other writ and in such cases as the courts may deem proper they may grant injunctions against such levy or writ of possession to evict for such period or periods of time as may seem reasonable and just to the court under all the circumstances and it may continue such injunction from time to time as in the opinion of the court may be necessary and just

Section 4 Any sheriff constable or other officer or person who shall evict or remove or attempt to evict or remove any person or persons or any property belonging to any person in possession of any property theretofore used as a dwelling from such property contrary to the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or suffer imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court

Section 5 In those cases in which a court shall determine that distress or eviction proceedings shall be enjoined for a stated time the court may at the same time suspend payment by the owner of the dwelling who is not in possession thereof of the interest on any lien mortgage or other encumbrance on the said dwelling for the said stated time and such owner shall also by decree of court be released from all liability for any taxes whatever accruing against the said dwelling during said stated time

Section 6 The powers hereby conferred upon the courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth shall terminate one year after the effective date of this act but the Governor may extend the period of this act by proclamation for an additional period not exceeding two years

Section 7 Any waiver of the provisions of this act contained in any lease or made by or in any agreement entered into between such owner lessee or occupant and any other person shall be invalid and nothing heretofore or hereafter done shall set aside the rights of such owner lessee or occupant under the provisions hereof

Section 8 If any section sentence clause or part of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this act The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each sentence clause or part thereof irrespective of the fact that one or more sections sentences clauses or parts thereof be declared unconstitutional

Section 9 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

Section 10 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk, of the Senate being introduced presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to amend article three of the act approved the seventh day of March, one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 20), entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class," as amended; removing the authority of the Superintendent of Police to appoint additional patrolmen at the expense of persons asking such appointment.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 443, as follows:

Relating to and providing for the establishment by the Department of Labor and Industry of minimum fair wage standards for women and minors employed in trades and industries in this Commonwealth providing for the creation of wage boards to recommend to the Department of Labor and Industry after study and investigation minimum fair wages for women and minors in any occupation conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry and the wage boards imposing certain duties and requirements upon employers of women and minors providing for the enforcement of the act and providing civil and criminal penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the employment of women and minors in trade and industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at wages unreasonably low and not fairly commensurate with the value of the services rendered is a matter of grave and vital public concern for the following reasons

(a) Many women and minors employed for gain in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are not as a class upon a level of equality in bargaining with their employers in regard to minimum fair wage standards and "freedom of contract" as applied to their relations with their employers is illusory

(b) Since a very large percentage of such workers are obliged from their week to week wages to support themselves and others who are dependent upon them in whole or in part they are by reason of their necessitous circumstances forced to accept whatever wages are offered them

(c) Judged by any reasonable standard wages are in many cases fixed by chance and caprice and the wages accepted are often found to bear no relation to the fair value of the service rendered

(d) Women and minors employed for gains are peculiarly subject to the overreaching of inefficient harsh or ignorant employers and under unregulated competition where no adequate machinery exists for the effective regulation and maintenance of minimum fair wage standards the standards such as exist tend to be set by the least conscionable employers

(e) In the absence of any effective minimum fair wage rates for women and minors the constant lowering of wages by unscrupulous employers constitutes a serious form of unfair competition against other employers reduces the purchasing power of the workers and threatens the stability of industry

In view of the foregoing it is hereby declared that the evils of oppressive unreasonable and unfair wages as they affect women and minors employed in this Commonwealth are such as to render imperative the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of industry and of the women and minors employed therein and of the public interest of the community at large in their health and wellbeing and in the prevention of the deterioration of the race

Section 2 The following words or phrases unless the context clearly indicates otherwise shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section

"Department" shall mean the Department of Labor and Industry of this Commonwealth

"Directory order" shall mean an order the nonobservance of which may be published as provided in section ten of this act

"Employer" shall mean every person firm copartnership association or corporation who or which employs women or minors in any occupation as herein defined but shall not include the Federal government the Commonwealth or any county city borough incorporated town township or school district

"Fair Wage" shall mean a wage fairly and reasonably commensurate with the value of the service or class of service rendered In establishing a minimum fair wage for any service or class of service under this Act the Secretary and the wage board without being bound by any technical rules of evidence or procedure (1) may take into account all relevant circumstances affecting the value of the service or class of service rendered and (2) may be guided by like considerations as would guide a court in a suit for the reasonable value of services rendered where services are rendered at the request of an employer without contract as to the amount of the wage to be paid and (3) may consider the wages paid in the Commonwealth for work of like or comparable character by employers who voluntarily maintain minimum fair wage standards

"Mandatory order" shall mean an order the violation of which shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in section sixteen (b) of this Act

"Minor" shall mean a person of either sex under the age of twenty-one years

"Occupation" shall mean an industry trade or business or branch thereof or class of work therein in which women or minors are gainfully employed but shall not include domestic service in the home of the employer or labor on a farm

"Oppressive and unreasonable wage" shall mean a wage which is both less than the fair and unreasonable value of the services rendered and less than sufficient to meet the minimum cost of living necessary for health

"Secretary" shall mean the Secretary of Labor and Industry of this Commonwealth

"Wage Board" shall mean a board created as provided in section six of this Act

"Woman" shall mean a female of twenty-one years or over

Section 3 It is hereby declared to be against the public policy of this Commonwealth for any employer to employ any woman or minor in an occupation in this Commonwealth at an oppressive and unreasonable wage and any contract agreement or understanding for or in relation to such employment shall be null and void

Section 4 The department shall have full power and authority

(a) To investigate and ascertain the wages of women and minors employed in any occupation in the Commonwealth

(b) To enter the place of business or employment of an employer of women and minors in any occupation for the purpose of examining and inspecting any and all books registers payrolls and other records of any employer of women or minors that in any way appertain to or have a bearing upon the question of wages of any such women or minors and for the purpose of ascertaining whether the orders of the department issued under this Act have been and are being complied with and

(c) Whenever deemed necessary to require from each employer of women or minors full and correct statements in writing of the wages paid to all women and minors in his employment

Section 5 The department either upon its own initiative or upon the petition of fifty or more residents of the Commonwealth shall have power to make an investigation of the wages being paid to women or minors in any occupation or occupations to ascertain whether any substantial number of women or minors in such occupation or occupations are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages If as a result of such investigation or because of information in its possession the department is of the opinion that a substantial number of women or minors in any occupation or occupations are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages the department shall appoint a wage board to report upon the establishment of minimum fair wage rates for such women or minors in such occupation or occupations

Section 6 (a) A wage board shall be composed of not more than three representatives of the employers in any occupation or occupations an equal number of representatives of the employes in such occupation or occupations and of not more than three disinterested persons representing the public one of whom shall be designated as chairman The representatives of the employers and employes on a wage board shall be selected by the department so far as practicable from nominations submitted by employers and employes in such occupation or occupations Two-thirds of the members of a wage board shall constitute a quorum and the recommendations or report of a wage board shall require a vote of not less than a majority of all its members Members of a wage board shall serve without pay but shall be entitled to be reimbursed for their necessary traveling expenses The department shall make and establish from time to time rules and regulations not inconsistent with this Act governing the selection of wage boards and their mode of procedure

(b) A wage board shall have power to administer oaths and to require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses the production of all books records and other evidence relative to any matters under investigation Such subpoena shall be signed and issued by the chairman of the wage board

In case of failure on the part of any person to comply with any subpoena of the wage board or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated before any wage board it shall be the duty of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County on the application of a member of the wage board to compel obedience in the same manner that such obedience would be compelled by contempt proceedings or otherwise in a proceeding pending before such court

A wage board shall power to cause depositions of witnesses residing within or without the Commonwealth to be taken in the manner prescribed for in like depositions in civil actions

(c) The department shall present to a wage board promptly upon its organization all the evidence and information in the possession of the department relating to the wages of women and minor workers in the occupation or occupations for which the wage board was appointed and all other information which the department deems relevant to the establishment of a minimum fair wage for such women and minors and shall cause to be brought before the committee any witnesses deemed material A wage board may summon other witnesses or call upon the department to furnish additional information to aid it in its deliberations All witnesses subpoenaed by the wage board shall be paid the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil cases

(d) Within sixty days of its organization a wage board shall submit to the department a report including its recommendations as to minimum fair wage standards for the women or minors in the occupation or occupations the wage standards of which the wage board was appointed to investigate If its report is not submitted within such time the department may constitute a new wage board

(e) A wage board may recommend minimum fair wage rates varying with localities if in the judgment of the wage board conditions make such local differentiation proper and do not effect an unreasonable discrimination against any locality

(f) A wage board may recommend a suitable scale of rates for learners and apprentices in any occupation or occupations which scale may be less than the regular minimum fair wage rates recommended for experienced women or minor workers in such occupation or occupations

Section (7) Upon receiving a report from a wage board the department shall within ten days either accept or reject such report If the report is rejected the department shall resubmit the matter to the same wage board or to a new wage board together with a statement of the reasons for the resubmission If the report is accepted the department shall cause it to be published together with such proposed administrative regulations as the department deems appropriate to supplement the report of the wage board and to safeguard the minimum fair wage standards to be established and notice shall be given of a public hearing to be held by the department not sooner than fifteen nor more than thirty days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to the recommendations contained in such report or in such proposed regulations may be heard

Section 8 Within ten days after such hearing the department shall approve or disapprove the report of the wage board If the report is disapproved the department may resubmit the matter to the same wage board or to a new wage board If the report is approved the department shall make a directory order which shall define minimum fair wage rates in the occupation or occupations as recommended in the report of the wage board and which shall include such proposed administrative regulations as the department may deem appropriate to implement the report of the wage board and to safeguard the established minimum fair wage standards Such administrative regulations may include among other things regulations defining and governing learners and apprentices their rates number proportion or length of service piece rates or their relations to time rates overtime or part time rates bonuses or special pay for special or extra work deductions for board lodging apparel or other items or services supplied by the employer and other special conditions or circumstances In view of the diversities and complexities of different occupations and the dangers of evasion and nullification the department may provide in such regulations without departing from the basic minimum rates recommended by the wage board such modifications or reductions of or additions to such rates in or for such special cases or classes of cases as those herein enumerated as the department may find appropriate to safeguard the basic minimum rates established

Section 9 The department may cause to be issued to a woman or minor including a learner or appentice whose earning capacity is impaired by age or physical or mental deficiency or injury a special license authorizing employment in an occupation at such wages less than the minimum fair wage rates established for such occupation and for such period of time as shall be fixed by the department and stated in the license

Section 10 If the department has reason to believe that any employer is not observing the provisions of any directory order made by it under this Act the department may on fifteen days notice summon such employer to appear before it to show cause why the name of such employer should not be published as having failed to observe the provisions of such order If after such hearing the department shall find that such employer is guilty of nonobservance the department may cause to be published in a newspaper or newspapers circulating within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or in such other manner as the department may deem appropriate the name of any such employer or employers as having failed in the respects stated to observe the provisions of the directory order of the department Neither the Secretary nor any authorized representative of the department nor any newspaper publisher proprietor editor nor employe thereof shall be liable to an action for damages for publishing the name of any employer as provided for in this act unless guilty of some wilful misrepresentation

Section 11 If at any time after a directory minimum fair wage order has been in effect for two months the department is of the opinion that the persistent nonobservance of such order by one or more employers is a threat to the maintenance of fair minimum wage standards in any occupation or occupations the department may give notice of its intention to make such order mandatory and of a public hearing to be held not sooner than fifteen nor more than thirty days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to the proposed mandatory order may be heard by the department After such hearing if the department adheres to its opinion the department may make the previous directory order or any part thereof mandatory and so publish it

Section 12 At any time after a minimum fair wage order has been in effect for one year or more whether during such period it has been directory or mandatory the department may on its own initiative and shall on petition of fifty or more residents of the Commonwealth reconsider the minimum fair wage rates set therein and reconvene the same wage board or appoint a new wage board to recommend whether or not the rate or rates contained in such order should be modified The report of such wage board shall be dealt with in the manner heretofore prescribed in this Act provided that if the order under reconsideration has heretofore been made mandatory in whole or in part by the department then the department in making any new order or confirming any old order shall have power to declare to what extent such order shall be directory and to what extent mandatory

Section 13 The department may at any time and from time to time propose such modifications of or additions to any administrative regulations included in any directory or mandatory order of the department without reference to a wage board as the department may deem appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this Act provided such proposed modification or additions could legally have been included in the original order In such event notice shall be given of a public hearing to be held by the department not less than fifteen days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to such proposed modifications or additions may be heard After such hearing the department may make an order putting into effect such proposed modcations of or additions to the administrative regulations as it deems appropriate If the order of which the administrative regulations form a part has theretofore been made mandatory in whole or in part by the department then the department in making any new order shall have the power to declare to what extent such order shall be directory and to what extent mandatory

Section 14 All questions of fact arising under this Act except as otherwise provided shall be decided by the department and there shall be no appeal from its decision on any such question of fact but there shall be a right of review by the courts from any ruling or holding on a question of law included or embodied in any decision or order of the department

Section 15 Every employer of women and minor workers shall keep a true and accurate record of the hours worked by each and the wages paid by him to each and shall furnish to the department upon demand a sworn statement of the same Such records shall be open to inspection by the Secretary or any authorized representative of the department at any reasonable time Every employer subject to a minimum fair wage order whether directory or mandatory shall keep a copy of such order posted in a conspicuous place in every room in which women or minors are employed Employers shall be furnished copies of orders on request without charge

Section 16 (a) Any employer and his agent or the officer or agent of any corporation who discharges or in any other manner discriminates against any employe because such employe has served or is about to serve on a wage board or has testified or is about to testify before any wage board or in any other investigation or proceeding under or related to this Act or because such employer believes that such employe may serve on any wage board or may testify before any wage board or in any investigation or proceeding under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred dollars

(b) Any employer or the officer or agent of any corporation who pays or agrees to pay to any woman or minor employe less than the rates applicable to such woman or minor under a mandatory minimum fair wage order shall be guilty of a disdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred dollars or to undergo imprisonment for not less than ten nor more than ninety days or both in the discretion of the court and each week in any day of which such employe is paid less than the rate applicable to him under a mandatory minimum fair wage order and each employe so paid less shall constitute a separate offense

(c) Any employer or the officer or agent of any corporation who shall fail to keep the records required under this Act or to furnish such records to the Secretary or any authorized representative of the department upon request shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars and each day of such failure to keep the records requested under this Act or to furnish the same to the Secretary or any authorized representative of the department shall constitute a separate offense

Section 17 If any employer shall pay to any woman or minor worker less than the minimum fair wage to which such woman or minor is entitled under or by virtue of a mandatory minimum fair wage order such woman or minor may recover in a civil action the full amount of such minimum wage less any amount actually paid by the employer together with costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court and any agreement between the parties to the action to work for less than such mandatory minimum fair wage shall be no defense to such action At the request of any woman or minor worker paid less than the minimum wage to which he was entitled under a mandatory order the department may take an assignment of such wage claim in trust for the assigning employe and may bring any legal action necessary to collect such claim and the employer shall be required to pay the costs

Section 18 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such constitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 19 This Act shall become effective upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the whole being in in this case dispensed with

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the amendments and move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations for amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 164, Printer's No. 60, on page 8 of today's calendar, bill on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Schrope.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 164, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven hundred and eighteen of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 359), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," as amended, permitting dogs to be trained on Sunday during the training season.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is rather tough for a new man to get up here in front, and it is tougher yet to speak for the first time into this dofunny here in front. In order that I may get a little better acquainted with this apparatus I wonder if I would be allowed to tell a story.

As a sportsman I have fished and hunted and studied wild life all over this State and in many more distant places. I have naturally had some very unusual experiences. I recall at one time when strolling through the woods alone that I unexpectedly came on an old she-bear and two cubs. We were all surprised; in fact I felt a streak of yellow coming up my back a yard long, and when that old girl gave out a number of grunts to those cubs that to me sounded like, "Go back into the bushes; mamma is going to bring you in something good to eat" and when she got up on her hind legs and skinned her lips back over her teeth I felt the hair raising on that old bald head of mine where there is none.

She looked me over for about a minute or so, and after awhile she dropped down sort of disgusted and she turned around and growled what to me sounded like, "Too skinny." She gave me a chance; House Bill No. 164 does not give game a chance.

I want to tell you that all sportsmen's bills that are brought up here are nonpartisan because, thank God, in the wild is one place where men stand on an equal footing. In the wild we are not concerned about your politics; we are not concerned about your religion; we are not concerned about your nationality or your race or your financial standing. All we ask is for good clean sportsmanship and give game a chance.

House Bill No. 164 pertains to the training of dogs on Sunday. I might tell you that under the present laws you are allowed to train dogs during certain season six days in the week, twenty-four hours of that day. House Bill No. 164 asks to take that one last day from the game.

House Bill No. 164 has numerous defects; a few of them I am going to cite to you. House Bill 164 is not practical, it is not workable, it is inconsistent, it is crude and it looks a little bit like class legislation.

Pennsylvania is the sportsmen's paradise of America. We have more game and a greater variety of game and fish than any like area in the United States. This has been made possible by twenty-five to thirty-five years of good hard concerted work. Work by conservative game and fish commissioners, work by hundreds of sportsmen's organizations and thousands of conservative sportsmen and farmers.

House Bill No. 164 is not practical for Pennsylvania. While Pennsylvania has this great amount of game it also has within its bounds one-eighth of all the sportsmen in the United States. To provide for this vast army of sportsmen and for the best interest of all we must have conservative laws.

House Bill No. 164 as it is presented here tonight was not endorsed by the Federation of Sportsmen's Associations of Pennsylvania who met here in the Capitol last Wednesday.

House Bill No. 164 is not practical, nor workable, and I will tell you why: They did not consult the farmers and the landowners first. Now, the farmers and the private landowners control five-sixth of the land of Pennsylvania. The farmers and the farmers' sons have gone into this sportsmanship business and they are conservative. Many of the sportsmen's organizations of today are dominated by farmers. I can cite you one sportsman organization seventy miles from a city of one hundred thousand population where eighty-five per cent of that organization are farmers.

A few weeks ago this sportsmen's organization had a banquet with more than four hundred fifty in attendance and when this subject was brought up it was almost unanimous against House Bill 164.

The same bill was brought up at another sportsmen's organization of practically one hundred fifty members in another town where the unanimous vote was against it.

The farmers through the State Grange have served notice on the Federation of Sportsmen's organizations of this State that the farmers' answer to this and similar bills will be the greatest campaign of land posting that this State ever knew. It may be the means of losing millions of acres that are now open to the sportsmen, in posted lands. I might just tell you that at the present time there is great commotion over this State on stream improvement on private property. In our own county our sportsmen's organizations has put up a thousand dollars in material which has been matched by the federal government in the amount of twelve or thirteen thousand dollars for stream improvement and if this type of legislation goes through and the farmers post their land that is all gone.

House Bill 164 would not be practical if the farmers post their land. Dogs can not read "No Trespass" signs, and that brings us an endless lot of trouble. The way the law is now the farmer wouldn't need to post his land; they could prosecute for trespass. For many years we have been educating people to the wilds, trying to get the city folks to join our organizations, telling them that the wilds are one place where they can go without having any money in their pockets. If House Bill No. 164 goes through you had better take your pocket book along and see that you have something in it.

House Bill No. 164 is cruel. Game couldn't stand up under seven days a week, thirty days a month continuous hunting. House Bill No. 164 is cruel for this reason that dogs can be trained in the wild; it is the season of the year when the game is having the hardest struggle of the year for their existence. It is during these winter months that considerable game feeding is being done in the wilds. Your State game department contributed $10,000 toward feeding the game. The food is being scattered by Game Wardens, by boy scouts, by rural mail carriers and conservative sportsmen. Sunday is the day that many conservative sportsmen carry food out to the wilds. It would not be fair to this class of sportsmen who are so concerned as to carry the food out for another class to come along with their dogs to keep them away from the food.

House Bill No. 164 was scheduled to come up last Wednesday. Perhaps it was just as well that it didn't. If you recall last Wednesday we had a couple of Indians over here to the right and when I went over to talk to Chief Deerfoot and told him about House Bill No. 164 he remarked that somebody ought to be scalped.

House Bill No. 164 is inconsistent. It is not in keeping with the type of social legislation that is being introduced here. We have had legislation introduced here asking for as few as thirty hours per week for a man, and why should we introduce a bill that would make it possible to hunt game in the woods one hundred sixty-eight hours out of the week.

House Bill No. 164 might be classed as class legislation. This is of special benefit to a small percentage of sportsmen and a detriment to the larger number of them. House Bill No. 164 is being sponsored by folks who claim they have to work six days in the week and have no time to get out. Folks that are as lucky as that, that are really interested in sportsmanship surely should take a day off and give the millions who are walking the streets a chance.

I am arguing here in the interest of wild life. I want to tell you that there are some true sportsmen and some few sportsmen's organizations that have approved this bill, but I am satisfied they haven't studied it from all angles. You might say that as an Indian I am in duty bound to fight it through to the happy hunting grounds in the interests of our friends in the wild.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, when I presented this bill, I felt then it would not be necessary for me to take the floor of the House and defend the bill. I feel that of all the so called liberal legislation that has been presented in this House, this bill appears to me to be about as conservative a measure as possibly could appear on the floor of this House.

The gentleman from Blair, Mr. Parks, made some remarks that I feel I am compelled to contradict. In the first place, he stated that the State Federation of Sportsman at their meeting here at the Capitol last week opposed this bill. They approved the bill with amendments, and I stated that if the Senate so feels they may amend the bill. Furthermore, the United Sportsmen and the Isaak Walton League in their conventions have likewise approved this bill.

The bill has been attacked from the standpoint of game conservation. I feel that all of you members of the House who have any interest in game know that the bill cannot be fairly attacked from a game conservation standpoint. I will give you an example. Take the squirrels out here on the Capitol grounds. Any man can go out there and shoot all of them, but if you go out in the woods, where a dog has been trained or any animal, you will find the game will be more alert. Personally I think that if all the dogs would be taken out of the woods, our game wouldn't last very long with the hunters, because where the game isn't alert it isn't possible for it to last very long.

I could make a long speech on conservation. The bill from a moral standpoint, I am certain, can be accepted without challenge. I am positive there are members in this House who have boys, and I am sure that at least some of you find in the state of Pennsylvania and probally in other states that you are compelled to accept the conditions as they exist and not as you would like them to be. You all probably want to know where your boys are on Sundays. If you go out on the highways of the state of Pennsylvania on a Sunday you can see where a great many of them are, and I would like to ask the members here who have boys which of two things you would prefer: to have your boy take a dog on a Sunday afternoon and go out into the fields or into the forest, or would you prefer to have your boy go out on the highway with a car. I dare say there would be very few members here who would take the chance of their boy being on the highway; at least a large percentage would be in favor of the boy coming back home instead of their having to go to a hospital to see him. The chances are in favor of the boy that takes his dog out in the field.

I did not expect to have to make a long speech and I didn't even know there was any such opposition to this bill, but I can say this, if this bill will take any man or any boy out into the fields or into the woods on a Sunday afternoon, it will do a service to the State, and I feel that if I could personally be responsible for half of the people of the state of Pennsylvania spending their Sunday afternoons out in the woods—and I wouldn't care how many dogs they took along—I would be doing a service to the state of Pennsylvania.

This bill does nothing more than one thing. Most people know that those who have dogs take them out regardless of the law on Sunday afternoons as well as on other days. This bill does only one thing: it prohibits a game warden or a deputy warden from tagging a twenty dollar fine on you if you get caught with your dog between the twentieth day of August and the last day of February on a Sunday, which is the training period for dogs.

I ask the members of this House to support this bill.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, supplementing the requests made by the first speaker through that intensifying hot air contraption I want to say that this bill,—I believe it is No. 164; it has been repeated so often,—deserves a lot of consideration.

We must consider when we enact a bill into law, its merits and demerits, the good it will do and the harm it will do. This bill if enacted into law will give to the sportsmen what he thinks is a coveted right, but often these things that we covet return to us as a boomerang and become a lemon on our hands.

This bill gives the right to the sportsman to enter the land and premises of the farmer and train his dogs on Sunday. Now, there has been a plea put in here for the wild life, to protect them from being chased by dogs in this one day out of seven. There has been a plea put in for the sportsmen, and I at this time am putting in a plea for the sportsmen also. It gives him the right to enter the land and premises of the farmer and train his dogs on Sunday. The farmer in times past has been a benefactor, he has been a good fellow, and when the sportsman went out during the hunting season and asked permission to hunt on the farmer's premises in nine cases out of ten he was granted this permission.

But it encroaches upon his rights. He works six days in the week, begins on Monday morning at six o'clock and close Saturday evening at nine o'clock. He has but one day to himself, and that is the day we call Sunday. On this day some farmers want to go to their various churches. Others want to get out their Lizzies and go to visit some of their friends or have a picnic out in the woods. Their poultry and their cattle are running at large over the premises. Now, this farmer starts out and this sportsman comes in on his land and trains his dog. These dogs running at large will frighten his poultry and these domestic animals and when the farmer comes home he will not know whether they are within their confines. This will aggravate the farmer. Just as surely as this bill is passed the farmer will post his premises with "No Trespass" signs. Therefore this will work an injury to the sportsman and will deprive him of this very thing that the farmer has so often granted him, the privilege of hunting on his premises. Therefore I urge you, members of the House, in the name of good sportsmanship, in behalf of the rights of all sportsmen, in the name and for the perpetuation of the sentiment of the Golden Rule to vote against House Bill No. 164.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, being a true sportsman and having several dogs of my own to train, I enjoy just as much as anybody does having those dogs out either on a week day or on the Sabbath.

I am not going to take up the points that I think the other members in speaking against this bill have covered. I believe they have practically covered everything excepting one point, which I would like to bring before the House, and that is that this bill to my mind takes away the rural Sabbath.

In all measures pertaining to city affairs, when they apply to the cities and the cities alone, the city members can feel that they are backed by the members of the rural counties.

In our rural counties, as you members from the larger centers of population probably realize, ninety per cent of our people go to church on Sundays and take with them their families. In doing that it leaves their properties alone as it were. The people in my particular community sometimes remain away all day Sunday, because we have a sect of people that have preaching all day, and as a result their properties would be at the mercy of anyone who chose to train dogs or hunt or do anything else on the Sabbath day. Representing the rural districts as we do, where this condition exists, we feel that we are not wrong in asking the members of this House to vote down this bill.

The Federation of Sportsmen that met here last Wednesday adopted this bill only after considerable debate and with the following provision: that anyone wishing to train dogs on the Sabbath would be asked to get a written permit from each and every land owner upon whose ground he wanted to train his dogs during that day. That is an impossibility, especially in the rural sections where you are training dogs and going from one farm to another. It would be be very embarrassing for the sportsman when he found that his dog was off the land for which he had a permit to have to rush over and get another permit.

The Grange members have opposed this bill and have clearly and definitely stated that many owners of land are also opposed to the bill. We have a member in this House whose father owns thirty-five hundred acres of very fine hunting territory, at all times unrestricted to hunting and fishing. This man has definitely gone on record that he will absolutely post that land against all sportsmen entering thereon for any purpose.

Can't you see, members of the House, that this will affect a great majority of the Sportsmen, in that it will deprive them of many acres of the finest hunting in the State of Pennsylvania.

For these reasons I ask you, honestly, to vote down this bill.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I do want to raise my voice in protest against the passage of this bill for reasons other than those which you have just heard. I do not care to take up the details on the question of dogs and sportsmen but I do feel that this bill is of larger significance than this question of the dog and the sportsmen. I feel that this bill brings up that age old cry between good and evil. This bill is one, I believe, of a series that has been introduced and will be introduced into this House for the only and single purpose of repealing the Fourth Commandment, "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy."

I was here during the last session of 1933. Bill No. 1 that was introduced was a bill to repeal the Fourth Commandment. It passed this House, it passed the Senate and was signed by the Governor. It was the first bill of the kind that had ever passed this Legislature. Do you know that for more than one hundred years there has been more than one hundred bills come up for passage before this Legislature the purpose of which was to repeal the old Blue Laws, concerning which you have heard so much. But every Legislature until the Legislature of 1933 refused to submit them or if they were submitted, they were defeated. It was left for the 1933 Legislature to pass the first bill of the kind to repeal the Fourth Commandment. Now, because they have gotten that through here comes another one. Bill No. 1 in the 1933 Session was to repeal still further the Fourth Commandment, to allow not only baseball games but also all sorts of sports and so forth to desecrate the sabbath. Now comes this Bill No. 164 relating to the training of dogs. As you know, looking at your calendar, there are several others here to allow all sorts of recreation, as they call it, on Sunday. Not stopping to think that there is more time through the week now on everybody's hands than they know what to do with but for some reason they want to absorb Sunday. They forget the laws of God and only worship Mammon. Do you know, fellow members of this House, it is up to you as members of this House, not as individuals,—you can do as you please on Sunday and you alone will have to answer for it. But when you come here and become members of this Assembly you assume a responsibility that you can not turn away from in that case. Don't you know that when you came here you walked up in front of that rostrum and with a Bible in your hand you took a solemn oath? And do you remember what that oath was? And do you remember what was in that Bible? The Bible contains ten commandments and your oath of office said that you solemnly agreed to support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the great State of Pennsylvania, and you so swore. And don't you know that everyone of you that stands up and bows his head when the minister of the gospel calls down the divine blessing and inspiration upon the deliberations of the House, therefore again you admit that you are sworn to obey that Constitution and that solemn oath, and why now do you immediately come up here and decide that you will vote contrary to that solemn oath? Don't you all know that there is propaganda all over this State to desecrate Sunday? Don't you remember seeing in the papers and reading of some man in Philadelphia, a man by the name of Biswanger, a strange name. Is that an American name? Or did it come from a foreign source? I don't find that name signed to the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution of this United States or the State of Pennsylvania but he had the audacity to slur and insult those men on that painting and these men up on this other one, saying that they were the Mossbacks, Fullbacks and Hangbacks who for two hundred years who have obstructed the growth and development of Philadelphia. Did you ever hear of any man getting away with that sort of audacity and call these men that we have honored for years Mossbacks, Fullbacks and Hangbacks? Where was he two hundred years ago? I resent the slur on the men that we honor in this House and I hope that the members of this House will resent it too and I hope that the members of this House are men enough to abide by their oaths. They swore to uphold the Constitution of this State and to support, obey and defend it, and the preamble of this Constitution, that "We the people of the State of Pennsylvania, grateful to * * *" grateful to whom? "to Almighty God for the blessings for civil and religious liberty and humbly invoking his divine blessing, we do ordain and establish this Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania."

And now are you going to vote to repeal one of God's Commandments? Are you going to forget the reputation of this House of Representatives for one hundred years? Are you going to forget the traditions that you swore to uphold?

I say to the majority party here tonight that you have got your reputation to make and you have got the traditions of this Legislature to uphold. The power is yours for the first time in forty years. And what are you going to do with that power the first time you are asked to decide whether you will uphold the laws of the God of this universe or whether you are going to turn it over to the bootlegger, the gambler or racketeer that wants to desecrate the sabbath day?

It is up to the members of the majority party in this House to kill this bill, and I hope you do it.

Mr. LARUE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I have never heard the terms gamblers and racketeers and so called sportsman used in such a way before. I have done a lot of hunting in my time and have always considered a man who went afield to be a real religious sort of a man.

I do not think that anyone could approach this bill from the religious side. Some statements have been made here tonight that are degrading to a sportsman, and statements have also been made here tonight that are really misleading.

One gentleman stated that this bill gave a person the right to enter upon a farmer's land. I fail to find anything in this bill giving anyone the right to enter upon anyone's land in any other way than he could enter upon it on any other day of the week. I, therefore, ask the members of this house regardless of political faith to vote for this bill in the interest of true sportsmanship.

It has been said here tonight that it would be a detriment to our game. It has been my experience in a number of years in the field in the hunting of game and the training of dogs that the more you are in the field with your dog on birds, rabbits and other game the more wary the game will become. If we did not have dog training prior to the hunting season, it would be very easy for a hunter to walk out in the field and shoot pheasants that are sitting on the ground, quail that are in coveys and rabbits that don't know enough to run from their nests.

I, therefore, ask the ladies and gentlemen of this House to vote for this bill in the interest of good sportsmanship.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. Last Saturday thirteen members of this body who had been appointed by the Chair attended the funeral of our late colleague, Edward B. Labar from Pike County.

The funeral was held from his home at Matamoras, Pennsylvania. There were present a judge of the Superior Court, a judge of the Common Pleas Court and also a state senator from one of the nearby counties.

The Chair suggests that when the House adjourns tonight it do so in honor of the memory of our late colleague, the Hon. Edward B. Labar from Pike County.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. DILLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn in memory of the late Honorable Edward B. Labar, of Pike County, until tomorrow morning at 11:00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 12:00 o'clock midnight) the House adjourned until Tuesday, February 19, 1935, at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1935 No. 17

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 19, 1935.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer." This prayer of the ancient psalmist we offer as our petition today.

What we think is of vital importance to us and to those about us. We cannot live noble lives if our thoughts and desires are ignoble. What we are and what we profess must harmonize before our lives can ring true.

Touch the hidden springs of our being so we may be men after Thine own heart, O God. Thus shall our actions be in accord with Thy will and thus shall men be led to know Thee.

Bless and guide this Senate this day. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. NORTON, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate petition from the Bethlehem Ministerial Association, Bethlehem, Pa., protesting the passage of legislation liberalizing the Sabbath for commercial purposes.

Which was referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

The Chair also laid before the Senate petition protesting against the passage of House Bills Nos. 304 and 311, the "Full Crew Bill" and the "Train Limit Bill."

Which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

The Chair also laid before the Senate communications from the California Legislature and the Legislature of the State of New Mexico, enclosing copies of resolutions passed by those bodies in reference to Senate Bill No. 2066, in Congress, and urging its passage.

Which was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

The Chair also laid before the Senate communication from the Home Owners and Taxpayers of Clairton, Pa., urging passage of Senate Bill No. 151 and House Bill No. 253.

Which was referred to the Committee on County Government.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from a citizen of Zieglerville, Pa., protesting against the passage of House Bill No. 213.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 42, on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the eighteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 840), entitled "An act concerning declaratory judgments and decrees, and to make uniform the law relating thereto," prescribing the practice to be pursued in such proceedings.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the motion,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill, Senate Bill No. 42, together with Senate Bill No. 41, which has just been passed, enlarges the scope of declaratory judgments, with the right to the Court to entertain questions disposing of them. Senate Bill No. 42 provides the methods by which these questions shall be raised. Last night I raised the question in regard to this bill, and I should like to restate it.

In Section 2, Clause (b), of this bill it is provided that petitions for declaratory judgments may be served by any adult person, not by a properly deputized sheriff.

Section 3 provides that after it has been served, if no answer has been filed, an affidavit of service may be filed by the adult person, the facts averred in the petition shall be taken as admitted, and the Court may enter an appropriate declaratory judgment or decree.

This is the first legal proceeding that I know of where a judgment may be entered by default on a service, not made through the regular channels of the Court. It was stated last night that this bill was drawn by ex-Chief Justice von Moschzisker. I do not question his ability to draw bills, but this is a question of policy, and I do not believe that we want to permit judgments to be entered in the same manner as they are entered in certain other jurisdictions, where any office man, or some person employed by a member of the Bar, may serve a petition on a person and have judgment entered by default, without our right to look to any proper court officer, as we have in the case of the sheriff, for redress in the event of improper service. For that reason I made the suggestion yesterday which I make again today, that this bill be recommitted to the committee for the purpose of correcting that provision of the bill, and provide for the service by a sheriff in the regular manner.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I do not object to this going back, but the argument is both ridiculous and foolish. This is the customary way of carrying on legal procedure in serving papers of this kind. If Mr. Shapiro wants to make more business for the Sheriff of Philadelphia, and add more cost to the people in legal proceedings, I am willing that this bill go back. There is no reason for it to go back except to make additional costs and make more business for the sheriff of Philadelphia. This is the absolute method by which all such proceedings have been carried on from time immemorial.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, in the absence of the sponsor, I ask that Senate Bill No. 149 on third reading entitled

An Act authorizing the selection of two additional juror in civil and criminal cases to take the place of any juro or jurors becoming incapacitated.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hear none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 175, entitled:

An Act to amend section sixty-nine of the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Act No. 203), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," providing for the taking over of county and township bridges, viaducts and structures on such State highways, and for their construction, reconstruction and maintenance by the Commonwealth.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PRINCE, from the Committee on Federal Relations reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 286, entitled:

An Act to amend section one as amended of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorded in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," by imposing tax upon obligations of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and certain other Federal agencies.

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. NORTON, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 153, entitled:

An Act to further amend section five hundred and thirty-one of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 681), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by classifying foreign mutual fire, mutual marine, or mutual fire and marine companies for the purpose of licensing and relicensing and providing the requirements for licensing and relicensing.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO, from the Committee on Corporations reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 89, entitled:

An Act to validate acts done and contracts, conveyances, transfers, and mortgages of property made, to or by any corporation of the first class, created or intended to be created by decree of the courts of common pleas, granting a charter, where the applicants for incorporation had failed to register its proposed name as required by law; and to validate charters of corporations of the first class, granted since the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, where there was a failure to register the name of the proposed corporation at the time of filing its application for a charter as required by law; providing for the subsequent filing of such registration; and providing for the amendment of names or titles of such corporations in certain cases.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LAW, from the Committee on Federal Relations reported as committed, the following Resolution:

In the House of Representatives, January 21, 1935.

Whereas In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation and

Whereas Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation and

Whereas The belief prevails that river transportation is not subject to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads and

Whereas Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States and

Whereas River transportation is in most instances a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly memorialize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions reported from Committee shall lie on table be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RECESS

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 4:30 this afternoon.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 20

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 19, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 20, Printer's No. 2, entitled, "An Act authorizing the adjournment and readjournment of any county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands to be held in the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six validating any action in adjourning or readjourning tax sales taken prior to the effective date of this act and preserving the lien of all taxes on lands to be sold at such sales."

GEORGE H. EARLE.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am instructed by the Committee on Federal Relations to report as amended, the following Resolution:

In the Senate, February 18th, 1935.

The taxing of fuel used in the operation of motor vehicles has, from its earliest inception, been considered justified because of the dedication of the funds arising therefrom to the construction and maintenance of modern, smooth surfaced highways, especially enjoyed by those who are called upon to pay the tax.

Fourteen States of this Union already have petitioned their Senators and Representatives in Congress in an effort to bring about an abolition of the Federal tax on motor vehicle fuels, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact appropriate Federal legislation to forthwith abolish the Federal tax of one cent per gallon on motor vehicle fuels.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this Senate.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. Under the rules of the Senate the resolution will lie on the table.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO SECOND INTERSTATE ASSEMBLY OF AMERICAN LEGISLATIVE ASSOCIATION AND APPOINTMENT OF DELEGATES

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUPP offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, February 19, 1935.

Whereas, The Second Interstate Assembly has been called by the Council of State Governments and the American Legislators' Association, to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 28, and March 1, 2, 1935, at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C., to consider Federal and State tax policies on the basis of the recommendations submitted by the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation, which was established two years ago by the First Assembly; and

Whereas, It is apparent that substantial benefits would result from closer contacts between the legislative and administrative divisions of the various State governments, and that many governmental difficulties are aggravated by the absence of adequate facilities for conference between these bodies; and

Whereas, The present economic emergency creates an imperative necessity, now emphasized by the President's Program of Economic Security, for joint council and concerted action; and

Whereas, It is believed that the moment has now arrived for establishing adequate means for communication and conference between the States and the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The Senate of this State is invited to send delegates to this conference; therefore be it

Resolved, That two Members of the Senate, appointed by the President Pro Tempore, be authorized to attend the Interstate Assembly which convenes in Washington, D. C., on February 28, 1935, as delegates of this Senate. Such delegates shall be without power to commit the Senate to action;

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Senate immediately advise the corresponding secretary of the Convention in care of the American Legislators' Association, Drexel Avenue and 58th Street, Chicago, Illinois, of the appointment of such delegates.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President Pro Tempore, the appointment of the following committees: Interstate Cooperation Committee, Messrs. Woodward, Chairman, Buckman, Harris, Baumer and Rupp; Special Committee to Inquire Into Tuberculosis Sanatoria, Messrs. Rankin, Chairman, Hunsicker, Owlett, Baumer and Norton.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:43 P. M. until tomorrow morning, February 20, 1935, at 9:30 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, February 19, 1935

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Marshall L. Shepard a member of the House offered the following prayer:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy watchful care during the past night, that we are able to come here to this place with a reasonable portion of health and strength. We pray Thy blessings upon us, and help us, Heavenly Father, in the work that is now before us. We realize that our strength is too meagre and our wisdom is too little, but as we face the problems of this session, may we be abundantly supplied with Thy grace and Thy wisdom, that we might seek justice, that we might seek to do the will of God and be faithful servants of the people of this Commonwealth. Guide us and direct us and may we realize Thy presence, and ever lift our eyes to the hills of God, from whence comes our strength.

These and all other blessings, we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord, and for His sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. William G. Smith the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DENNING. RESOLUTION No. 54.

In the House of Representatives, February 18th, 1935.

Whereas, the present economic depression has continued too long, and apparently the remedies thus far applied, have been unsuccessful, and have only resulted in burdening the people with a tremendous debt and imposing upon them the duty of laboring hard to pay interest, and many promised remedies have not been tried, and

Whereas, the increased burden of interest and unemployment relief expenditures, require new and additional taxation, and the subject of taxation and banking have been most carefully studied by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Royal Oak, Michigan, and it is believed that the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin can give to the officials and the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, many valuable suggestions,

Therefore, be it Resolved, that the House of Representatives cordially invite the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin to address it on some Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, as best suits his personal convenience, and that the Speaker of this House forward to Rev. Charles E. Coughlin a cordial invitation.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. McCREARY (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 55.

In the House of Representatives, February 18th, 1935.

Whereas, it is necessary for the Governor of the Commonwealth to appoint boards and commissions to conduct, supervise, or operate different agencies of government, and

Whereas, It frequently happens that because of careless, indifferent and inefficient management of State affairs by such boards or commissions, a public investigation is demanded, and

Whereas, The choice of an appointment of the members of the investigating committee causes great political turmoil and delay; and

Whereas, The securing of appropriations to finance the cost of such investigations also causes acriminous debate, political turmoil and delay, and

Whereas, The time lost in making all these arrangements for an investigation, allows the waste, extravagance and mismanagement in the State agency to continue to the great loss of the taxpayers of the Commonwealth therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Governor of the Commonwealth be and is hereby requested to make it a rule that hereafter, whenever he appoints the members of a board or commission to conduct, supervise or operate a State agency, of this Commonwealth, that he will at the same time appoint an investigating committtee of three members, two from the majority party and one from the minority party, who shall hold themselves in readiness at all times, day or night, to answer a call to start an investigation, and be it further

Resolved, That the Appropriation Committee of the House be requested to insert in the General Appropriation Bill an item of $5,000 to be for the use of any investigating committee appointed by the Governor pursuant to this resolution, and be it further

Resolved, That the investigating committee be required to give full and complete publicity to all of its findings.

By Mr. WELLIVER. RESOLUTION No. 56.

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, The Legislature has been in session one month and a half, and has not placed on the Governor's desk a single measure for his consideration, and

Whereas, This failure to do anything constructive so far, is the result of short sessions held each week, which failed to hold members at the capitol sufficiently long to hold committee meetings for the consideration of legislation referred to committees, and

Whereas, It is in the interest of economy to speed the legislative session and adjourn at the earliest possible date, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Members of the House of Representatives that the House should meet in sessions each week commencing Monday evening, at 9 P. M. and continuing until Friday evening.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. SHEPARD. RESOLUTION No. 57.

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, Organizations of colored citizens are endeavoring to have the Postmaster General of the United States issue an emancipation progress stamp commemorating the progress of the colored people of the United States since their emancipation January first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania commend the efforts of the colored citizens of this country in their endeavor to have an emancipation progress stamp issued as an evidence of the progress of the colored people of the United States since the date when their liberties were granted and full citizenship accorded to them.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary Local.

By Mr. SCHWARTZ. RESOLUTION No. 58.

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, In response to the suggestion of his Excellency, the Governor, this body did on January thirtieth adopt a resolution creating a committee to investigate the operation of the liquor store system; and

Whereas, The Speaker of the House in the performance of his duties under the resolution appointed a committee consisting of seven members of the House, all of whom are lawyers; and

Whereas, House Bill No. 759 provides for an appropriation to said committee to enable it to hire lawyers to assist the lawyers of the committee in making said investigation; and

Whereas, Members of this House who are not learned in the law, while not so competent and expert in liquor matters as lawyers, are nevertheless as deeply interested; and

Whereas, The subjects within the scope of the legal investigating committee are matters of business rather than law; and

Whereas, The members of this House not learned in the law desire business conclusions and findings, and wish to be assured of such findings in order to guide them in the handling of the matter therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of seven Members of the House of Representatives, not learned in the law but with business training, whose duty it shall be to make a rigid investigation of the investigation of the investigating committee created under the provisions of Resolution No. 40, Serial No. 49, to the end that the results of the investigations, conducted by the original investigating committee may by such re-investigation be deleted of legal terms and varieties, and whatever findings and facts of a business nature produced by the investigation be brought to light; and, be it further

Resolved, That the committee appointed pursuant to the provisions of this resolution shall have equal powers with the committee created under the provisions of Resolution No. 40, Serial No. 49, including the right to associate with it a number of business men to aid in its investigation equal to the number of lawyers the original investigation committee of lawyers shall require for assistance.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. HALUSKA. RESOLUTION No. 59.

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, Dissatisfaction with the administration of direct and work relief is widespread in the County of Cambria, allegations are made that the Cambria County Emergency Relief Board and the United States Employment Bureau, and other agencies dealing with relief, are not using their powers consistent with the best interests of those in need, the misery is widespread; that improper and incompetent personnel is being employed; that political activity is being indulged in and aid granted on a political basis; that discrimination on account of race, creed and color is practiced; and that husbands and wives are both employed or one employed when the other has employment elsewhere; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five members of the House, whose duty it shall be to thoroughly and impartially investigate the Cambria County Emergency Relief Board and the United States Employment Bureau in said county, or any other governmental agency dealing with relief, and the personnel thereof, with a view of determining whether the allegations set forth in the preamble hereof are true, and to make report thereof to the House of Representatives as early as possible;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That said committee shall have the further right and authority to issue a requisition to the aforesaid board, bureau, or agency for such stenographic help or service as it may deem necessary under the circumstances, in the taking of testimony and the conduct of hearings, etc.

NAYS—4

Allen,	Altenburg,	Blumberg,	Peters,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 208, entitled:

An Act to protect the lives and secure the safety and health of the people by making it unlawful to evict persons from dwellings or levy upon and sell necessary household goods under certain conditions requiring notice of intent to serve any writ of distress for rent writ of possession or execution to be served on occupant of dwelling authorizing courts of common pleas to grant injunctions against the service of such writs and in such cases to suspend payment by owner of premises of interest on liens and to release such owner of liability for payment of certain taxes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the fact that quite a number of the members of the House have spoken to me about this bill and indicated that they did not fully understand some of its provisions, I thought that I should make just a brief statement of its purpose.

Several members have not noticed the very first part of section one. They have felt that section one, postively forbiding evictions, would prevent them, regardless of what was said in the following sections. If you will read the very beginning you will note that it starts out "Subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth," which ties this otherwise blank prohibition with the rest of the bill.

It provides briefly that before any writ of eviction or of execution to sell household furniture which is in use by a family that is unemployed shall be served, five days notice must be given to the defendant, and that within that five days the defendant can petition the Court of Common Pleas, setting forth his condition and asking for a stay, and that the Court, after a hearing, can either stay or refuse to stay the writ as they may determine. The matter is entirely within the discretion of the Court of Common Pleas Judge who hears the petition.

This measure is necessary because at the present time tenants are being thrown out on the sidewalks. I know that in our particular district they have been taking them to the Stewart's quarters in the poorhouse. Children are taken out of school and kept there for several weeks until the Poor Board can induce some more or less gullible landlord to take them in. When you are on relief the Relief Boards in most cases openly advise the tenants not to pay the rent. The landlord has very little choice but to throw them out. If this bill is passed, I submit to you that the landlords are going to join with the tenants who are unemployed in demanding rent relief, which we should have had years ago but which we have had very little of as yet in Pennsylvania. Shelter is almost as important as food. We should have rent relief as well as food relief. If we put this measure on the books I am very sure the landlords are going to say "If you are not going to let us put the tenants out, you at least have got to pay some rent in order that we may pay our taxes and interest and so forth." You will then get rent relief which we should have had long ago. As long as you leave the burden entirely on the unemployed, unfortunately the landlords seem to feel that they prefer to put the tenants out and not join with them in a demand for rent relief.

You have passed measures relieving owners of houses, permitting the Courts to stay Sheriff's sales under conditions such as this measure will take care of for tenants. The same bill with very little changes, which did not alter its purpose in any way, passed the House two years ago. This measure is in accord with the steps that we are taking to protect those who have been adversely affected by the depression. This will protect a class which needs that protection more than any other group at the present time.

It is endorsed by unemployed organizations throughout the state and also by many of the groups who have studied the very unfortunate situation existing with regard to tenants at the present time.

I therefore ask the members of this House to vote Aye on this measure.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Berks?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Berks what happens in the event that the person in possession of the property does not file a petition.

Mr. HOOPES. The plaintiff in the writ will go ahead just the same and continue that writ.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is there anything in the act which says so?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, the bill itself does not specifically say so but it very definitely infers so. Somebody suggested that to me this morning. The bill was in the House two years ago, was gone over very carefully by a sub-committee of the Judiciary General Committee, who virtually rewrote the bill and that particular point was never raised. I don't think there is any doubt about it. All the bill provides is that they shall have five days in which to petition the Court and if they fail to do it the landlord on the writ proceeds, as he has given notice that he would do.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN THE SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 21, 1935.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memorialize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States

RESOLUTION NO. 50

Mr. SIMON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 50, Printer's No. 89.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Resolved, That a select committee on Interstate Cooperation be appointed by the Speaker, whose duty it shall be to devote its attention primarily to the improvement of relationships between the Government of this State and those of other states, and more especially the governments of neighboring states, and which committee shall also constitute the Council of the American Legislators' Association for the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

ANNOUNCEMENT

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The Committee on Municipal Corporations will meet in Room 325, Wednesday, February 20, at 9:00 A. M.

The Committee on Pensions and Gratuities will meet at 9:30 tomorrow morning in Room 324.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. ARNOLD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4.29 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until Wednesday, February 20, 1935, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1935 No. 18

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, February 20, 1935.

The Senate met at 9:30 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

The CHAPLAIN. This morning, as we stand on the threshold of the observance of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, I think it fitting to read, instead of a prayer written by myself, the prayer of George Washington for the United States.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection; that Thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large.

And finally that Thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility and pacific temper of mind which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion and without an humble imitation of Whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation.

Grant our supplication, we beseech Thee, through Jesus Christ, our Lord."

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. GELDER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS

PROTESTING AGAINST HOUSE BILL NO. 1

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate petition from the Unity United Presbyterian Church, Unity, protesting against House Bill No. 1.

Which was referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

PROTESTING AGAINST AN INCREASE IN THE GASOLINE TAX

He also presented a petition from F. H. Schultz and Sons Company, Auburn, protesting against further increasing the tax on gasoline.

Which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a matter of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the history of our nation records that the land we now inhabit was for a long time the heritage and hunting grounds of red-skinned men who with their bows and arrows, tomahawks and spears ruled over it for many years. But, Mr. President, as he sat in the shelter of his wigwam at the fall of day, or as he crawled through the virgin forest on the trail of game, little did the red-skinned man dream that out of the flame of the morning sun white-faced men would come to dispute with him his wigwam and bury beneath plough furrows, his natural hunting grounds. While the destiny of the red-skinned man moved on, Mr. President, guided by the hand of omnipotent God, girded with the confidence of an indomitable spirit, white-faced men traversed the perilous main and with the implements of a higher civilization, subdued the red-skinned men and claimed dominion over his mighty lands.

Mr. President, as years rolled on, Nordic, Latin, Slavic, Jew and others pursued the trail of the discoverers to take up on the shores of the new continent that freedom of thought, of speech and of religion that had subjected them and their loved ones to persecution, death and dungeon on the shores of intolerant Europe.

Mr. President, year after year, Almighty God caused the richness and virtues of Nordic, Latin, Slavic, Jewish and other bloods to be poured into this mortal urn of life and then called forth therefrom a new man endowed with the purity and nobility of them all to be the acme and excelsior of that manhood; and to distinguish him to all the universe, they called this land America and him the American.

In his early colonial days, little did the American dream that out of the flame of the same morning sun, the arms of ambitious kings would span the same perilous main and enthrone upon these shores the tenets of intolerance.

However, Mr. President, such was the fact, when two centuries and three years ago God willed there be born in the Colony of Virginia on the shores of this new land, a man-child destined to be the leader of all Americans and at their head dethrone the sway of intolerant kings and establish on these shores in lieu thereof, a government that regards neither creed nor birth, but ordains for all an untrammeled freedom of thought, of speech and of religion to the end that life and substance may be enjoyed to the maximum.

Mr. President, I note that colored upon the wall of this august chamber, the prolific painter has sketched the militant patriot riding a snowy white horse up a cobbled street in the City of Brotherly Love. His head is erect, his eyes are front—to Brandywine, to Germantown, and then on the snows of Valley Forge his comrades' blood they shall behold ere bloody war shall ended be with the capture of Cornwallis at the seige and fall of Yorktown.

Then, the hand of time moved shortly on, the battle cry had silent gone, and further on the painter sketched the triumphant patriot at the rostrum up in speech and with his gathered living comrades is about to write in ink, the blessings of that freedom on history's golden tone. No partisan thought beclouds his mind. No vain ambitions obscure his eyes. His hand uplifted in reverence held, he stands with countenance poised, as if to say: "Hope not to satisfy our ambitions and desires at the expense of this new-won freedom. Men have died to gain it for us. Cast aside our crude ambitions, subjugate our wild desires, and pledged upon our sacred honor, let us muster up our efforts to deliberate this freedom for the advantage of the people and the progress of this new-born nation."

Mr. President, no tribute more fitting can this august body pay to the memory of George Washington on this his natal anniversary than to dedicate our efforts and intentions to the realization of that freedom so dear to his heart; and to now highly resolve that partisanship, crude ambitions and personal desires be subjugated to the end that appropriate legislation may be enacted for the utilization of that freedom to the advantage of our people and the progress of this Commonwealth.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives as follows:

House Bill No. 547 (Senate Bill No. 332), entitled:

An Act to amend clause one of section three of the act, approved the eighteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, (P. L. 1043), entitled "School Employes Retirement Law," as amended, by extending the time for a present employe, as defined in the act, to elect to be covered by the Retirement System; and providing for the making of back contributions.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LAW read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 333, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Act No. 203), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures, located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," establishing an additional route in the County of Crawford.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 9.57 A. M. until 9 o'clock Monday evening, February 25, 1935.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 20, 1935.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Frank W. Ruth, a member of the House, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God, our strength and Redeemer, as we come to Thee this morning realizing again the wonderful goodness Thou hast for us, realizing that Thou hast given us opportunities and privileges, give to us the strength and wisdom to carry them out. We pray that Thou will be with us on our way home that we may also do Thy will and return again the coming week refreshed and determined to do what Thou dost want us to do. We ask Thee to bless each one of those of our membership on beds of pain. We pray that Thou will speedily give them recovery and bring them back to us in strength and health and keep them in that condition that they may do Thy work and the work of Thy people. We ask it in the Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read of the Journal of yesterday.

By Mr. EBERHARTER. RESOLUTION No. 61.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1935.

Whereas, there has been much criticism directed against the Board of Trustees and those in charge of the University of Pittsburgh, a state-aided educational institution, to the effect that their policies are such that they tend to deny academic freedom; and

Whereas, it is alleged that the attitude of these Authorities toward members of the faculty and student-body who hold liberal views, is antagonistic; and

Whereas, it has been charged that these Authorities have followed a policy tending to discourage freedom of thought and speech on the subject of economic philosophy; and

Whereas, it has been alleged that these Authorities have placed restrictions upon the members of the faculty and student-body, which restrictions practically constitute political partisanship; and

Whereas, it is estimated that approximately one-half of the operating expenses of the said University are contributed by the Comonwealth of Pennsylvania by appropriation of public funds; and

Whereas, the Board of Trustees of said University is a self-perpetuating body, on which body the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has only a nominal representation; and

Whereas, it is admitted by all that this institution of learning exerts a tremendous influence upon the thought and lives of the student-body, as well as upon the people of the community and of the state; and

Whereas, there has been created in the public mind, by reason of this criticism and these charges, a serious doubt as to the wisdom of continuing the policy of making large appropriations of public funds to this institution; therefore be it

Resolved, that the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint five members of this House who are members of the Committee on Appropriations, whose duty it shall be to fully, fairly and impartially inquire into and investigate the attitude of the Board of Trustees and those in charge of the University of Pittsburgh toward members of the faculty and student-body who, both inside and outside the class-rooms, advocate liberal views and freedom of thought and expression in the subjects of economics and politics and other subjects wherein academic freedom should be allowed; and further, to inquire into and investigate all matters touching the said University of Pittsburgh which are pertinent to the question of making an appropriation of public funds, and to ascertain whether or not said institution is worthy of receiving further large appropriations of public funds;

Resolved, that said Committee shall make a report of its findings to the Committee on Appropriations as early as possible.

Resolved, that the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said Committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Referred ot the Committee on Appropriations.

By Mr. SCHROPE. RESOLUTION No. 62.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1935.

Whereas, The press recently carried a report that a Committee of Anthracite Mine Operators had conferred with the Governor to induce him to stop the mining and selling of so-called "Boot-leg Coal"; and

Whereas, The same article stated that there was being mined and placed on the market approximately 3,000,000 tons annually, or at the rate of 10,000 tons per day; and

Whereas, The average person engaged in mining this "Boot-leg Coal" is able to produce about one ton of coal per day, thus were these men compelled to cease mining coal, it would throw 10,000 men out of employment and add a like number to the State relief rolls; and

Whereas, Practically all "Boot-leg Coal" is taken from places that were formerly mined by the coal companies and these same companies have deemed its unprofitable to mine the coal that remains in many of these workings; and

Whereas, Most of the mines and colleries in the territory where "Boot-leg Coal" is at present being mined have been closed for a period of five years and longer and the men engaged in this hazardous work are honest, thrifty and progressive and at all times prefer employment to relief; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives believe that the proper way to overcome the present mining and marketing of "Bootleg Coal" is to equalize work throughout the anthracite coal fields and to cease the present policy of centralizing the mining industry in certain communities which has resulted in the closing of mines in other communities, depriving the workers in such communities of any opportunity for honest employment.

By Messrs. PHILLIPS and O'NEILL (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 63.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1935.

Whereas, The Board of Trustees of the Scranton State Hospital on January twenty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, adopted a resolution limiting the average daily census of said hospital to between one hundred and forty and one hundred and fifty per day in order to avoid incurring a deficiency in its appropriation for maintenance; and

Whereas, Said action means untold hardship to the community in which said hospital is located, and denies medical aid to many who are in need; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Board of Trustees of the Scranton State Hospital is requested to immediately rescind its action in limiting the daily population of patients in said hospital, and the General Assembly declares it's intention to forthwith enact a law making a deficiency appropriation to said hospital in accordance with the estimated deficiency set forth in said resolution.

By Mr. SOWERS. RESOLUTION No. 64.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1935.

Whereas, The General Assembly in its wisdom established the system known as Mothers Assistance, and the same has been generally beneficial to the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The sum of about Thirty-five dollars per month is the average pension paid to widowed mothers for assistance to raise their children at home, and

Whereas, In Philadelphia there are about thirteen hundred and ninety-four widows with children receiving regular monthly allotments and there are about sixteen hunthere are about three thousand widows in Philadelphia dred and two widows equally qualified and on the eligible list and rightfully entitled to assistance and are not receiving the same because of lack of funds, and therefore there are about Three thousand widows in Philadelphia County alone needing assistance and this number may increase during the next biennium, and

Whereas, It is apparent that Philadelphia County for the next biennium will need approximately three million dollars of which ninety per cent will be paid to widows needing assistance and only ten per cent will be used for Administration purposes, and

Whereas, Half of this amount of three million dollars will be appropriated by the State and the other half will be appropriated by the City of Philadelphia, and

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia is greatly overburdened with taxation and it is believed that a similar condition exists in the other Counties of the State, and

Whereas, It is the duty of the General Assembly to provide funds for Mothers Assistance,

Now Therefore Be it Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee of five members of the House of Representatives whose duty it shall be to make an investigation of means and methods of raising the money necessary for the proper continuance of the Mothers Assistance and to recommend to the House what they believe to be proper to accomplish these results.

By Messrs. ARNOLD and MURRIN. RESOLUTION No. 65.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1935.

Whereas, Potato growers in this State are unable to market their crops due in large measure to the fact that stores at which relief orders are cashed, or that fill orders given by the State Emergency Relief Board or its agencies, or by Federal Emergency Relief Administration, or its agencies placing orders for the Civilian Conservation Corps deal mainly in potatoes grown in other states which are more closely graded; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania potatoes are the equal of those grown in other states, are readily available in local markets and their purchase avoids the necessity and expense of transportation; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania potato growers are entitled to their share of the business resulting from the expenditure of Federal and State relief moneys; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives earnestly request the State Emergency Relif Board, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, and their agencies and Pennsylvania merchants to cooperate in an endeavor to arrange for the purchase of potatoes grown in the communities in which money is expended for relief in order to aid farmers in the various communities in disposing of their crops and thereby to secure sufficient moneys to pay for chattel mortgages on crops and to pay taxes,

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board and the Federal Emergency Relief Administration by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

REPLY OF PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION TO HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 21

The SPEAKER laid before the House the reply of the Public Service Commission to Resolution No. 21 which was read by the Clerk.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED TO HON. E. KENT KANE

Mr. FRANK E. SNYDER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1935.

We acknowledge with sorrow the news of the death yesterday of Elisha K. Kane, father of the Honorable E. Kent Kane, a member of this House.

Our feelings of sympathy to our fellow member are natural and spontaneous, but we in addition feel the loss ourselves, as Pennsylvanians, of one of the outstanding pioneers of this great Commonwealth.

Philadelphia-born seventy-eight years ago, he graduated as an engineer from Princeton University in the first class of engineers graduated by that institution in the year 1878.

He entered McKean County, a great portion of which was then primitive wilderness, as assistant to his father, General Kane, in the construction of the Erie, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads, and remained to see that wilderness become a garden spot with thousands of happy and prosperous residents, a miracle brought about in no small measure by his efforts, a pioneer in very truth.

He was a pioneer in other respects. He advocated, inspired, and was largely responsible for the establishment of systems for the distribution of natural gas, electricity and water in his community, when such utilities were little beyond the experimental stage, and he established the first telephone system in the county.

An industrialist for more than fifty years, he was a pioneer in the advocacy of the rights of labor and humanity in general, taking a firm stand for such measures as workmen's compensation, pensions for aged employes, Federal regulation of railroads and banks, women's suffrage, national prohibition income taxes, and the parole system for prisoners, long before such measures became popular. It is not surprising that the industrial projects of Elisha K. Kane never knew labor disturbances in the half century of his activities.

Man can do little to properly mark the passing of such a man, this body can do little except in this poor way express its sorrow and sense of loss; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its deepest sympathy to the Honorable E. Kent Kane in this time of sorrow.

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the Legislative Journal and a copy thereof be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to the Honorable E. Kent Kane.

RESOLUTION NO. 52

Mr. ROAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 52, Printer's No. 115.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation; and will provide relief for the holders thereof who are in dire need and distress because of the present unfortunate economic conditions; and will lighten immeasurably the burden which cities, counties and States are now required to carry for relief; and

Whereas, The payment of said certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the government; now, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That since the government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth recommends and urges the immediate cash payment at face value of the adjusted service certificates, with cancellation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, as a most effective means to that end; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives, be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Banking.

RESOLUTION NO. 41

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 41, Printer's No. 116.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 4, 1935.

Whereas, A study of the Power and Light business in the United States discloses the fact that the large power companies are charging exorbitant rates, and are making huge profits by watering their stocks out of all proportion to their true value; that they are distributing their profits among a large number of holding companies, with high salaried officials and interlocking directorates, and thereby evading the spirit of the law, and

Whereas, The studies made show that the Duquesne Light Company common stock is owned by the Philadelphia Company, which is controlled by the Standard Gas and Electric Company, which is controlled by the Standard Power and Light, which is controlled by the United States Electric Power Corporation, and by the H. M. Byllesby Corporation, with a claimed valuation of fifty-five million, made almost eleven million profit in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, or nineteen and four-tenths per centum, twenty-two and eight-tenths per centum in one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and twenty-two and nine-tenths per centum in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and

Whereas, The President of the United States has publicly declared that these practices must be discontinued, and has taken an active part in disclosing to his people the methods under which these companies have been operating, and

Whereas, Our President has been instrumental in providing his people with a "yardstick" by which they may judge electricity and power, and

Whereas, The Pittsburgh Press, in its issue of November twentieth, made public a comparison between the rates charged by the Duquesne Light Company and those shown by the "yardstick," and

Whereas, The Utility Commissioners of the United States, meeting in convention in Washington, D. C. on November fifteenth, publicly declared that the rates charged by the Utilities are at least twenty-five per centum too high all over the United States, and

Whereas, The President, on November thirteenth, handed to the Public Service Commission of every state a "big stick" with which to reduce rates on electricity. This consists of a formula worked out by the New York Power Authority by which the cost of distributing electric power —for years the unknown quantity in the utility business— can be quickly and accurately determined. Private companies have consistently refused to reveal the cost of getting electricity into the homes, and have shrouded it with mystery, but the commission has now made it public, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), The General Assembly, petition the members of the Public Service Commission and our Governor, to work together to bring about a reduction of thirty per centum of the rates of the Duquesne Light Company, for the citizens of Allegheny County.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in in this case dispensed with

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 253, as follows:

An Act providing for the collection of delinquent real estate taxes for years prior to one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five by installments and for a discount for prompt payment of such taxes Provided correct taxes are paid when due in all counties, cities, school districts, boroughs, townships, towns and poor districts.

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any person copartnership association or corporation charged with or having an interest in the payment of any taxes on real property in all counties cities school districts boroughs townships towns and poor districts which have become delinquent at or prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five may at any time within six months elect to pay the principal sum of such delinquent taxes as provided in this act anything in the permanent statutes of this Commonwealth to the contrary notwithstanding

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 6, by inserting after the word "cities" the following: except those of the first class.

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 7, by inserting before the word "boroughs" the following: except those of the first class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. FITCH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I for the life of me can't understand why Philadelphia continually wants special privileges. It seems to me from the large number of communications that I have received from my constituants in the city of Philadelphia that they are perfectly satisfied with House Bill No. 253. If I know anything about this subject, it has been the practice of certain members from Philadelphia to continually want a section of the State to themselves. So I hope the members of this Legislature will just do to Philadelphia what they are doing to the balance of the State.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is rather refreshing to hear my Democratic colleague from Philadelphia admit that he fails to understand why we are not satisfied with the law as it now stands, because if I recall the situation correctly both the Democratic committee of the city of Philadelphia and the State Democratic organization in their platform have gone on record as being decidedly in favor of home rule.

The conditions in Philadelphia vary greatly from those existing in other counties, particularly with regard to tax penalties and the delinquent tax situation. Those of you who are familiar with the fact may recall that in the session of 1933 the entire question of Philadelphia's financial situation was discussed on the floor of this House and resulted in the passage of what became known as the Salus Tax Abatement Bill. That bill has been in operation for two years and has done some good, but it did not go the full distance.

At the present time the delinquent taxes in Philadelphia amount to fifty million dollars and the entire financial stringency of the city is bound up in that statement.

It has been felt by the city authorities—not by individual members of the delegation, either Republican or Democratic—that Philadelphia ought not be compelled to come to each session of the legislature and ask for legislation which at that time is most appropriate in order to produce results.

It has been felt under the doctrine of home rule that the tax levying body of Philadelphia is most capable of deciding the best means to adopt to collect delinquent taxes.

May I say that in some sections of the State you may be required to abate both penalties and interest. In Philadelphia you may not be required to give up the interest. If you did in Philadelphia you would have the situation of the trust companies making Philadelphia their banking institution. Most of the taxes in Philadelphia are due by the trust companies and large realty holding corporations, and it has been impossible to get them to pay their taxes. They take over these properties either under their mortgage or under some existing arrangement with the owner. They collect the rent, they pay themselves the interest and pay nothing to the city of Philadelphia which supplies protection, police protection, the sanitation privileges and all of the other things that Philadelphia must supply to its real estate without being able to get any return.

We do not have any objection to the passage of Bill 253 so far as it applies to the rest of the State, but we do believe that our tax levying body is most capable of passing ordinances to effect the greatest result in the collection of delinquent taxes. What is the objection to giving cities of the first class the right to collect their delinquent taxes? It effects no other county.

This bill has the approval in principle, plus the amendment which I have offered, of our city authorities. I can see no reason why the rest of this House should object to permitting the Councils of the city of Philadelphia to pass ordinances as they see fit instead of being compelled to come here each two years asking for a different law. There is in Committee House Bill 148 introduced by my colleague, Mr. Witkin, which contains the provision that the city councils of cities of the first class shall have the right to pass tax abatement legislation. For that reason, members of the House, I am going to ask you to vote in favor of the amendment.

Mr. FITCH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I live in a residential section. I have received probably one hundred fifty telegrams and messages, not from trusts or from big corporations but from property owners, and they have advised me that they were perfectly satisfied with House Bill No. 253 as it stood and they have stated to me that they have put their sanction on this bill. I question the remarks of the previous speaker in reference to the attitude of the officials of the city of Philadelphia. I wish to say that we are supposed to listen not only to the officials but to our constituents, who after all, are the people we are trying best to suit.

It is true that the city of Philadelphia does have a lot of unpaid taxes. It is true also that these big trusts and corporations owe taxes, but it looks to me that it would be better for the city of Philadelphia to receive the money under House Bill 253 than running the chance on another bill which is not satisfactory to a great many of the little property owners.

So I ask you again, members of this House, to do for the little fellow in Philadelphia the same as they are trying to do for the little fellow throughout the state.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the General Assembly, I also am from the city of Philadelphia and for that very reason I do not wish the city of Philadelphia to fail to get the benefits of a bill of the type of No. 253. Bill No. 253 was not drawn up in a short time, but that bill was drawn up very carefully to meet a specific need. The bill also for that very purpose was made comprehensive enough to include the whole state, and also was made very specific in its provisions of payment. I think that the people of Philadelphia, and especially the home owners, are entitled to any benefits which may be received from the enactment of Bill No. 253 into law. If I thought for a moment that the exemption of Philadelphia would be to the benefit or to the interest or be the will of the taxpayers of Philadelphia, I would be the first to ask for such an amendment, but that is not so.

As my colleague, Mr. Fitch, has stated all the solicitation which we have received has been in favor of this bill. All the entreaties that we have received from the taxpayers of the city of Philadelphia have been to enact it into law as soon as possible.

Philadelphia does not want exemption from any bill, state-wide bill, unless it is to her interest to have such exemption. Philadelphia wishes to cooperate with the State of Pennsylvania wherever possible and where it is not detrimental to her own interests. Philadelphia puts itself in that spirit of cooperation not only for its own citizens but also for the citizenry of the whole state.

Philadelphia taxpayers do not want exemption on this bill. Philadelphia taxpayers, on the contrary, are fearful of such exemption.

The gentleman from Philadelphia mentions House Bill 148 as being specifically for Philadelphia. That is just what we are fearful of. Bill No. 148 not only gives Councils the full owner to abate in whole or in part penalties and interests on delinquent taxes but also gives that council the power to exact more penalties on the taxpayer if they see fit.

Bill No. 253 provides a comprehensive plan whereby the big man can pay his taxes in a certain period and get a full remittur on all of his interest and penalties. It also provides for a plan of five payments over a period of five years, whereby the small home owner can get an abatement in whole or in part of his taxes, whereby he may get an abatement of any number or part of a year of his taxes. Bill No. 253 is a good thing for the townships and the boroughs, the second and third, the two A-class cities, the second class cities; it is also a good thing for Philadelphia. The taxpayer in the city of Pittsburgh is interested in this bill because it is for his benefit and the taxpayers of Philadelphia have also shown that they are interested in the enactment of this bill, because it is also for the benefit of taxpayers and home owners of the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to appose the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

House Bill No. 253 has the endorsement of practically every real estate board in the State of Pennsylvania. Its provisions are very liberal. House Bill No. 253 connotes the idea that we are not to come here every two years and abate the penalties. It is offering a suggested and permanent arrangement, and if I am to infer that the delegation from Philadelphia would support Bill No. 148, I ask you to oppose the amendment of Mr. Blumberg, because Bill No. 148 is not very specific and it lends itself readily to a manipulation that none of us could possibly tolerate.

I, therefore, ask you to oppose the amendment from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot claim, like one of my colleagues who just spoke, that I have the exclusive right to speak for the taxpayers of Philadelphia, but I do claim that those who have the responsibility in Philadelphia of collecting these delinquent taxes are in favor of this amendment; that a majority of the duly elected Republicans in this House from Philadelphia are in favor of this amendment.

I do not whether my friends on the other side of the House have misconstrued my original statements as to House Bill 253. We do not oppose benefits that will accrue to delinquent taxpayers of the state that must come from this bill. What we do say is that Philadelphia conditions are peculiar and require peculiar treatment and require treatment by experts in Philadelphia who watch the changing conditions of time and who know the best means to get the best results.

This bill is not permanent; the session of 1937 may pass another abatement bill which will change the whole situation. The purpose of this bill is to afford home rule in a distinctly home rule manner.

I cannot understand the inconsistency of the previous speaker who asks that we cut Philadelphia in this bill and who is obviously against home rule, when on the third reading bills he sponsored two measures relating peculiarly to the city of Philadelphia; first for the appointment of County detectives, of commissions and of inspectors of weights and measures. Now, if he is in favor of that legislation, I cannot understand his opposition to the right of the city of Philadelphia to pass tax abatement ordinances.

I ask you to support the amendments.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we of the backwoods are inclined to believe that Philadelphia is a part of Pennsylvania, and we are likewise inclined to believe in the principle of home rule. We of the backwoods believe that we are likewise capable of taking care of our delinquent taxes, but since taxes are collected under State law, we believe that any restrictions placed upon those coollections of state taxes should likewise be applicable to the city of Philadelphia, as well as to the outlying counties.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKINS and Mr. BLUMBERG and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the Section?
It was agreed to.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, in view of the vote on that amendment and in the interest of saving time, I withdraw the balance of my amendments.

The Second Section was read as follows:

Section 2 If within the time mentioned in section one of this act such person copartnership association or corporation tenders to any person or persons authorized to receive taxes in any or all counties cities school districts boroughs townships towns and poor districts as the case may be a sum equal to one hundred per centum of the principal sum of such taxes so delinquent less penalties and interest such receivers of taxes are hereby authorized and required to receive such amount in full payment of all such taxes penalties and interest Upon receiving such amount the receiver of taxes or tax collector as the case may be shall give to the person copartnership association or corporation making such tender a receipt in full for all taxes penalties and interest for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and any year prior thereto Such payment shall operate as a remitter of the difference between the sum so received and the aggregate amounts charged on the tax duplicate or on the delinquent real estate tax list or such other records pertaining to such delinquent taxes and shall be so treated in the settlement of the accounts of such receiver of taxes

On the question,
Will the House agreed to the section?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 11, by inserting after the word "delinquent" the following: "together with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum from the date such taxes became delinquent to the date of actual payment thereof"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 12, by inserting after the word "less" the words: "all other"

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. PEARSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as the sponsor of this bill I rise to oppose the amendments of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside. It seems to me that the gentleman is not familiar with the provisions of this bill, because this amendment would completely destroy the original intent and purpose of the bill.

I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is the purpose of these amendments to change this bill from an unfair measure to a measure of true relief. There are a lot of crimes committed in the name of relief and in my opinion this bill, without this amendment, is one of them.

The members can see just exactly what would happen with my amendment and what would happen without it. If a person owes taxes in 1930, that is, his 1930 taxes are not paid—let us suppose he owes $100 worth to a borough, —Some other person has paid, maybe borrowed the money to pay his $100 worth of taxes. In 1935 he has $130 invested in that tax, because he has paid his $100 and he has paid his $30.00 to his bank or somebody else in order that he could pay his taxes in 1930. What happens to the other $100 that was not paid by the other man? The borough or township or the school district or the city or the county or the poor board went out to the banker and they borrowed $100 in order that this government might continue to run, and what are they doing? They are paying five per cent or six per cent on their money and up to this date they have paid on the $100 an average of $25.00. That $25.00 must be met by somebody and who are you going to put it on? Why, you are going to turn around and put it on the man who went out to borrow the money to pay it. He may have had to scrape and save to get the money that he could pay his taxes. I know these are hard times. Fifty-eight per cent of this amount is now due in city and certain other taxes and then, too they had to add the 1930 taxes. This bill would be a very fine bill to reduce the amount which should be paid by these people in these times, but it is not fair to our constituents, it is not fair to the people that paid their taxes, it is not fair to the people who didn't pay their taxes for this bill to be passed without having provisions for interest. It does not give any district, any school board, anybody in the whole state, any municipality or any subdivision of it any opportunity to decide the problem for themselves. There is no variation. The bill is binding, and what is more—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. PEARSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. PEARSON. The gentleman from Dauphin is discussing the bill and not the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the remarks relevant to the amendment and the gentleman from Dauphin will proceed.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, there is another reason why this amendment should be adopted, and that is the provision in the bill that up until 1939 they can come in and pay 1930 taxes without one cent of interest. If this would only be for the protection of some poor, unfortunate unemployed who own their own homes and who are having a hard time to pay that home, maybe we could overlook this provision and permit this bill to be passed without these amendments, but, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is not one for the protection of those people. This bill is to permit these trust companies to which Mr. Blumberg referred, permit those people who have speculated in real estate and own lots of it expecting to make a lot of money out of it, this bill is to permit large corporations who own large properties to come in in 1935 and say, "Oh, no we will not pay our share of the taxes. We will pay our share of the taxes that we had back in 1930, we will enter into agreements, we will pay those taxes up until 1939 without one cent of interest." Then what is going to happen to the municipalities; what is going to happen to those governments? They have got to meet that money; they have borrowed money and they are not going to get enough money to pay back what they borrowed. They have got to come back to the people and tax real estate. You are not relieving anybody; you are just shifting the burden from those who didn't pay to those who did pay. The expenses have to be met, and in many of the districts I submit to you—sit down and take your figures—in many districts this bill is going to result in increased taxation. They are going to add another mill on your real estate tax in a good many districts.

I took the district of Millersburg and went over the list of people who owe taxes, and in very few instances do you find that it is the poor home owner. It is the large interests, the big club houses, organizations of that type. It is not the small home owner you are protecting in this, it is the big interests as well whom you are protecting to go ahead and pay their 1930 taxes up to 1939 without a cent of interest. You are going to make your poor home owners, you are going to make your widows, you are going to make these people who are struggling along to meet their bills, you are going to make them pay this bill. I submit, members, this should not be a partisan measure. I submit each one of you should vote on this measure according to your conscience, according to what you know is right, and I submit everyone of you know that this measure as it is now is not right, but if this amendment is adopted this will be a good law. It will be relief of the type that we should have. I submit that the Democratic party, prominent members of it within this House, if I have been informed correctly, have very recently made public statements to the school authorities that they oppose this type of legislation. It does not encourage the payment of taxes to a great extent to wipe out all of this, to make them come in within six months, particularly when you permit them to pay up to 1939.

I took the list from my own community. We have between 40 and 60 widows who own real estate, their own homes. Many of those were returned to the County Commissioner for 1934. I went over the list. How many do you suppose there were who had not paid their taxes? There were only two. I submit it is not fair to the small home owner who has paid his taxes to permit this bill to go through without the amendment, and I appeal to all of you to vote not according to party, and I have nothing personal in this matter, I don't propose this amendment because the bill was introduced by a member on the other side of the House, and I don't want any Republicans on this side of the House to vote for it unless they are convinced that the amendment is right. I ask the Democrats in this House to vote for this amendment as they know it is right.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER declared the yeas appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, one hundred and twenty eight members or more than a majority having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section as amended?
It was agreed to.

The third section was read as follows:

They were agreed to,
On the question,
Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 6, page 6, line 24, by adding at the end of said line the following: "provided that the provisions of this act shall apply only to properties occupied for dwelling purposes by the owners thereof"

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I offered these amendments for the purpose of finding out whether or not the proponents of this measure are primarily interested in protecting the home owner who unquestionably have suffered through this depression or whether they want to help the trust companies, the real estate companies and other owners of real estate who have foreclosed with great speed throughout the depression, dispossed the owners thereof but didn't pay the taxes and are now going to receive if this bill is adopted without this amendment, a tremendous gift from every municipality in this state.

I do not know how it is in other districts, but I know that in the large cities and in Berks County we have had Sheriff's sales galore for the last three or four years. Instead of being a home owning people, we have largely become tenants by reason of foreclosures. Thousands of Sheriff's sales are being held every month throughout the state and home owners have been dispossed by the thousands during the past three or four years.

Now, if you pass this bill in the blanket form in which it now is you will hand a gift to these mortgagees who have foreclosed their mortgages, who haven't paid their taxes of hundreds of thousand of dollars. There has been a great deal of complaint about reducing the tax burden, the local taxes on real estate. That is all right, but you should not reduce it by penalizing the man who has paid his taxes and handing a gift to those who didn't have any mercy on the little fellow who was up against it. They threw him out on the street, took his property away from him, but didn't pay their taxes, and they come in now and say that every real estate board in the country wants it. You bet your life they do. Their clients have brought their properties back and they are on the job of running them and they want to get those taxes remitted for the big companies. It isn't going to help the little fellows any more. Most of them have already lost their properties not because of their inability to pay taxes but because they couldn't pay the interest on the mortgages and the mortgagees have gone ahead and have foreclosed on them.

I want to say that if you want to protect the home owner and make it only apply to properties occupied for dwelling purposes by the owners thereof then you will protect the people you are talking about, but you won't protect the people that we have been speaking about who will be the greatest beneficiaries of this measure.

I ask you to vote "aye" on this amendment, and, Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I understand this amendment offered by the gentleman from Berks, he wishes it to apply only to property owners or dwelling owners who reside therein. His idea is to penalize the grasping land owner and the heartless trust, but there are other people who will be penalized if this amendment is passed.

I have a friend who has a dwelling house, which he rents. A few years ago he was in comfortable circumstances. Today he is in uncomfortable circumstances financially. He has been unable to collect any rents of any consequence for the last three years and yet his water rents and his taxes are piling up and he is on the verge of bankruptcy. If this amendment of Mr. Hoopes prevails, then he could get no relief under this bill if it should be enacted into law.

I have another friend that lives in town, in his own house, but he also has a farm which he rents. During the years 1930 and 1931, he lost $500 in the operation of that farm. He has become delinquent in his taxes and under the amendment proposed by the gentleman from Berks, this man couldn't have any relief under this bill.

I ask you, ladies and gentlemen, whether it is worth the effort in order to punish a few grasping landlords and possibly some trust companies who have been heartless in their operations against the property owners—whether it is worth the price to pass this amendment. I suggest that it is not, and I ask that this amendment be voted down.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I can not understand the position taken by the gentleman from Berks very well.

By virtue of the tenets of his party he naturally believes and he is committed to the doctrine of soaking the landowner.

Yesterday, at his insistence, we passed a bill making it extremely difficult to dispossess, to eject a tenant who wasn't paying rent. Now the gentleman from Berks presents the proposition that we shall confirm the right to a tenant to remain in a residence or property and not pay any rent, and that the owner of that property is to be denied any chance at tax abatement. It catches them coming and going, and I maintain his proposition is essentially unfair.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Erie city has in the neighborhood six thousand families on the relief rolls. About five thousand families in that city are occupying homes rent free. That means that five thousand landlords—most of whom are not trust companies, most of whom are not grasping corporations—are supporting five thousand families and keeping them from being put upon the street and relieving the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the citizens of the United States as well of that burden.

Those five thousand families have been in their homes, as I have said, and are occupying them rent free. To make the owners of those homes pay a penalty by way of taxes when they have not been receiving anything by way of remuneration is, I believe, decidedly unfair. So for the benefit of those people who have been kind enough and charitable enough to allow their homes to be occupied I ask earnestly the members of this House to vote down the amendment offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I happen to be a landlord and know a little about the case. I hope you will vote this amendment down.

I own one hundred and twenty-five properties and am paying interest on $125,000. I pay my interest every time it comes due, but my tenants are continually moving out and I have simply to go to the bank to borrow money. I went to the bank to borrow $2000 to pay my taxes. The bank put a judgment note against me. I am in the furniture business also, and now that my credit is gone where will I buy my furniture? I was proud to have one hundred and twenty-five properties, but the depression caught me. There was a time when I made money fast; I am now losing it, and I hope you will vote the amendment down.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might say that I like the sound of the gentleman's amendment, but will not the amendment cut down the amount expected by the tax authorities from the landlords and the office building people who are going to pay their taxes so that they will have to, as a result of that, increase the tax on real estate which will set aside any gains that the home owners might receive from this amendment.

Mr. HOOPES. I understand you ask the question will not my amendment do that?

Mr. SHEPARD. Yes.

Mr. HOOPES. No, I don't think so. I think the bill itself will do that. If you pass the bill in its present form and abate the penalty to everybody, trust companies, real estate companies and large land owners generally you are going to reduce the income of the municipalities, most of whom are now on the verge of bankruptcy, whereas the amendment that I propose will greatly reduce the amount of penalties.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to say plainly that these amendments were drawn in great haste and no doubt could be put in much better form, but with the bill in the position that it was, in order to bring the matter before the House, it was necessary for me to do something very quickly and offer it in order that I might present the question.

Frankly what should be done with this bill at this time is to put it on the postponed calendar until Monday night and then let us get together and see if we can't propose the proper amendments which will protect the occupier of the owner's premises. At this time I must be fair to the gentleman from Cambria who said that I was trying to soak the landlords. He didn't refer to the fact that the bill that was passed yesterday had specific clauses in it providing for the abatement of taxes where the eviction was stayed by the court. I am certainly in favor of abating taxes for those who permit the tenants to remain rent free. I am not in favor of abating taxes and penalties for those who kick out the owners and everybody else that don't pay rent, and then proceed not to pay their own taxes. I think that is what this bill will do.

If we put this bill on the postponed calendar until Monday night and the sponsor and others will get together and draw up amendments not only to protect the owners but the occupiers who are unemployed, that are unable to pay rent, I would be perfectly satisfied.

BILL POSTPONED

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar on second reading.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think we are putting too many bills on the postponed calendar. We all know what this bill means. I never put a man out of one of my houses in my life, even though they owed me $200, $400, $600, or over in rent. I am opposed to putting it on the postponed calendar.

If I demand my rents they would say to me, "You're a member of the Legislature. I voted for you. You don't need any rent."

I again say that you should vote on this bill at this time.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that this bill is almost settled in this House. If it goes back on the postponed calendar we will have to go through all this discussion on the bill and the various amendments again. I believe we should finish the job now by voting on the bill and moving it along on the calendar.

I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote down the motion of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I made the motion in order that we might have time to prepare well-considered amendments which would cover deserving and needy cases which we don't have here this morning. I think that is a perfectly good reason. I think all of us should want to put this bill through in the proper form. We do not want to permit the big trust companies and real estate sharks to stage a steal against our almost bankrupt municipalities. I, therefore, ask you and urgently plead with you to vote "aye" to place this bill on the postponed calandar, and I ask for a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOPES and Mrs. WILSON and were as follows:

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in in this case dispensed with

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 353, as follows:

An Act to provide for the annual registration of industrial establishments by the Department of Labor and Industry and imposing a penalty for violations of the act

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows

The first section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Annual Registration of Industrial Establishments Act of nineteen hundred and thirty-five"

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 Definitions The following terms as used in this act shall be construed as follows

"Employment" means any trade occupation or process of manufacture or any method of carrying on such trade occupation or process of manufacture in which any person may be engaged except in private domestic service agriculture or casual employment not in the regular course of the employer's business

"Employer" means every person firm corporation agent manager or representative carrying on any employment

"Secretary" means the Secretary of Labor and Industry of this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 2, page 2, line 4, by inserting at the end of the line, after the word "employment" the following: "Provided, however, That this act shall not apply to the shops of transportation companies"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman who offered these amendments to explain them.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill No. 353 is an administration measure. It is designed to operate against the fly-by-night fellow that comes in here, establishes a manufacturing process for two or three months, holds up the wages of his employes and then skips town, leaving them holding the bag, so to speak.

The transportation companies would like to be exempt from registering under the terms of this act, because there are so many of their shops in the state.

The transportation companies are a stable industry, established, and the administration has consented to go along excluding them from the provisions of this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, under this act would bus companies be classified as transportation companies?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, No, I don't think so, according to the phrasing of the amendment. Transportation companies, railroad shops—the amendment specifically provides for transportation shops. I think the amendment is designed to affect railroads and transportation shops.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, unless the amendment specifically says "Railroad shops" but has the broad classification of transportation companies, then bus lines, many of which are fly-by-night concerns, would not be compelled to register.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth sections and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 3 Annual Reports (a) Annually on or before the first day of June every employer carrying on any employment within this Commonwealth shall send to the Secretary a written report setting forth (1) the name address and previous address of the employer (2) the character and location of the employment (3) a description of buildings and equipment number of floors elevators boilers and fire escapes (4) the number of persons employed male and female and (5) the scheduled hours of work per week for the ensuing year Such report shall be accompanied by a registration fee of One Dollar ($1.00) in the case of employers employing less than five (5) persons and a fee of Five Dollars ($5.00) for employers employing five (5) or more persons

(b) Every employer who intends to carry on any employment within this Commonwealth shall not later than ten days prior to the commencement of operations send to the Secretary a written report setting forth (1) the name and address of the employer (2) the character and location of the employment (3) the probable date of the commencement of operations (4) a description of buildings and equipment number of floors elevators boilers and fire escapes and (5) the probable number of persons to be employed male and female Such report shall be accompanied by a registration fee of Five Dollars ($5.00)

(c) Every employer who intends to cease carrying on any employment within this Commonwealth shall not later than thirty days prior to the ceasing of operations notify the Secretary in writing of his intention

Section 4 Certificate of Registration (a) The Secretary shall issue a certificate to every employer complying with the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of Section two who shall be entitled to receive such general inspections of his place of employment and equipment as in the opinion of the Department of Labor and Industry are desirable

(b) All fees required to be paid under this act shall be collected by the Department of Labor and Industry and by it paid into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue

Section 5 Penalty Every person who violates any provision of this act shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding before a justice of the peace alderman or magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) and costs of prosecution All fines collected under this act shall be forwarded to the Department of Labor and Industry which shall transmit the same into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue

Section 6 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 517, entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, yesterday I made a motion that this bill be sent back to the Committee on Cities for amendment, and I think the bill is erroneously on the third reading calendar today.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, that House Bill 476, Printer's No. 91, was amended on second reading yesterday and the bill is therefore, properly, on the third reading calendar today.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities for the purpose of amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill 482, entitled:

An Act further to amend section one of the act approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275), entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures; providing for their compensation and expenses; prescribing their duties; prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights; and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof," eliminating the minimum salaries of inspectors of weights and measures in counties of the first class, and providing for the appointment of inspectors of weights and measures by the mayors of cities of the first class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 70, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 831), entitled "An act providing for the appointment of a board of examiners to examine applicants for the office of inspector for the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth prescribing the qualifications defining the powers and duties and fixing the compensation of such examiners providing for the appointment and removal of inspectors of anthracite mines prescribing their qualifications and regulating their salaries and term of office and abolishing the terms of office of the present mine inspectors of the anthracite mines" by defining the term "coal miners."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Male,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 17, as follows:

An Act to amend division (a) of section three of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-three-thirty-four) entitled "An act imposing State taxes payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and importers on the privilege of manufacturing selling or using in this Commonwealth alcohol usable for beverage purposes and certain spirituous and vinous liquors providing for the collection of the taxes and the manner of making payment thereof conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments and upon manufacturers importers and upon those using or engaging in the sale of such alcohol and such spirituous and vinous liquors authorizing refunds or exemptions in certain cases and making an appropriation therefor and providing penalties" exempting wine manufactured in the home for home consumption from tax

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That division (a) of section three of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 38, 1933-34) entitled "An act imposing State taxes payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and importers on the privilege of manufacturing selling or using in this Commonwealth alcohol usable for beverage purposes and certain spirituous and vinous liquors providing for the collection of the taxes and the manner of making payment thereof conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments and upon manufacturers importers and upon those using or engaging in the sale of such alcohol and such spirituous and vinous liquors authorizing refunds or exemptions in certain cases and making an appropriation therefor and providing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 Imposition of Tax (a) Except as otherwise in this act provided every manufacturer shall be subject to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the taxes imposed in this section for the privilege of producing manufacturing distilling rectifying or compounding distilled spirits rectified spirits or wines in this Commonwealth when such distilled spirits rectified spirits or wines are withdrawn from bond or if not required by act of Congress to be stored or placed in bond when prepared for market or for use in the manufacture or production of any beverage intended for sale

Such taxes shall be measured by the amount of such distilled spirits rectified spirits and wines so produced manufactured distilled rectified or compounded by the manufacturer on or after the effective date of this act and shall be computed thereon at the following rates

On distilled spirits one dollar ($1) per proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon

On rectified spirits thirty cents ($.30) per proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon in addition to the tax imposed herein on the privilege of manufacturing or producing using or selling within this Commonwealth the distilled spirits or wines from which said rectified spirits are produced manufactured or compounded

On wines one-half cent ($.005) per unit of proof per wine gallon and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such wine gallon but this act shall not be construed to impose any tax on wine manufactured on premises occupied as home for consumption on such premises by the occupant his family and guests and which is not sold or offered for sale

Provided the amount so manufactured does not exceed two hundred gallons in any one year

Provided however That the rate of tax on the privilege of manufacturing producing or distilling in this Commonwealth distilled spirits or wines until January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four shall be two dollars on each proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon and that until January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four the tax of thirty cents ($.30) per proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof shall not be imposed for the privilege of rectifying spirits

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—3

Boose,	Schrock,	Schwab,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 759, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the payment of the expenses of the Committee of the House of Representatives created to make an audit, inventory and investigation of the liquor store system, and to investigate other facts and circumstances surrounding the liquor store system, and authorizing said committee to fix the compensation of persons employed by it.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out after the word "of" the words "twenty-five" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "ten;" also in same line by striking out after the word "dollars" the figures "($25,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "($10,000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was ordered to be transcribed for third reading be reconsidered.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, sixty-nine members voting in the affirmative and one hundred and two voting in the negative the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I dislike to oppose this measure, because I am of the firm belief, from my experience in this House that every investigation committee should have some appropriation. I think that it is unfair to ask the members to serve on a committee without giving them sufficient funds to secure the necessary help to do the proper kind of a job, but I am not unmindful of the fact that we had in the 1933 session a committee that investigated the Highway Department, that that committee had no appropriation and that my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, as a member of that committee performed the services of attorney for that committee. I am not unmindful of the fact that there was also an investigation of the Insurance Department, that that committee had no appropriation and that most of the work of that investigation devolved upon our colleague at that time, the gentleman from Franklin county, the Honorable A. J. White Hutton. I served on the committee investigating closed banks, and there was no appropriation for that committee. I think there was only a small appropriation in the 1933 or possibly 1934 special session to pay some of the costs and expenses of the members of that committee.

I, therefore, do not oppose this appropriation to the committee investigating the Liquor Control Board, but I do believe that it is ridiculous in the state of the finances of the Commonwealth to ask us to appropriate the sum of $25,000, and for this committee composed entirely of lawyers, the seven members of this committee, to employ attorneys to represent them and to represent the committee in this investigation. I think I know something about the needs of this investigation and I cannot conceive of the expenditure of this amount of money or anywhere near it in the investigation. It was for that purpose that I offered the amendment to reduce the appropriation to $10,000.

I am, therefore, going to vote "no" on this bill, although I dislike to prevent the committee from having an appropriation.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the remarks from the gentleman from Delaware. I want to assure the members that it is the intention of this committee to conduct this inquiry as economically as possible. I think we got off to a good start yesterday, and I think that we will develop facts that this House and the people of the Commonwealth are entitled to know.

We are investigating an operation that has done some forty-one million dollars worth of business in the past year. I feel that so far as the benefits to the Commonwealth are concerned, this $25,000 which you are appropriating by this act to enable the committee to perform its function would be a mere pittance in comparison to the good to the people of the Commonwealth which will result from this investigation.

Permit me to assure the gentleman from Delaware and also the membership of this House that if the committee is able to return from the twenty-five thousand dollars, which we seek appropriated, ten or fifteen thousand or any amount to the General Fund as an unexpended balance of the appropriation, the committee will certainly do so. We do not believe, however, that the investigation of this committee appointed by you should be hampered or hamstrung in its work by an appropriation which will not allow us to adequately perform our functions.

The gentleman from Delaware has made reference to various investigations without any appropriations. I know particularly how the investigation of the Insurance Department was restricted and hampered due to the fact that there was no appropriation. I know the facts in connection with the Insurance Department were of such vital concern to the entire Commonwealth that there should have been a thorough investigation. The fact that that committee did not have an appropriation hamstrung Dr. Hutton and the entire committee in the investigation, with the result that the report of the investigating committee is now pickeled, retarded, has not been presented to this House, and the deliberations of that committee are not now before this body as a guide for future legislation.

I say to the members of the House, we don't say that we need twenty-five thousand, we don't say that we can accomplish the investigation for less, but we do say that if we need twenty-five thousand dollars we want to feel that this House will appropriate that amount of money. If a smaller amount will meet the purpose, let me assure the members of this House that the amount unexpended will be gladly returned to the General Fund.

We are presented now with a tremendous problem. We need the proper investigation, the proper help and the proper guidance in this work, and we ask the House not in any way to impede the work of this committee which you have appointed in their activities, and I ask that this bill be passed as it is written, with the appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, this is my first opportunity to get up on the floor. I believe in being consistent and in going along with Democratic measures.

I see by your past actions that you have spent many hours disposing of certain problems that were troubling you.

You have resolutions in the House asking for investigations, and I can't see how the Democratic membership can sit here and vote for this measure appropriating twenty-five thousand dollars.

I am appealing to the new members. They must go back home and answer to their constituents, and I hope that they will vote against this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York how many attorneys the committee has already employed.

Mr. COHEN. I think that the gentleman from Delaware already knows, Mr. Speaker, that there are seven members of the bar, attorneys, counsellors-at-law, on the committee.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the gentleman how many attorneys the committee has already employed.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, at the present time we have employed two.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. SPEAKER, I would like to ask the gentleman what compensation is going to be paid to those two attorneys.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the compensation has not been definitely determined as yet. It is subject to the accomplishments of the committee, the length of time that is consumed in the investigation and the amount of time that will be necessary for the counsel to spend upon the investigation.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from York, what is the minimum that the committee has agreed to pay?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the question of compensation of counsel who have been employed has not yet been definitely decided, either in the minimum or in the maximum. We expect to be able to effectuate certain savings during the investigation.

Mr. TURNER. Then do I understand, Mr. Speaker, that the committe has employed counsel without any agreement or any understanding as to the amount of compensation to be paid to the two attorneys employed by the committee?

Mr. COHEN. No, Mr. Speaker, that is not correct.

Mr. TURNER. Then, Mr. Speaker, may I ask what is the understanding between the committee and the two attorneys?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the understanding is that counsel will be paid. We have a request for payment. It will depend entirely upon the amount of work and the accomplishment of the committee as to the amount of the payment.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will that be measured by the appropriation?

Mr. COHEN. That would be measured by the amount of work, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if the amount of work should exceed the appropriation then what would be done?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the amount of work should exceed the appropriation, counsel has already agreed to continue with the work in line with the appropriation.

Mr. TURNER. Then, Mr. Speaker, the amount of compensation is controlled somewhat by the amount of appropriation?

Mr. COHEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from York if he is familiar with the utility investigation in 1931, which lasted ten weeks, counsel for the utility investigation were paid entirely from the Governor's budget?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that. I understand also that that was the Governor's investigation.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is there any difference between this investigation and that investigation?

Mr. COHEN. Undoubtedly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, in what respect, may I ask?

Mr. COHEN. Because, Mr. Speaker, this investigation has no axe to grind; this investigation has no policy to promulgate, and this investigation is an investigation to present to the people of the Commonwealth the facts as they are developed.

Mr. TURNER. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, under the statement of the gentleman that the question of the amount of compensation with counsel will be somewhat controlled by the appropriation, isn't it a fact that if we were to lower the amount of appropriation there would be less money paid to counsel?

Mr. COHEN. That is true.

Mr. SPEAKER and members of the House, I appreciate the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware concerning the employment of counsel and the fact that there are seven members of the bar on the committee. I also feel that the gentleman from Delaware can appreciate the work and the labor that has been placed upon the members of the committee. He well knows the time that is required by the membership of this House, he well knows the compensation that is received by the members of this House. He well knows that with the presence of seven members of the bar on that committee that they cannot neglect any source of income which they have from the practice of their profession to devote the time that is required in the conduct of this inquiry. He well knows that when the session terminates on Wednesday or Thursday, that the members of the Committee, who are members of the bar, have only two or three days out of the week in which to apply themselves to the practice of their profession. He well knows that the time that is required to conduct a successful and thorough investigation of a business that represents an income of forty-one million dollars is far beyond the limitations that are imposed on the members of this committee who would have to devote their entire time to that investigation.

I asure you now, as I did before, that if in any manner this committee can in any way effect any saving in the conduct of this investigation the amount so saved will be returned in to the General Fund.

I might also say in answer to a question that was raised by the Democratic membership that we have saved money in the operation of this House in reducing the number of employes, Sergeants-at-arms, in the elimination of useless appendages, and I wish to call attention to the fact, in an effort to indicate that consistency, that those employes who were dismissed were not performing any function or any duty and that this committee will perform a function, and I want to assure the membership of this House that it will perform that function to the satisfaction of this House and the satisfaction of the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not a lawyer, thank God, but I do know that the people of this Commonwealth have applauded the Governor's request for an investigation of the Liquor Control Board. The people of this Commonwealth want a thorough investigation. To appoint a committee to investigate this Liquor Control Board and then to hamstring it by an insufficient appropriation would, I believe, make us guilty of trying to whitewash the investigation. We want a thorough investigation. The people's money is involved, and we do not want it to follow a policy of being penny-wise and pound foolish.

I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am thoroughly in accord with the liquor investigation resolution. I voted for it. I believe it will be of benefit to the Liquor Board itself as well as to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I understand that this is a fact finding investigation. There are upon that committee colleagues of mine who sit on this side of the House and I say to them, as well as to my colleagues on the other side of the House, that I would hate to be a member of this committee; I would hate to be one of those seven members of the bar; I would hate to admit to the public, I would hate to admit to this House that I am not capable of finding facts by proper examination of witnesses. I would hate to say that individually and collectively this committee appointed by the Speaker of this House does not possess the ability nor the time, to use the expression of the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, in order to make this investigation. When he speaks of time, he is only fooling himself, because he has got to sit while the examination takes place.

I do not want to throw bouquets at myself, I don't want it to appear that I am talking conceitedly, but a fact is a fact. There was appointed an investigating committee of the Highway Department, and every Democrat in the State of Pennsylvania during the campaign said it was the best investigation in the whole world, because they campaigned the state from one end to the other on what I as a single member of the bar developed through that committee. I did not have five cents to interrogate witness after witness, and I interrogated them as mercifully or mercilessly as I thought they ought to be interrogated. There is not a member on that side of the House, incluidng the gentleman from York who can say the Highway Department investigation was not a thorough investigation. I am no brighter individually than any individual member of this committee of seven, and I am certainly no brighter than this committee of seven collectively.

Twenty-five thousand dollars for what? If you do not want to give up the time, you should not have taken the appointment on that committee, but if you have taken an appointment on that committee then you owe it to yourself to give it your time or resign from the committee. I paid my own expenses. I stayed up here day after day when I didn't have to. You are in no better or no worse position now than I was then. I say to the members of this House that when the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, endeavored to offer an amendment putting ten thousand dollars as a maximum he was indeed generous, and when it is admitted by the gentleman from York practically in substance that the amount of compensation to be paid to counsel will not exceed the appropriation, we should not be so generous with the taxpayers' money. I have the greatest admiration for the counsel they have employed—able, honest and trustworthy—but in this investigation it was unnecessary to employ outside counsel.

So, members of the House, with a deep consciousness of the fact that a vote "no" on this bill might be misconstrued to mean that I am against the investigation, I want to state clearly I am going to vote "no" because I think twenty-five thousand dollars is too much, and the only reason I will ask my colleagues on this side of the House as well as the gentlemen on the other side of the house, to vote "no" is not to indicate that you are against the investigation but to indicate that you think that we ought not to pay outside counsel twenty-five thousand dollars.

If this bill is subsequently amended or another bill is put in, I will gladly be the first one here to raise my voice in support of a reduced appropriation, but I think you seven lawyers ought to carry on this investigation without so huge an expense.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, ask for a verifiication of the roll.

The affirmative roll was read by the Clerk.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask whether the vote of the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. O'Neill is in the affirmative? I thought I heard his name read on the affirmative roll.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's name was read on the affirmative roll.

Mr. WITKIN. Will the Speaker give me consent to challenge his vote not in writing, because he is not in the House and was not in the House when the roll was called.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. O'Neill in the Hall of the House?

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. O'Neill was here and voted from his chair and then walked out.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, still insist on challenging the gentleman's vote?

Mr. WITKIN. I do not. I take the word of every gentleman in this House.

The SPEAKER. The challenge is therefore withdrawn and Mr. O'Neill will be recorded as voting aye.

Mr. WITKIN. May I ask whether the gentleman from Clinton, Mr. Simon, is recorded as voting in the affirmative?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not so recorded.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire whether the name of Sinwell of Northampton County was called on the affirmative roll?

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Sinwell answered in the affirmative and then immediately left the Hall of the House.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have my vote changed from "no" to "aye"; I agree thoroughly with the remarks of Mr. Witkin, but at the same time as the landlord of a liquor store I would not have my vote misconstrued and for that reason I desire to vote "yes".

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 117, entitled:

An Act to regulate the sale and delivery of solid fuel as herein defined; providing for appointment of licensed weighmasters; prescribing their powers and duties; imposing certain duties on the Department of Internal Affairs, and providing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 256, entitled:

An Act to protect the public safety by prohibiting coal stripping work in close proximity to public highways and the abandonment of stripping work, unless the earth is replaced in the opening caused by such work.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bradley.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bradley, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRADLEY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, is the intent of the first section of this bill concerning strippings and the filling of strippings to the effect that strippings shall be filled only when within one hundred feet of the highway?

Mr. BRADLEY. Yes.

Mr. SCHROPE. Inasmuch as the gentleman says that it only covers strippings one hundred feet from the highway, the same bill prohibits stripping within one hundred feet of the highway. Therefore, is the bill consistent? There will be no strippings to fill within one hundred feet of the highway.

Mr. BRADLEY. It don't prohibit them from coming within one hundred feet of the highway to strip, but they must fill that stripping within one hundred feet of the highway.

Mr. SCHROPE. The bill states that it will not permit strippings within one hundred feet, no closer than one hundred of the highway, and at the same time it is stated that those strippings shall be filled in if they are within that distance. The bill so states.

Mr. BRADLEY. That is right, they should be.

Mr. SCHROPE. What I cannot understand is how there will be any strippings to fill if it prevents stripping.

Mr. BRADELY. Suppose they violate the law and strip within that distance then they must fill it back, that is what we ask.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as another member of the House from an anthracite community I arise to oppose the passage of this bill.

The bill is simple enough in its provisions. It provides first that in case of any stripping the stripping operator after abandoning the work shall fill in the abandoned spot with all of the earth removed from the stripping, and secondly it provides that there shall be no stripping operations within one hundred feet of any highway. In so far as the second part of the bill is concerned I believe that it was not its purpose to protect the highways from any cave-ins or future damage.

I might call the attention of the House to the fact that the Supreme Court in 1933 decided that when highways were taken over by condemnation proceedings that the right of lateral and vertical support went with the taking over of the surface for highway purposes. Subsequent to that in 1933 there was a bill passed which provided that within eighty feet of any highway there could be no mining operation, and likewise provided for a certain method whereby the owner of the coal underlying the highway could be reimbursed for their failure to secure the coal.

In so far as the second part is concerned, I am satisfied if this bill were passed it would reach out farther than has ever been reached before in touching upon the people's rights. I speak from this fact that any owner of property most certainly has a right to use that property in any way he sees fit so long as in doing so he does not violate any act of the Legislature dealing with unlawful acts and does not in any way commit a nuisance. This would simply mean that any owner, stripping operator, who has leased from an owner, would not be able to leave the ground which he mined under in the condition that he desired to leave it.

Secondly, I would like to call attention to the fact of the enormous cost that this bill would impose on the anthracite industry. Let me explain what I mean by that. The stripping of coal itself is done only where there is an outcropping, which had formerly been part of one of the original veins of coal, and which through some disturbance of the earth has been forced away from the original vein so that the usual mining operations cannot reach that coal except at a prohibitive cost in the sinking of tunnels and shafts. In that way then we will find separate outcroppings that are apart from the regular mine opening and yet the same coal that is mined from the regular veins of coal, that is the part that is used in strippings operations. In these operations they reach sometimes as far down as one hundred feet before they have completely cleaned out this outcropping. To say that after that they must restore the earth that is taken out, and I presume perhaps the gentleman from Northumberland in his definition of earth means stone, gravel, soil and any other foreign substance in addition to earth, to put that back in there you make the cost of operations so prohibitive that you would practically stop it in the anthracite community. I am satisfied at the present time that practically the greater portion of the work in the mining communities is done through stripping operations. I, therefore, urge the members of the House to vote "no" on the passage of this bill.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 255, entitled:

An Act to prevent fraud and deception in the shipping, marketing and sale of anthracite coal; providing standards for anthracite coal; and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, in rising to oppose this bill I do it again as a member from an anthracite community.

The bill itself simply classifies anthracite coal into three classes: first, freshly mined coal taken directly from the mines; second, stripping coal, which as I have already designated (House Bill 256) is taken from stripping operations, and third, refuse coal which is taken from the river beds or from the clum banks. The definitions themselves are correct, but unfortunately in preparing the bill they have so worded it that it will be, if passed, one of the greatest blows to the anthracite industry that we could suffer at this session.

It provides that no stripping coal can in any way be intermingled with fresh mined coal and be sold afterwards unless it is designated as stripping coal. Today that would simply mean that the great coal companies throughout the anthracite district, which are at the present time, in addition to their regular mining, have stripping operations on the side would be compelled to install separate breakers, separate means of work to carry on the stripping operations, separate and apart from the regular mining operations. I might state that in a majority of the cases when stripping coal is taken care of properly, when dug out of the ground it is the same as that of any vein of coal which is fresh mined, and that the greater majority of the coal that is being sold at the present time is a combination of both the stripping coal and run of mine or fresh mined coal

If the bill is passed in its original form it will undoubtedly do as I stated, damage the industry. It should be amended, but unfortunately we were not able to secure an amendment which would make it define merely what refuse or culm coal was, and provide for penalties when that coal was sold as run of the mine.

This act provides that there shall be penalties in addition to any person, copartnership, association or corporation shipping, marketing, selling or offering for sale coal contrary to these provisions. The question is how the court can very well inflict a criminal penalty upon a corporation as a corporate body, and there is no where within the act any explanation as to what members of the corporation, whether it be the board of directors, the general manager of the colliery and so on down, would be liable to punishment.

I might state likewise that he says no deviation whatever shall be allowed in the shipping, marketing and selling of coal from the standards above provided, which would simply mean that the operator of mines would have to provide sealers of weights and measures, and the sealers of weights and measures would have to follow each carload, or each ton of coal from the time that it left the mine until the time it was put in the consumer's cellar to make sure that nowhere along the line there was any mixture of this coal with any other type, otherwise a corporation which has in good faith sold fresh mined coal which might later be mixed with stripping coal under this act might be liable to punishment in the form of a misdemeanor. I urge the members of the House to vote "no" on the passage of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BRADLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a decision was called for, one hundred and seventeen members or more than a majority having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 354, as follows:

An Act requiring certain officers to be paid by the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions prohibiting certain contracts and agreements for the payment of their compensation or for the repayment or reimbursement thereof by any person copartnership association or corporation and fixing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the compensation of all sheriffs deputies sheriffs constables deputy constables detectives police and other peace officers of this Commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof shall be paid only by the Commonwealth or such political subdivisions or by fees in the amount and in the manner now or hereafter fixed by law

Section 2 Any and all contracts or agreements between the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof or any officer of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and any person copartnership association or corporation for the payment of any compensation or expenses to any such sheriff deputy sheriff constable deputy constable detective police or other peace officer or for the reimbursement to the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof or any officer of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof of any such compensation or expenses by an person copartnership association or corporation be and the same are hereby declared to be against public policy and void and are forbidden and declared unlawful Provided That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prohibit the payment to any political subdivision of the Commonwealth of fees or compensation for police or peace officers assigned to the duty of policing exhibitions or athletic contests

Section 3 Any person entering into any agreement or contract in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be subject to a fine of not less than Fifty Dollars ($50.00) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($50.00) or shall undergo an imprisonment of not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know that you all want to get home and I will be very brief.

I ask the Republican members of this House to vote in favor of House Bill No. 354, because in pursuance of the carrying out of the Republican party platform a bill of similar nature, and similar character in substance was introduced by the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Roan on January 21st 1935, known as House Bill No. 199. A week later a similar bill, the bill we are now voting upon, No. 354 appeared upon the calendar, being in substance the same as the bill introduced by the Republican member of this House in carrying out the Republican Platform. For that reason I ask the gentlemen o fthe Republican party to go along with the bill of the Democrats, which appears to be an adopted baby.

Mr. HARMUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a Democratic measure that we are about to vote on at the present time. In the last session of the legislature we had a bill similar to this bill and a Democratic member of this House introduced that bill. It was killed in a committee controlled by the Republican organization. Therefore the Democratic party at this time had this bill drawn up and it is a Democratic measure. I ask every member of this House to vote favorably on this bill.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, the Republicans and Democrats both have taken credit for this bill. I am compelled to state that the amendments to it were prepared by a Socialist which is a very good thing.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1935 No. 19

SENATE

MONDAY, February 25, 1935.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O God, Thou art our only true source of help. When we depend upon human wisdom to guide us we are often led astray. When we trust human arm to defend us we are often cast down into dire defeat. But Thou art ever to be trusted; Thy judgment is infallible and Thy arm is mightier than all the powers of earth combined.

Lead Thou us in the performance of the duties of this hour. May we plan its activities as dedicated by Thee. When Thou dost command help us faithfully to obey. We know Thou hast the best interests of all mankind at heart, so unhesitatingly we follow where Thou dost lead.

May Thy power and goodness flow out over our Commonwealth through the acts of this Senate, cheering every home and blessing every heart. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HARRIS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGES

RELATIVE TO REDUCING RATES OF THE DUQUESNE LIGHT COMPANY

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Public Utilities:

RESOLUTION NO. 41

In the House of Representatives, February 4, 1935.

Whereas, A study of the Power and Light business in the United States discloses the fact that the large power companies are charging exorbitant rates, and are making huge profits by watering their stocks out of all proportion to their true value; that they are distributing their profits among a large number of holding companies, with high salaried officials and interlocking directorates, and thereby evading the spirit of the law, and

Whereas, The studies made show that the Duquesne Light Company common stock is owned by the Philadelphia Company, which is controlled by the Standard Gas and Electric Company, which is controlled by the Standard Power and Light, which is controlled by the United States Electric Power Corporation, and by the H. M. Byllesby Corporation, with a claimed valuation of fifty-five million, made almost eleven million profit in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, or nineteen and four-tenths per centum, twenty-two and eight-tenths per centum in one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and twenty-two and nine-tenths per centum in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and

Whereas, The President of the United States has publicly declared that these practices must be discontinued, and has taken an active part in disclosing to his people the methods under which these companies have been operating, and

Whereas, Our President has been instrumental in providing his people with a "yardstick" by which they may judge electricity and power, and

Whereas, The Pittsburgh Press, in its issue of November twentieth, made public a comparison between the rates charged by the Duquesne Light Company and those shown by the "yardstick," and

Whereas, The Utility Commissioners of the United States, meeting in convention in Washington, D. C. on November fifteenth, publicly declared that the rates charged by the Utilities are at least twenty-five per centum too high all over the United States, and

Whereas, The President, on November thirteenth, handed to the Public Service Commission of every state a "big stick" with which to reduce rates on electricity. This consists of a formula worked out by the New York Power Authority by which the cost of distributing electric power —for years the unknown quantity in the utility business— can be quickly and accurately determined. Private companies have consistently refused to reveal the cost of getting electricity into the homes, and have shrouded it with mystery, but the commission has now made it public, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), The General Assembly, petition the members of the Public Service Commission and our Governor, to work together to bring about a reduction of thirty per centum of the rates of the Duquesne Light Company, for the citizens of Allegheny County.

IMMEDIATE CASH PAYMENTS OF ADJUSTED CERTIFICATES URGED.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs:

RESOLUTION NO. 52

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation; and will provide relief for the holders thereof who are in dire need and distress because of the present unfortunate economic conditions; and will lighten immeasurably the burden which cities, counties and States are now required to carry for relief; and

Whereas, The payment of said certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the government; now, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That since the government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth recommends and urges the immediate cash payment at face value of the adjusted service certificates, with cancellation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, as a most effective means to that end; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives, be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

JUDGE OF THE COUNTY COURT, FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 25, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following appointment to compute from the date of confirmation:

G. Malcolm McDonald, 300 Bevington Road, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, as Judge of the County Court of the Fifth Judicial District, composed of the County of Allegheny, vice Richard A. Kennedy, deceased, to serve until the first Monday in January, 1936.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I have high regard for the personnel of the Judiciary Special Committee. For this reason I find it difficult to understand its action on the Resolution asking for the resignation of Senator McClure. I can only assume that the members must have allowed their judgment to be misled by the lawyer's exaggerated reverence for technicalities and adroit manipulation of legal subtleties.

The report of the Committee places the Resolution on a false basis of consideration and befogs the issue at every turn. It is a red herring across the trail to throw us off the scent. The report is entirely irrelevant to the issue. The resignation of the Senator from Delaware is not a legal question, it is a moral question. It is not a question of jurisdiction or competency on the part of the Committee or the Senate. There is no legal point whatever involved in the Resolution and no action of a legal nature is proposed. It makes no difference when the Senator from Delaware committed the criminal acts on which this Resolution is based; whether it was during his first or his second term. It is enough that he did commit them and that everybody knows he committed them. He was indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced, and he has therefore forfeited his moral right to sit in this chamber. All the Resolution asks is that he shall concede the decencies of the situation for which he alone is responsible and perform the voluntary act of resigning. His rum and vice ring received about $3,000,000 in protection money from smugglers, gamblers and bawdy-house proprietors. That is a matter of record. The Senator should be satisfied that he is still a free man, without flaunting his iniquities in the face of an outraged people by continuing to pose as the representative of LAW—which he has viciously and systematically broken and whose very spirit he has flouted and defied.

The Senator from Delaware was, but no longer is, an active director in the First National Bank of Chester and the Chester-Cambridge Bank and Trust Company. It is customary to publish the names of directors on bank statements. But in the statements of these banks for the period ending December 30, 1933, following the Senator's conviction, the names of all directors were omitted, for the reason that it was agreed that to include the name of John J. McClure would be detrimental to the banks. And yet the Judiciary Special Committee apparently regards the name of John J. McClure as an asset to the Senate of Pennsylvania and even prepares a nine-page legal argument to show why he ought not to be asked to resign.

I have received telegrams and hundred of letters from all over this State, from populous cities and from rural villages; from organizations, civic, political and religious, and from individuals; from lawyers, physicians, clergymen, school teachers and bankers; from merchants, mechanics and farmers; from the learned and the illiterate, without exception condemning the Senator from Delaware and everything for which he stands, and demanding his elimination from the Senate and from party councils. All condemn the Republican party for keeping bad company and predict its continued defeat as long as it does so. The press is no less definite and imperative. You cannot deny that public opinion has spoken. These expressions and protests come from your own constituents, from men and women who are Republicans, and who want to stay Republicans, but who cannot and will not remain in a party which tolerates a State leader of the type of the Senator from Delaware. They instinctively feel that our action on this Resolution will be indicative of our attitude on moral questions generally. If we support the Resolution they will feel that the Republican party is genuinely desirous to merit and recover the public confidence which it once possessed.

The baptismal name of your party, dating back to the days of Thomas Jefferson, Mr. President, is not just "Democratic;" it is a hyphenated name—Democratic-Republican. You have kept and used only the first half, and your rival party has appropriated the second half. Let us realize, on this issue at least, the harmony of will and purpose suggested in this combination, and prove to both our constituencies that in official integrity and fealty to our common trust there is no difference between a Democrat and a Republican.

But, my Republican colleagues, if this Resolution should be adopted by twenty-six votes, nineteen of them Democratic and only seven Republican, it is not going to vindicate the Republican party. Nothing short of twenty-six Republican votes can do that, and it will take thirty to do it to the satisfaction of the rank and file.

This Commonwealth was founded by and named for one of the finest and truest characters that ever graced the history of the English-speaking race. William Penn has been commemorated by the sculptor's chisel, the artist's brush, and the pen of chronicler and poet. Draftsman and lawmaker have rendered him the formal tribute of architectural and parliamentary memorial. For two hundred and fifty years he has been the embodied symbol of Pennsylvania's civic ideal. Are we ready to repudiate this upright Quaker statesman to enthrone in his place the recreant legislator who violated his oath of office, who made it safe to break the law, who perverted the agencies of justice to protect the traffickers in vice, and concerning whose health prostitutes, racketeers and gangsters solicitously inquired before beginning to ply their trades in the Commonwealth of William Penn?

The honor of the Senate is at stake and we, gentlemen, are on trial at the bar of public opinion. Mr. President, I move that the Judiciary Special Committee be discharged from further consideration of this Resolution.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. President, the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, has based his whole argument on what he calls a moral question. I am prepared and ready to meet that moral question on all four's, and, as Al Smith used to say, "Let us examine the records."

It is true that I was indicted and taken before the Federal Court, and before the trial was started my lawyers alleged prejudice on the part of the trial judge. The trial continued. I was one who had been indicted on one count, and there were over a hundred men named as co-conspirators with me. We sat in that courtroom for a period of two months. Evidence was heard not only against me but against every man indicted. The Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, stated several weeks ago—I do not know that I can quote him exactly—that the testimony shrieked with something, I do not know what; but the papers were full of it all.

I would like to ask the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, tonight, if he ever examined that testimony. Did he ever examine it with the thought in mind as to the amount of testimony that was adduced in that trial directly against me, and that was not hearsay—from one passed on to another.

He names, tonight, the amount of some three million dollars. I believe that testimony was given by a man who, I would consider, was an irresponsible witness—if I am thinking of the right man—because that morning, before he gave that testimony, the jail doors opened for him so that he could take his seat in the witness chair.

If this is a moral question, it certainly is a moral right for every man to have his day in court. I had mine in the lower court, and I was advised by competent counsel that no defense would be had, and that we would appeal it because there was more than a thousand errors. We did appeal that case to the higher court, and the Eighteenth Amendment was repealed in the meantime and we were not allowed by law to have our day in court.

Gentlemen of the Senate, I never had my day in court, I certainly would not take that day in the lower court, with my counsel advising me not to do so. I particularly would like to have in my hand at this moment, so that I could refer to them readily, the remarks and statements that the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, made here tonight, concerning me. I deny all those statements—all of them; and I can look every man in the face and say I was innocent of the charges preferred against me.

I believe in fair play,—I do not believe in hitting below the belt; and I do not think any other Senator in this Chamber is of the mind that he wants to be unfair. When the vote is taken on this question tonight I believe that everyone of them is going to have in mind the thought that because of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment I did not have my day in court.

Mr. President, before I close I would like to read to you the opinion handed down by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, which includes Philadelphia:

"Accordingly, it is, on this twenty-sixth day of March A. D. 1934, ORDERED that the judgments as entered in the causes of the petitioning or moving defendants be reversed, and the causes, as to them, be remanded to the District Courts with direction to vacate those parts of their judgments which sentence the named defendants, to dismiss the indictments as to them, and to discharge them, respectively."

I say to you, in conclusion, that my record as a citizen of the State of Pennsylvania is as good as the record of any man sitting in this Chamber.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I did not think that so early in the session I, as the chairman of one of your committees, would be called upon to defend the action of the committee of which I happen to be chairman. I wish to say at the outset that I did not agree with the majority action in that committee. I want to make that a matter of record. But I do not agree with the statement that that committee deliberately pickled this so-called Prince resolution. We had two meetings. At the first meeting, as chairman of that committee, with the consent of the committee. I invited both the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, and the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, to appear before that committee. I then asked them if it was their intention or their desire or their wish to present to the committee anything additional, anything other than that which was stated here on the floor. I received a negative answer from each Senator. We debated there for about two hours as to the correct method of procedure. No appropriation was connected with this resolution,—nothing to enable this committee, even were it thought feasible to have its work completed before the end of this session, to have an examination made of all the witnesses, if that were possible, or of the testimony; and, of course, an examination of the testimony would be only ex parte, because, as the Senator from Delaware has stated, he never gave his side of the story.

I am not here defending him. I told him last week that if this resolution came out on the floor of the Senate I would vote for the resolution, and I say that tonight. If this committee is discharged, I will vote for that resolution. If he is innocent, all we are doing here through this action of ours is the digging into his wounds and breaking his bones and if he is guilty we call upon him to exercise a sense of decency and not wait for any action upon a resolution but had in his resignation before he is called upon to do so. But I submit to you that at the second meeting of the Committee on Judiciary Special we argued, we debated—some of us had one idea, others had other ideas—and after at least two hours a motion was made to indefinitely postpone action on the resolution, on account of the want of jurisdiction. It was seconded, and, as the newspapers carried it, the vote was six to five in favor of that motion. No person was denied an opportunity to be heard no voice was stifled if anybody had anything to say, he had an opportunity to come before that committee.

And I do not purpose, as chairman of that committee, to sit idly by and have that committee attacked with the statement that a resolution, right at the outset of the session, was pickled. That is not my method of doing business; and the Senators who previously were members of the House, and some of you spectators who saw me on the floor of the House since 1923, cannot hurl the charge at me without fear of contradiction, successful contradiction, that it has been my custom to pickle resolutions that are referred to any committee of which I am chairman and I cannot sit idly by when the motion is made to discharge this particular committee, with the thought that its action was taken in an effort to get rid of the resolution, as when a bill is referred to a sub-committee, with the excuse that they want more time to study the bill,—the old familiar method. But I want to say, with all the sincerity of which I am capable, that I stamp my foot with the utmost disapproval on tactics of that type.

Here was a resolution that was debated and acted upon; and either a motion to discharge that committee or a motion to sustain it is in order, and, in the latter event, a vote on the resolution would follow. But when it is stated that the committee deliberately pickled this resolution, I say, "Absolutely not. It cannot be interpreted as such."

And I want to say in conclusion that if this motion which is about to be made is carried, I will vote in favor of the resolution. I only ask that, if that time comes, something, or somebody, will sustain my contention. If I am wrong, I would be committing an injustice to the Senator from Delaware County which can never be rectified; and I sincerely hope that this ends resolutions of this type. In these days, when everybody who is in political life is looked upon with some degree of suspicion, who knows who will be next? It may be you, you, you or myself, who knows? And I do not say that in any spirit of levity; I say that with the highest degree of sincerity of which I am capable. If I am wrong, I am wrong; if I am right, time will tell the tale.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if there were to come before this Senate a question of discharging a committee, I say very frankly that I would not hesitate because of tradition or former custom to vote for it if I felt the action of the committee was not justified, and that, in dealing with the particular question, the committee did act in accordance with what is decent and what is right. As a matter of fact, the records of this Senate show that early in my first appearance in this Senate I moved to discharge the Committee on Old Age Pensions. I did so because I believed that that committee, in taking a bill of such vital importance and placing it in the hands of a sub-committee, and permitting that sub-committee to carry the bill indefinitely in its, so to speak, vest pocket, was not, in my opinion, the proper method of handling legislation which so vitally concerns the interests of the people whom we are supposed to represent. And I say, if this particular committee under discussion tonight had acted in the same manner, I would not hesitate to vote for discharging that committee and I say, if this is a resolution to vote for or against a request to have Senator McClure resign, I would unhesitatingly vote for it. I was for it when it was first introduced by the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince.

But there is more than the issue of Senator McClure in this case. After all, whether Senator McClure is right or wrong, he will have to answer finally to a Higher Court than he ever reached and he has a conscience which will have to judge of his own deeds for him. So far as I am concerned, I am not interested in the plaudits of the crowd nor in the opinions of the crowd I am concerned with legislation, and with the proper method of carrying out the business of this Senate, which is of the utmost importance at this session. I am sorry that we should have to spend so much time dealing with a matter of this kind when the people of Pennsylvania are waiting anxiously to have us do something to relieve them of their distress,—something we have not done yet. We are wasting a great deal of time. In the House last Wednesday night there were three bills that came up for third reading. One concerned whether or not a dog should be trained on Sunday the second concerned whether or not it should be lawful to hunt deer with an electric light and the third concerned whether or not a man can hunt deer with a dog. And the people of Pennsylvania are waiting for this Legislature to do something to relieve their minds, to give them something to eat, to give them some hope for the future. Yet we are here tonight discussing whether a Senator is guilty or not guilty of certain misdeeds,—on a resolution! We are discussing whether or not the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, is guilty of a crime for which he was tried two years ago; and that is not the question at all.

Mr. PRESIDENT, the question which is being asked tonight is, whether this committee shall be discharged; and this committee, according to the papers, and according to the statements of its chairman, who very frankly and honestly states that his opinion was against that of the majority, heard the matter, discussed it, and did what is expected of every committee that gets a bill or resolution and unless we permit committees who honestly discuss bills to act upon them, this Senate will be flooded to such an extent that we shall never be able to get any legislation through. It is just because talk about discharging committees goes on and runs rampant in the House, that you find on the House Calendar at a time like this bills such as I have referred to previously; and I say, leaders of the Republican organization need not be concerned, and I am not concerned, as to what the people will say about my morals and my moral conduct, and the morals of the other Senators, because I do not consider that the morals of any Senator here are at issue; the important question is, whether we can develop quickly a program covering legislation which will carry out the bills in which we can all join for helping the people.

Therefore, the quickest and the best way to accomplish that is to vote against the discharge of any committee which has done its work. This committee has not pickled the resolution. All of the eleven men on the committee have considered it from their point of view, and acted on it according to their own judgment. In my opinion their judgment was bad; they should have reported the resolution out with a negative report; but that was their judgment, and as long as that is a fact, I shall vote in favor of the committee report, and not to discharge it.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Blair will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, today of all days on the calendar is the most sacred to me. It is the birthday of my beloved and deceased mother, and today, as I think upon her, I am compelled to act as I know she was accustomed to act at all times. She was ever prone to come to the defense of those who were oppressed and in trouble. Now, I do not know whether the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, is guilty or not guilty. The evidence that was produced at that trial I was not privileged to hear, and my training as a lawyer would indicate to me not to pass judgment upon anyone the testimony in whose case I was not privileged to hear.

I would like to take the attitude of Him who said "Let him who is guiltless cast the first stone." At this time tonight I would like to take the attitude of Him, "who while others passed by the brother in distress, bent down and lifted up, aided and assisted." I want to say that before coming into this Senate Chamber, I never met Senator McClure, and during the time that I have been in this Senate chamber, I have never more than bade the time of day to Senator McClure. I also want to say that I have the utmost respect for my brother Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince. I hold him in the highest esteem. But I do say and believe that from my observation of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, that there is much good in him, and inasmuch as my brother Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, has stated that the question of legality is not concerned here, that it is a moral issue, I maintain that this body has no right to pass upon moral issues. I thank you.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I rise to the question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Beaver will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, in the event that this motion is made by the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, for the purpose of the record I wish to state that I decline to vote for this resolution for the following reasons:

First, This resolution is not a proceeding in impeachment, and, indeed, in this form it could not be such. Our constitution places the sole power of impeachment in the House of Representatives, and provides that the impeachment shall be "tried by the Senate." If it were an impeachment proceeding, this Senate would sit as a special and dignified court, after taking a special oath for the purpose, and this Senate should then render its decision based on evidence and not on impassioned oratory wholly without evidence.

Second, This is not a proceeding to expel Senator McClure under the provisions of Section 2 of Article 2 of our constitution. This section was not new in the present constitution, but was also contained in the former constitution. It may well be doubted, in the light of the words of Chief Justice Black in a case against the Mayor of Philadelphia [21 Pa. 147 (165)] whether the power to expel a member extends to acts committed outside of the senate chamber, unless they be such as, by the terms of our constitution, render him ineligible to the general assembly. At any rate, Chief Justice Black, in interpreting the general powers conferred by that section, said: "But it is very manifestly meant, not to limit the powers of the General Assembly (in the matter of general legislation) but to confer certain parliamentary privileges on the separate branches, so that each house, when in session, could, without the concurrence of the other, promptly protcet itself against indecency, disorder, corruption, or other misbehavior of members or strangers." I do not apprehend that this Senate is called upon to expel either strangers or members for things that they do outside of this chamber, even in the City of Harrisburg, unless those acts are in some way connected with the business of this Senate. We have no "snooping" committee to spy upon either the morals or the manners of members of this Senate outside of this chamber. If, notwithstanding the words of Chief Justice Black, above quoted, we can expel a member for things he did not do in our presence or in this chamber, and that have nothing to do with the business of this Senate, and do so under the guise of protecting the Senate "against indecency, disorder, corruption or other misbehavior," then again we should hear and weigh the evidence of the overt acts that we think justifies us in expelling the offending member. Even a court, without evidence, cannot commit for contempt based on things alleged to have been said or done not in open court.

Even if this were a proceeding to expel Senator McClure, I could not vote to expel him without seeing and hearing the witnesses in view of the fact that there never was any final udgment of any court against him. Even if there had been a final judgment against him in the Federal Court by which this Senate would be bound, a proper regard for legal and orderly procedure would require proof of the very udgment itself by certified copy or by other legal proof. I apprehend that even a Justice of the Peace would not base any decision on newspaper reports. Unless I were bound by some final judgment, I would consider it my duty to hear the evidence and see the witnesses. We certainly know that a ury passes on the credibility of the witnesses even though their name is legion. This Senate ought to do no less. Maybe we could believe the witnesses, and maybe we could not.

These remarks about the evidence upon which we should act, in a proper case, apply both to cases where, in our super-righteous conceptions of the reputed acts of members, we conclude that they are not sufficiently lily white at least to permit the rest of us to mingle with them, and also to cases where under our constitution, a "conviction of embezzlement of public moneys, bribery, perjury or other infamous crime" renders the member ineligible to the office of Senator, and therefore maybe authorizes the Senate to expel.

To authorize us to expel Senator McClure on any of these constitutional grounds, we ought to have proper proof of a "conviction" of some of the crimes enumerated. We have no such proof. We do not understand that Senator McClure was even indicted for, much less convicted of embezzlement of public moneys, bribery or perjury. The charge against him, if within the list prescribed by our constitution at all, must have been an "infamous crime." What is an "infamous crime?" I find that the ideas of lawyers are somewhat nebular about the answer to this question. All seem to agree that a conviction of such a crime renders the person incompetent as a witness. If a violation of the liquor laws, or a conspiracy to violate them, ever was an "infamous crime," it certainly is not now. After the repeal of the 18th amendment, even the court before which the case was pending, ceased to have any power to act further in the case. Even the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as such, is now actively engaged in the liquor business for profit, or the mirage of profit. It may be that a conviction of a crime that does not now exist would render a man incompetent as a witness even after the court's power over the case was taken away by a change in the Federal Constitution, but the lay mind hesitates to accept that conclusion.

Senator McClure did not have a final judgment of conviction against him. At the time the crime with which he was charged ceased to be a crime, and the liquor business became a virtue, he was asking for a new trial and he might have been granted a new trial. A new trial might have resulted in acquittal. Had that happened, certainly no sensible person would attempt to expel him from this Senate, because the first jury, in an erroneous trial, had returned a verdict of guilty. Whether the first trial was erroneous or not will never be determined by the courts, because the basis of the Court's jurisdiction was taken away by the change in the Federal Constitution. Therefore we are left to act, if we act, on our own investigation as a Senate, and we have made none and this resolution does not call for any.

THIRD: Reduced to its lowest terms, this resolution provides for nothing that this Senate has the constitutional right to do. It is neither an impeachment nor a proceeding to expel. It is nothing more than an invitation to Senator McClure to get out, to get out without a hearing, and without an opportunity to present evidence at the bar of this Senate. This resolution is just an idle gesture. Senator McClure may either decline or accept our invitation to resign as he sees fit. We have no right to ask him to resign. He represents the people of his district and not this Senate. Until this case comes before us in some form in which we have the constitutional power to act, I decline to take any part in it.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President and members of the Senate, on last Wednesday evening the following item appeared in the Harrisburg Evening News:

An eight-page legal brief, prepared for the committee by George Reed, Dauphin, and upon which the action was based, was announced to the press with the decision.

"After hearing a brief of the law read as it pertained to resolutions of the Senator Prince type," the chairman explained, "a motion was made, seconded and carried that the resolution be indefinitely postponed because of lack of jurisdiction."

Earlier in the day Prince, who had announced he would move for discharge of the committee if it did not report on the resolution during the Tuesday session, was advised by Staudenmeier that the committee would report the resolution out with a "negative commendation" next Monday night. With that in mind, Prince withheld his intended motion.

Learning of the committee's action last night, Prince denied that a question of jurisdiction is involved in his resolution. He admitted there would be question of jurisdiction if his proposal sought to oust McClure.

Prince characterized the basis of the committee's decision as a device "to sidestep the issue in a plausible manner."

"It is just a method of throwing dust in the eyes of the public to obscure the main issue," he said.

Mr. President, I notice that the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, has not stated wherein that brief, which I prepared, was a device to side-step the issue.

Mr. President, I have not noticed that the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, has stated a single proposition showing that the Senate of Pennsylvania has jurisdiction. It is not my purpose to engage in personalities. To my mind the least important figure in this controversy is the Senator from Delaware. The issue here is a constitutional issue, involving every foundation of government, namely, whether or not the people of Delaware County, comprising the Ninth Senatorial District, shall be permitted to name their representative in the Senate of Pennsylvania, or whether or not the Senate may attempt to exercise the veto power. I have spent many hours—I will say I have spent many days, in searching precedents. I did not find in the entire history of the American Republic that in any legislative assembly a resolution analogous to the present resolution has ever been acted upon but I do find from the very beginning of our government in the Congress of the United States it has been uniformly held that a Senator, or a member of the House of Representatives cannot be investigated for any alleged misconduct prior to his election. I think every Senator will agree that the monumental authority on this proposition of legislative precedent is the work of Asher C. Hinds, one of the greatest parliamentarians that has ever lived in this country, who was for almost a quarter of a century the parliamentarian of the United States House of Representatives; and Mr. Hinds has collected all the precedents bearing upon this proposition. They are contained in seven sections, from 1283 to 1289, inclusive, in volume 2, chapter 42, and relate to punishment and expulsion of members.

In order that we may have a record here to which the Senator from Cumberland may reply, if he wishes, I desire to enumerate these precedents in detail. Section 1283 relates to King and Schumaker, in the forty-fourth Congress, where the Judiciary Committee in the House of Representatives concluded that those members could not be tried or punished by the House for offenses committed against a preceding Congress.

Section 1284 relates to a very famous precedent, when in 1799 the House of Representatives at Washington declined to expel Matthew Lyon for an offense committed prior to his re-election to the House of Representatives.

Section 1285 relates to the case in 1858 where the House of Representatives, after discussion, laid on the table the question as to O. B. Matterson's conduct during his service in the preceding Congress.

Section 1286 relates to numerous cases in 1872, where members of Congress were charged with bribery committed before the election of the then existing house, and the House of Representatives declined expulsion.

Section 1287 relates also to a very famous case, in 1884, when John G. Carlisle, one of the greatest parliamentarians who ever occupied the office of Speaker of Congress, said: "This House has no right to punish a member for any offense alleged to have been committed previous to his election to the House."

Section 1288 relates to the very famous case of Humphrey Marshall, a Senator, in which the Senate of the United States held that for a crime alleged to have been committed before his election a Senator cannot be tried by the Senate of the United States.

Section 1289 relates to the famous case of William M. Roach, Senator from the State of North Dakota, a case which I mentioned at very great length in my brief, and which I desire to take a few moments of the time of the Senate to discuss, being, as I believe it is, an absolutely binding precedent.

First, let us consider what Senator Roach of North Dakota was charged with. He was charged, as was said, on the floor of the Senate.

"The Senator from North Dakota presented himself here on the 4th day of March, at the opening of the Session, without any previous suggestion made anywhere that there was anything whatever in his past life or conduct which in any way militated against his being sworn in or being a proper member of this body. He came with the credentials of his State in proper form, and was therefore admitted and took the oath, and became a sitting Senator from the state of North Dakota.

"On the 15th of March publications appeared in the newspapers charging, in specific terms, that in the year 1879 ('and since I have been a member of this Senate') he was a bank officer in a bank in the District of Columbia; that as such bank officicer he embezzled the funds of the bank to the specific amount stated of $64,000 and fled the city; that $25,000 of that sum was made up to the bank by his bondsmen; that another sum I think about $16,000, was realized by the bank from some property which belonged to him, which was secured by attachment; and that the balance of the $64,000, had never been made up to the bank, and he had remained a fugitive from justice from that day to this.

"This is the charge; and I submit in the outset, in replying to a suggestion made by the Senator from Indiana, that it is not a question of morals; it is a question of criminality. If it be true as charged, then the Senator from North Dakota became amenable to the criminal laws of the country, and if tried and convicted for the offense would have been liable to imprisonment in the penitentiary. Thi sis not a question of morals; it is not a question of taste; or religion; it is not a question of choosing our associates and selecting the men whom we may like to associate with. It is a question whether, these charges having been made boldly and specifically and not denied either by the person against whom they are made or by any body else, the Senate has any duty to perform. These charges, as I said, first appeared in the public press on the 15th day of March 1st. No notice was taken of them in the Senate until the 28th day of March."

In response to an inquiry as to who had made the charges, Senator Platt of Connecticut, from whom I quote, said:

"As I was saying, no notice was at first taken of these charges, which, by the way, are not confined to one or two newspapers but have gone the length and breadth of this land till all the people of the country know what they are."

As for the charges against Senator Roach, Senator George, of Mississippi, one of the greatest lawyers who ever occupied a seat in the Senate of the United States, who had served as Chief Justice in Mississippi, before he became a Senator, said:

"I deny absolutely the power of this body under any circumstances to institute and conduct an investigation in relation to the conduct of a Senator, that conduct having transpired before his election to this body and that conduct being disconnected with election. I deny absolutely that any consent on the part of a Senator whose conduct is proposed to be investigated will give this body the jurisdiction."

May I also quote further? Senator Daniel W. Voorhees, from Indiana, then the acknowledged Democratic leader on the floor of the Senate of the United States, and you will note from what I now read that this was the position of Senator Voorhees as the spokesman of the Democratic party:

"According to the position and argument of the Senator from New Hampshire, when Senators reach here from the States this body may resolve itself into an inquisitorial jury to try the moral, mental, and physical qualifications of the newcomers. Such is the conclusion imperatively enforced by his argument. On this side of the Chamber we hold a distinctly different theory of government; and it is because I desire the country to know where we stand on this question rather than for any other reason that I am prompted to say a few words in this debate.

"Sir, Senators are officers of States. They are set here by States and States alone. It has been held now for nearly one hundred years that they are not civil officers of the Federal Government. That was decided in 1779 in the celebrated case of Senator Blount. Which has been mentioned here this afternoon. It was held in that case that Mr. Blount was not triable in the Senate for an alleged offense committed even while a Senator, because of the constitutional fact that a Senator is not a civil officer of the Government of the United States."

Mr. PRESIDENT, I state that has been the position taken by the great constitutional lawyers of the Senate of the United States ever since it was first announced in the Blount case in 1799, but in order to enforce my point I wish to quote from one other distinguished Senator, Roger Q. Mills, for many years Democratic leader in the House of Representatives, as Chairman of the Ways and Means Committe, the author of the famous Mills Tariff Bill, who later served as Senator from Texas. The Senator said:

"I plead the jurisdiction of this Court. It has no power to invade the sanctuary of a private citizen and inquire how he has lived or whether he has committed any offense or not. That belongs to the Grand Jury of his State and the Grand Jury of his district where it is charged that he has committed an offense. There he may go. There he may have the benefit of counsel to represent him. There he can have the witnesses to testify in his behalf and have a fair and impartial public trial, and that before an impartial jury. He cannot have that here. The constitution has, fortunately for the American people and for the liberties which they cherish and which are guarded by that instrument, slammed the door in the face of the Senate and House of Representatives against passing bills of attainder."

And to the inquiry of another Senator as to the supposition that a Senator commits a felony, Senator Mills replied:

"You may expel him for an offense he commits here. The gentleman is anticipating me. I am coming to that question. Perhaps I have said enough on the first point. I will now come to the other provision. If the Senator cannot be ousted from his seat by a majority vote on the ground that he has not an additional qualification prescribed by the Senate in addition to that prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, then the only way to get rid of him is to expel him. For what may you expel him and for what may you punish any member of this body?"

I shall not quote further. The position has been taken from the very foundation of the American Government that except in cases of fraud in violating the election law that a Senator or member of the House of Representatives cannot be brought for trial, cannot be investigated, cannot be punished for any election offense committed prior to his election.

This question, as far as I know, has never arisen in Pennsylvania, so the question arises, Are we bound by the precedent of the Congress of the United States, or is there some provision in the Constitution of Pennsylvania which gives to the Senate greater rights than are enjoyed by the Senate of the United States, because, I hope, Mr. President, it will be borne in mind that Senator Roach, the alleged embezzler, served his term of six years in the Senate of the United States, because it was conceded that under the Constitution there was no power to remove him.

Now what does the Constitution of Pennsylvania say? Article 2, Section 5, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania defines the qualifications of Senators and Representatives, and Article 2, Section 6, defines certain disqualifications. I am not going to quote those provisions, because they have not the slightest application to the existing issue, but Article 2, Section 7, is very important, and it is a provision in our Constitution not to be found in the Constitution of the United States. It is therein provided:

> "No person hereafter convicted of embezzlement of public moneys, bribery, perjury or other infamous crimes, shall be eligible to the General Assembly, or capable of holding any office of trust or profit in this Commonwealth."

It will therefore be immediately recognized that we are dealing with a provision which relates not only to members of legislative bodies, but to all public officials, and right here let me call your attention to what I believe to be the fundamental error in the position taken by the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, and that is, that he proceeds upon the theory that there was a conviction of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure. I deny that statement.

Mr. President, I say that here in the Senate of Pennsylvania, in this, the highest legislative body of our Commonwealth, we should, as Senators, take words not in their popular acceptation, but in the acceptation, or the definition, which has been given to them by the court. I could quote many authorities, but to emphasize my position I want to quote but a few paragraphs from the decision of one of the distinguished judges of my court, Judge Wickersham, as it fully contains all the decisions of the appellate court bearing upon this question. Judge Wickersham said:

> "Applying these principles, what construction must be given to the word 'convicted?' It perhaps may be said to be a 'simple' or an 'ordinary' word, but its simplicity is disturbed when it is used in the law. The word 'convicted' is of equivocal meaning. It has a popular as well as a technical meaning."

Now what is the legal meaning? He further said:

In Commonwealth vs. Minnich, a decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, it was said:

> "A verdict of a jury, without more is but the expression of the collective opinion of twelve men, which concludes nothing, and supports nothing, except as it is followed by a judgment."

To quote further:

> "Moreover, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has construed the term in its legal term, as found in the Constitution. In Shield vs. Westmoreland County, 253 Pa. 271, 273, the Supreme Court distinctly decided that the word 'convicted' in the Constitutional provision now under consideration was used in the legal sense. On September 11, 1911, verdicts of guilty embezzlement and perjury were rendered against the defendant. At the November election he was elected a County Commissioner notwithstanding these verdicts. On November 11, 1911, he was sentenced to a definite term. On an appeal the Supreme Court directed that he be resentenced to an indefinite term, which was done May 11, 1912."

And according to the opinion of the court it was not until 1912 that there was a conviction, the time when there was a sentence under which this defendant was sent to the penitentiary.

Now what happened in the McClure case? There was a verdict of the jury. According to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, it was the opinion of twelve men and nothing more, it had no valid effect, it had no legal effect until there was a valid judgment or sentence, and no such judgment was ever held, because, as was stated by the Senator from Delaware, on March 26, 1934, the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Third United States District, handed down an opinion:

> "Accordingly, it is, on this twenty-sixth day of March, A. D. 1934, ORDERED that the judgments as entered in the causes of the petitioning or moving defendants be reversed, and the causes, as to them, be remanded to the District Courts with direction to vacate those parts of their judgments which sentence the named defendants, to dismiss the indictments as to them, and to discharge them, respectively."

What then was the effect of that decision? Simply this: When the indictments were dismissed the whole proceeding became absolutely null and void, and anything that was said and done in that trial has no binding validity.

The Senator has made a great many disparaging remarks with respect to lawyers and with respect to the Constitution. He calls them legal technicalities. Mr. President, I ask you, is the Senate of Pennsylvania to hurl defiance at the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Third United States Circuit? Is the Senate of Pennsylvania to call this a conviction when the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has repeatedly declared that there is no conviction until there is a sentence or judgment? That, I submit, is the issue which has been presented here, and when I say, Mr. President, that the Senate of Pennsylvania is without jurisdiction I go to the far deeper and far more important ground. What are the facts with regard to Senator McClure? I read from the Pennsylvania Manual in the election of 1928, the vote in the Ninth senatorial district was as follows: John J. McClure, Republican, 80,443; the Democratic candidate received 27,748; McClure's majority was 51,274. He served four years in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

The returns of the election of 1932 show: John J. McClure, Republican, 69135; the Democratic candidate received 32,348; Senator McClure's majority, 33,289.

What is the significance of those figures? It is simply this: Whatever Senator McClure may have done prior to the election of 1932, and on that question I pass no judgment, yet the people of Delaware County saw fit to send him back by that enormous majority.

What are the duties of Senators under the Constitution? We have certain qualifications of which we are entitled to inquire. They relate to his age, to his residence, to a few other matters specified in the Constitution. Now it is one of the fundamental rules of construction that when powers are enumerated, that precludes absolutely the consideration of other matters, and what is the Senator from Cumberland attempting to add here? He is attempting to add an additional qualification as a Senator, the qualification of a certain degree, or a certain grade of morality. Mr. President, that, I say, the Senate of Pennsylvania has no power to do. It has been so decided again and again in the Congress of the United States, it has been so construed by the courts, and that, I say, under the Constitution is denied to the Senate.

Now, if this resolution should pass, what then? It is my opinion that we will have established a precedent which may plague the legislature of Pennsylvania during the years to come. If we are to prescribe for the Senate a certain type of morals, what is to prevent us hereafter from saying that we do not want a Senator because of his race, that we do not want a Senator because of some religious views which he may hold. We are leaving the door wide open for resolutions of this character, so that when one party may be overwhelmingly in power, it would be easy for a large majority to expel a Senator in Pennsylvania, any Senator in Pennsylvania whom it does not wish, and I could quote to you from the records again and again where statements of that kind have been made as an incident that the House of Representatives adhere to this Constitutional provision that there is no right under the Constitution to exclude a man for anything which he may have done prior to his election. As to such matters he must be adjudged by the people of his own district, and so, Mr. President, I state on the floor of this Senate with all the vehemence and passion which I possess, that that brief which I wrote was not a smoke-screen. I have given it the best consideration of which I am capable. If there are any authorities contrary to the views I take, I hope the Senator from Cumberland will state what they are on the floor of this Senate.

I wish to call attention to just one other matter in conclusion, and that is, as to the very definition which the Senator from Cumberland has himself given to this motion. On February 4th he said "Republican and Democratic members alike may feel reluctant to participate in what is substantially a vote of ostracism against a colleague with whom their personal relations have been friendly." Mr. President, I ask, under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, is there any right in this Senate to pass a vote of ostracism? What does ostracism mean? It comes from the ancient Greeks. It was a matter of politics, where a man who was prominent in the life of ancient Greece was exiled, but that system, according to all history which I have read, was so political in character, and so offensive, that it was even outlawed by the ancient Greeks, almost five hundred years ago, before the dawn of the Christian Era, and yet the Senator from Cumberland announced that he is introducing a resolution of ostracism.

Mr. President, I say that the Committee on Judiciary Special gave this matter full consideration. We have acted upon our conviction. Other members of the Committee may speak for themselves, but personally I have not given one moment's consideration to the question of the guilt or innocence of the Senator from Delaware. The first question which I, as a Senator, must answer is the question of jurisdiction, and being convinced, under all the authorities, under all the precedents, that the Senate has no jurisdiction of this resolution, I will ask, when a motion to discharge a Committee is made, that the Senate endorse the action of its Committee.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to the question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. LAW. I would like to call your attention to what a vote to discharge a committee means in my estimation. I do not feel that such a vote is a censure of the committee. If I felt that way I absolutely could not vote for it, because I believe that the members of the committee, of which I am member, acted in all honesty and fairness in the action they took, that each member voted in all seriousness for what he honestly and truly believed was right. But I feel this as a Senate here we delegate matters of business to the various committees to go into, and from those committees there is always an appeal to the court en banc. In other words, we may appeal from the action of a committee which is unsatisfactory to us to the action of the whole Senate, and by a majority vote the whole Senate may reverse the action of the committee; and such action of the Senate is in no way a censure upon the committee.

I feel that the committee acted in good spirit and with all essential fairness, but I cannot agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that for the Senate to overrule them would be an act of censure, or that we are bound to abide by the action of that committee; and I want to say further, on the question of jurisdiction, that as I see this resolution it is not a resolution to expel—this involves no trial upon the merits of the case, it is merely an expression of an opinion upon the part of the members of the Senate. We express our opinions here in resolutions as to what we think the United States Congress should do; we express our opinions on a hundred other matters over which we have no control whatever, and in the same way we may express our opinion here as to the matter of the resignation of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, although we have no power to compel his resignation; and we have no power to compel his resignation and we have no power to expel him. If the issue here was one of expulsion, under the law I should be obliged to take the stand that the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, has in this matter; but I say here that it is a matter of opinion. This is simply a resolution in which we express our opinion as to what the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, should do. True, it is a moot question, into which we have no right to go further; but we have jurisdiction to act on this resolution, and I feel that that the point of jurisdiction, while it covers the question of expulsion, does not go to the question of such a resolution as this.

Mr. THOMPSON (Westmoreland). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON. I agree with the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, who has just spoken, that this is not a question of jurisdiction, I, too, would hesitate to vote for the discharge of this committee if it had not been that they put into their position that they have no jurisdiction in this case. I do not know when this body has been limited in the matter of resolutions: they pass resolutions on every subject under the sun. We passed one last week congratulating the President on his birthday. Every session we pass them memorializing Congress,—and we have no business to do it, probably. A resolution, as my friend said, merely indicates the desires and opinions of this body.

My learned friend, the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, has gone into an extended research, and he is probably right if this resolution meant to expel the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, or to investigate him. It does not do either of these things; it is merely an expression of the Senate on a question of morals, and these morals stand out and we cannot evade expressing our attitude on them by some flimsy excuse as to jurisdiction. The facts are these, I believe, and they cannot be denied—I am quoting from an editorial in the Pittsburgh Press of Sunday, February 17, 1935; it is headed "A Burning Issue":

Speakeasies, bawdy houses, gambling joints and liquor smugglers paid almost $3,000,000 for protection.

One hundred and four witnesses took the stand and told of caravans of liquor moving at night under protection of law-enforcement officers; of prostitutes paying protection in order to ply their trade; of weekly lists of speakeasies which were to be raided because they had refused to "kick in;" of threats and prosecutions and even one killing growing out of this nefarious business, and of wholesale corruption and bribery.

For 44 days the United States Government piled up 2,000,000 words of testimony concerning a rum and vice ring almost without parallel in the political history of the United States.

And at the head of this ring, according to the inescapable testimony of witness after witness, was a State Senator of Pennsylvania, the political dictator of his county and a power in the councils of the Republican Party.

At the end of these 44 days of testimony, the State Senator made no denial of the charges.

He was convicted and was sentenced to serve 18 months in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000.

My friend, the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, raises the question that there was no judgment in this case. Of course there was a judgment in this case, — he knows it as a lawyer; every lawyer in this body knows it, — the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, was convicted, and that conviction stands on the records of the United States Court to this day. The reason he was not sentenced is, merely, that the Prohibition Amendment was repealed, and it was for no other reason.

I, too, let me say to the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, have had a mother—now deceased, and I believe she would be ashamed of me if I stood in this Senate and joined in the proposition to allow a man like the Senator from Delaware to sit here and continue to make the laws of the State of Pennsylvania. It is a question of decency, that is all; and none of these flimsy excuses we have heard tonight can be made to pass it by with the people of Pennsylvania.

BRIEF SUBMITTED TO COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY SPECIAL BY THE HONORABLE GEORGE L. REED

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the brief of the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, be printed in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BRIEF

The undersigned, members of the Judiciary Special Committee, herein set forth reasons why Senate Resolution No. 8, introduced by the Senator from Cumberland, Dr. Prince, should not be adopted by the Senate. The only important resolve in the said resolution is a request to the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, "to relieve his colleagues of further embarrassment," by resigning from the Senate of Pennsylvania.

In giving proper consideration to this resolution, certain facts must be considered. On February 4, 1935, the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, under a question of personal privilege said on the floor of the Senate:

> "I rather welcome, tonight, any resolution which the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, will introduce here, or any resolution that any other Senator will introduce here, because I will hope to have an opportunity to appear before any committee of this body to which it is referred, where I am sure I can clear myself. I can look every Senator in the face tonight and say I was innocent of every charge that was preferred against me in the Federal Court."

Immediately thereafter, and before offering his resolution, the Senator from Cumberland, Dr. Prince, under a question of personal privilege, said inter alia, upon the floor of the Senate:

> "Technically the Senator from Delaware may be entitled to sit in this Chamber; morally he is not. Technically the Senate may be under no obligation to take notice of the fact that he does sit here; morally it is.

"But the Dalaware County conspiracies were without extenuating fact or circumstances, characterized by shameless collusion and alliance with the most disreputable elements of society, and motivated by the lust of gain. The Senator was convicted and throughout his trial he made no defense."

Upon invitation of the Chairman, and with the approval of all members of the Committee on Judiciary Special, on February 12, 1935, the Senator from Cumberland, Dr. Prince, and the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, appeared before the Committee. Neither demanded an investigation, although Senator McClure again expressed his willingness to be investigated. No formal demand for an investigation being made to the Committee either by Senator Prince or by Senator McClure, the Committee on Judiciary Special has nothing before it, officially or otherwise, with respect to Senator McClure, other than the consideration of Senate Resolution No. 8.

The resolution, in the first clause, avers that Senator McClure has been "convicted" in a Federal Court of serious misdemeanors. It is true that a jury rendered a verdict of guilty, but Senator McClure forthwith filed with the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Third United States Circuit, "petitions, motions, and pleas to reverse the judgment of sentence," and also, "to dismiss the proceedings below and discharge the defendant." The official record of the proceedings in the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Third United States Circuit is to be found in 70 Federal Reporter, 2nd Series, at page 519. The record shows that the above mentioned proceedings were had before the four Judges of the Third United States Circuit Court, viz., Judge Buffington, Judge Woolley, Judge Davis, and Judge Thompson. On March 26, 1934, a brief Per Curiam opinion was handed down by the said Appellate Court, the material part whereof is as follows:

"Accordingly it is, on this 26th day of March A. D. 1934, ordered that the judgments as entered in the causes of the petitioning or moving defendants be reversed, and the causes, as to them, be remanded to the District Courts, with direction to vacate those parts of their judgment which sentence the named defendants, to dismiss the indictments as to them, and to discharge them, respectively."

Full faith and credit must be given to the decree of the United States Circuit Court of the Third Circuit. Inasmuch as all indictments against Senator McClure were dismissed, and all judgments of sentences were vacated, manifestly both the verdict of the jury, and as well the decision of the trial court, must be considered as null and void.

It is conceded that the Senate of Pennsylvania is the sole judge of the qualifications of a Senator. It has uniformly been the position of eminent constitutional lawyers, who have served in the Senate of the United States, that the Senate, in passing judgment upon the qualifications of a Senator, is limited in its jurisdiction to the qualifications which are prescribed by the Constitution, and that the sole execption to this rule of construction is alleged improper conduct of a Senator in procuring his election to the Senate. The same rule of construction has, as far as we can ascertain, uniformly obtained in the House of Representatives at Washington. A reference to Hinds' Precedents, Vol. 2, Chapter 42, sections 1283-89 inclusive, indicates that it has been repeatedly held by both branches of Congress that a member can neither be investigated, tried, nor punished for an alleged offense committed before his election, and not relating to his election.

Also, there is eminent authority which, in addition, holds, that no consent of the party to be investigated can give jurisdiction to the Senate. In other words the Senate being without jurisdiction, the want of jurisdiction can not be secured by the request of a Senator that he be investigated.

A definite determination of constitutional provisions to be applied to the case of Senator McClure is to be found in the proceedings in the United States Senate, when in 1693 it was alleged that William N. Roach, a Democratic Senator from the State of North Dakota, had been guilty of embezzlement prior to his election; that said embezzlement had occurred while the said Senator was an officer of a bank in the District of Columbia; that he had never made restitution of large sums of money; and that his status, thereafter, had been that of a fugitive from justice. In discussing the Roach case in the United States Senate, Senator Daniel W. Voorhees, of Indiana, then the recognized floor leader of the Democratic party said:

"So, Mr. President, from that day in 1799 to the present day it has been conceded, it has been the concensus for nearly one hundred years of opinion of this country, in this body and elsewhere, that a Senator is not amenable to punishment for crime or impeachment as a civil officer.

"Mr. President, let us take another step in looking at this question. Again, what is a Senator, and how comes he here? In the construction of this Government provision was made for a Congress of the United States composed of two great bodies. In making that provision the Federal Government could and might have gone further and laid down other and more extensive rules or conditions, but declared only three conditions on which a Senator was to be admitted from a State. What were they? You will find in section 3 of Article I these few and simple conditions imopsed as to the qualifications of a Senator:

"No persons shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

"Why did they not go on, if the Senator from New Hampshire is right, and say further that inquiry should be made whether he had ever been charged with a misdemeanor, and, if he had, that he should not be admitted? They had the subject in their minds and in their hands; they were prescribing conditions, and those conditions, though affirmative, are in the nature of a severe limitation, for in inserting them they excluded all others. Every lawyer knows the weight of any argument of this kind; every lawyer knows when Congress was dealing with that subject-matter and went no further it was a denial to this body of power to go beyond the limitation expressed. A compliance with the constitutional conditions admits a Senator, and he is subject to but one other inquiry under the Constitution. We hear a good deal sometimes about investigating a Senator's election to this body. It is provided that the Senate shall be the judge of the qualifications and elections of its own members. Yes, we may judge of his qualifications, to the extent limited by the Constitution. If, as in some very celebrated instance, a man should come here alleged to be under the prescribed age or who had not been a citizen of this country nine years, or if not an inhabitant of the State, an investigation would be allowed, because these are required conditions by the Constitution.

"There is still, however, another field of investigation. If charges are made that a man used fraud, was guilty of corruption, bribery, or other improper conduct before his Legislature in securing his election, the right to investigate arises, because, if such charges are true, he has not been elected at all according to law, but according to fraud.

"I appeal to the older and better trained legal intellects on the other side of the Chamber to know where the additional power claimed by you for an investigation is given by the Constitution. There is a difference between a power given and a power taken. I know you can trample upon all distinctions; I know you can trample upon the fundamental law. I do not say that you desire to do it in this instance.

"I wish to forbear in speech today. I ask learned men, however—I ask legal minds, where do you get one scintilla of power or a hair's breadth of right to investigate beyond these limitations? No one can take his stand on the written law and make good his claim."

This quotation from Senator Voorhees states a conclusion which, as far as we can ascertain, has never been departed from. The Committee on Judiciary Special has no information of any alleged offenses committed by Senator McClure relating to his election to the Senate of Pennsylvania in 1932. As far as we are advised, all alleged offenses antedate his election to the Senate. Certainly there is no suspicion of misconduct as a Senator. Wherefor, the Senate of Pennsylvania is without jurisdiction to investigate, to try, or to punish Senator McClure for any offense alleged to have been committed, unless the Constitution of Pennsylvania contains some provision reserving power or authority to act in the instant case, which is not to be found in the Constitution of the United States.

Article 2, Section 5 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, defines the qualifications of Senators and Representatives, and Article 2, Section 6, defines certain disqualifications. These have no application to the instant case.

Article 2, Section 7, is important. It is therein provided that:

> "No person hereafter convicted of embezzlement of public moneys, bribery, perjury or other infamous crimes, shall be eligible to the General Assembly, or capable of holding any office of trust or profit in this Commonwealth."

All offenses of which Senator McClure was indicted, having been obliterated by the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, there is a strong probability that any competent court would hold that the offenses with which Senator McClure was charged can not be held to be "infamous crimes." But it is not necessary to decide that question. The Senate of Pennsylvania is bound to respect the decree of the United States Circuit Court, and according to that decree, Senate McClure has never been legally convicted of any crime.

Article 2, Section 7, of the Constitution, however, conclusively shows that the Senate of Pennsylvania is without jurisdiction to investigate, to try, or to punish Senator McClure, for any delinquency, for which he is charged by the distinguished Senator from Cumberland County. It is a sound rule of construction that the enumeration of certain offenses, precludes the consideration of others. It must be applied in the instant case. Senator McClure has never been convicted of any of the enumerated crimes. Hence he can not be disciplined for any offense.

Article 2, Section 11, of our Constitution related to the powers of each House as to expulsion, is analagous to, and amplifies Article 1, Section 5, Clause 2, of the Constitution of the United States. For purpose of comparison we quote both provisions as follows:

Pennsylvania's Constitution provides:

> "Each House shall have power to determine the rules of its proceedings and punish its members or other persons for contempt or disorderly behavior in its presence, to enforce obedience to its process, to protect its members against violence or offers of bribes or private solicitation, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, to expel a member, but not a second time for the same cause, and shall have all other powers necessary for the legislature of a free State. A member expelled for corruption shall not thereafter be eligible to either House, and punishment for contempt or disorderly behavior shall not bar an indictment for the same offense."

The United States Constitution provides:

> "Each House may determine the Rules of its proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a Member."

It has uniformly been held by both branches of Congress that the conduct for which a Member may be expelled, relates to rules for procedure and punishment for disorderly behavior in the execution of those rules or in prohibiting others from executing those rules. That was the construction placed upon the clause by Mr. Justice Joseph Story, and has uniformly been the construction given that clause by the Senate of the United States. (See Vol. 25, Congressional Record, Part 1, page 162).

The rule of construction adopted by Mr. Justice Story applies equally to our State Constitution.

Senator McClure has stated upon the floor of the Senate that he will not resign. Has the Senate, in view of this fact, the right to request the resignation of a Senator, the validity of whose election is not questioned and who possesses the Constitutional qualifications? We again refer to the Roach case where this latter inquiry was persuasively answered by an able constitutional lawyer, Senator James Z. George of Mississippi, who served as a United States Senator from 1881 until his death in 1897, and who, prior to the election as Senator had served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Mississippi. During the Roach debate, Senator George said:

> "Then, sir, what are the rules by which we are to determine whether we shall expel a member or not for acts done prior to his election? They are absolutely unwritten in the Constitution; they are left to the discretion of this body; and that discretion, when translated into plain English constitutional language, means that the Senate of the United States have the right to expel a person from this body because they do not like what he may have done prior to his election to the Senate. If any Senator can say to me that that is not the correct statement of the proposition I should like to hear him. I deny, therefore, that we have any jurisdiction. I deny, therefore, that any consent on the part of the Senator can give jurisdiction.
> "But do Senators say, as I heard one suggest the other day, that we have a right to know with whom we are associated. Where do we get that right? What clause of the Constitution gives the power to a Senator from Mississippi or to a Senator from any other State to say, 'I invoke the action of this body to enable me to determine whether I shall associate with the Senator from Arkansas or the Senator from any other State?' This body has not jurisdiction—I want that understood—to make any inquiry, except that inquiry be the foundation for some action of this body, not the action of A and B, or C and D, who may be members of this body, but the action of the body as a Senate."

The passage of the Prince Resolution cannot be the foundation of any future action of the Senate of Pennsylvania. Should it be adopted, and should Senator McClure refuse to resign, the Senate would be powerless to compel that resignation. Therefore the conclusion is unescapable that the resolution is ultra vires as affecting the status of Senator McClure as a Senator, and its passage is, therefore, outside the constitutional limits of the Senate as affecting the rights of the Senate to pass upon the qualifications of a Senator.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, if the Senator from Dauphin objects to the application of the term "device" to his learned brief, I will change the designation and describe it as a "plea in confession and avoidance."

I would like to assure the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that so far as I am concerned there will be no further impediments thrown into the legislative works. I am opposed, on principle, to the dismissal or discharge of committees having under consideration legislative bills. I have stated that on this floor. My action has been consistent with it, and will continue to be. But this is not a legislative bill. Legislative bills must be referred to committees; resolutions need not be. I move that this resolution be adopted immediately.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

I have no scruples, then, in moving, as I now do, that the Committee on Judiciary Special be discharged from further consideration of the resolution asking the resignation of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure; and I demand a roll call on the question.

Mr. THOMPSON (Westmoreland). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Prince and Mr. Thompson (Westmoreland) and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Baumer,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Rupp,
Frey,	Law,	Reed,	Thompson,
Graff,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	(Westmoreland)
Harris,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Thompson,
Huffman,	Prince,	Roberts,	(Centre)

NAYS—26

Aron,	Coyne,	Mallery,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Ealy,	Miller,	Shapiro,
Bennett,	Gelder,	Norton,	Sones,
Boyd,	Harvey,	Owlett,	Staudenmeier,
Buckman,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Trainer,
Chapman,	Howell,	Reed,	Woodward,
Clark,	Hunsicker,	(Dauphin)

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. STAUDENMEIER read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 340, entitled:

A Supplemnt to the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Act No. 203), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restriction; limiting the obligations of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures, located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act;" establishing an additional route in the County of Schuylkill-Columbia.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 341, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Act No. 203), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions, limiting the obligations of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures, located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations, and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act;" establishing an additional route in the county of Schuylkill.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr BOYD read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 342, entitled:

An Act to amend clause First as amended of section one of the act, approved the ninth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 614), entitled "An act relating to the service of certain process in actions at law, and the effects thereof, and providing who shall be made parties to certain writs," limiting the class on whom certain service may be made.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 343, entitled:

An Act to amend section thirty-eight of the act, approved the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six (P. L. 568), entitled "An act relating to the commencement of actions," requiring more specific statements in the return of writs of summons."

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. EALY read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 344, entitled:

An Act to amend the title, and sections one and two of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1019), entitled "An act relating to seated lands purchased by county commissioners at county treasurer's sale of seated lands for collection of taxes; authorizing the county commissioners to sell the same at private sale under the circumstances," by extending the provisions thereof to unseated lands.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. HOMSHER read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 345, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five (P. L. 309), entitled "An act relating to damages for injuries producing death," by giving personal representatives the right to recover damages for hospital, nursing, medical and funeral expenses.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 346, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and to reenact subsection (b) as amended of section thirty-five of the act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 447), entitled "An act relating to the administration and distribution of the estates of decedents and of minors, and of trust estates; including the appointment, bonds, rights, powers, duties, liabilities, accounts, discharge and removal of executors, administrators, guardians, and trustees, herein designated as fiduciaries; the administration and distribution of the estates of presumed decedents, widow's and children's exemptions; debts of decedents, rents of real estate as assets for payment thereof, the lien thereof, sales and mortgages of real estate for the payment thereof, judgments and executions therefor, and the discharge of real estate from the lien thereof; contracts of decedents for the sale or purchase of real estate; legacies, including legacies charged on land; the discharge of residuary estates and of real estate from the lien of legacies and other charges the appraisement of real estate devised at a valuation the ascertainment of the curtilage of dwelling houses or other buildings devised; the abatement and survival of actions, and the substitution of executors and administrators therein, and suits against fiduciaries; investments by fiduciaries; the organization of corporations to carry on the business of decedents; the audit and review of accounts of fiduciaries; refunding bonds; transcripts to the court of common pleas of balances due by fiduciaries the rights, powers, and liabilities of non-resident and foreign fiduciaries; the appointment, bonds, rights, powers, duties, and liabilities of trustees durante absentia; the recording and registration of decrees, reports and other proceedings, and the fees therefor; appeals in certain cases; and, also, generally dealing with the jurisdiction, powers, and procedure of the orphans' court in all matters relating to fiduciaries concerned with the estates of decedents," authorizing executors and administrators to sue and be sued in certain actions in which their decedent might have sued or been sued.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. BENNETT read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 347, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 707), entitled "An act fixing the liability of the counties, poor districts, and the Commonwealth for the support of the indigent and partly indigent insane in State institutions," as amended; providing for credits, first to counties and poor districts when only a portion of the cost and maintenance of insane is collected.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

Also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 348, entitled:

An Act to amend the title, and to reenact and amend sections one and two of the act approved the sixteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and seven (P. L. 92), entitled "An act defining the duty of coroners, police, and health authorities, in this Commonwealth, in reference to the disposition of bodies of persons whose cause of death may be the subject of inquiry by the coroner," further defining the duties of coroners.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. CLARK read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 349, entitled:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, February 25, 1935

The House met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Warren J. Conrad, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church of Harrisburg, Pa. offered the following prayer:

Lord of Hosts, the God of our Fathers and our God, we thank Thee for our Commonwealth, for its many resources of commerce, industry, forests and mines; but above all for its spiritual heritage,—those ideals and principles which have guided former legislators to translate the commandments of God into the statutes of government.

May we in our zeal for progress and the promotion of the people's welfare, preserve those laws which honor Thy holy will. May these representatives of our people serve Thee in honesty of purpose and uprighteousness of life. May they remember that they are answerable not only to the people but also to Thee, whose word is supreme. We beseech Thee to deliver us all from the love of power for personal gain; from consideration of men and money in place of demands of truth and justice; from losing patriotism in partisanship.

Through our faithfulness and our fidelity we pray Thee that the State may be guided to better conditions, to open the way of opportunity unto us all, and may the burden of distress be relieved. Give us, therefore, wisdom for our deliberations in this session, courage for action and strength for every task. Save us from all false choices. In Thy light may we see light. Forgive us for doing what we should not do and for leaving undone what we should have done; through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

RESOLUTIONS

RESOLUTION No. 53.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 53, Printer's No. 117.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The General Assembly, in the session of 1931, created a State Emergency Relief Board, and

Whereas, The Legislature during the last several sessions has made appropriations of monies for financing or partly financing various forms of relief to help relieve unemployment and suffering; and

Whereas, The Federal government also has made several appropriations to this Commonwealth of monies for finacing or partly financing various forms of relief to help relieve unemployment and suffering; and

Whereas, The Emergency Relief Administrator of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania appointed Boards in several Counties and districts and in particular, the counties which at some time in the past, or are at present functioning in conjunction with District office at Chambersburg, Franklin County, Pennsylvania, to provide employment and to administer relief for the welfare of the people of that district; and

Whereas, There have been numerous complaints, and in many instances visible evidence of gross abuse of the discretionary power and authority granted certain persons operating in the district and its various Governmental, State, and local agencies established by and operating in conjunction with the State Emergency Relief Board, and it is further said that the following additional irregularities have also been reported;

Use of relief funds and offers of employment for political purposes, discrimination in the selection of employes, setting up of unnecessary qualifications for certain positions, so only certain persons not in need of employment or relief could obtain better positions, payment of excessive salaries in administrative positions, furnishing employment and relief to persons who have others in the family gainfully employed, or employment of two or more in one family, while refusing employment to persons in dire need of same, high cost of administration in proportion to cost of productive labor, failure to pay money due for wages, etc., and

Whereas, This session of the Legislature will be called upon to provide funds by taxation for financing and partly financing the State Emergency Relief Board who will in turn furnish finances for the operation of this District Relief Board and other Governmental, State, and local agencies operating thereunder in this district, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of at least three (3) members of the House of Representatives whose duty it shall be to make a rigid investigation of the conduct and operation of the Emergency Relief Boards operating in this district and operating in conjunction with other Governmental, State, and local agencies of the district, dating back to the inception of the activities of the State Emergency Relief Board in the Chambersburg, Pennsylvania district, as it deems necessary for the information of the House of Representatives.

That said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of said Committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said Committee, or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases, and be it further

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have a further right and authority, to issue a requisition to the aforesaid District Board and other agencies operating in conjunction therewith for such stenographic help or other service as it may deem necessary under the circumstances in the taking of the testimony, making reports, etc.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

An Act to amend section two hundred and twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" as amended permitting eel chutes on the north branch of the Susquehanna river to the Wyoming-Luzerne County line

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two hundred and twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" which was last amended by section two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one thousand four hundred nineteen) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 220 Resident Fishing License Fees For the purposes of this article every person sixteen years of age and upward upon application to any county treasurer within the Commonwealth or to the Department of Revenue and the presentation of proof that he has been a bona fide resident of this Commonwealth for a period of thirty days preceding his application and was born in the United States or was fully naturalized under the laws of the United States shall upon the payment to the county treasurer or the Department of Revenue of a license fee of one dollar and fifty cents for the use of the Commonwealth and in the event that the license is issued by a county treasurer a fee of ten cents for the use of the county treasurer be entitled to the license herein referred to as a "resident fishing license"

Upon the making of an application by any person to the department or county treasurer for a special license to catch eels by the use and operation of eel chutes and the payment of a fee of one dollar for the use of the Commonwealth and ten cents for the use of the county treasurer where application is made to him such person shall be entitled to a special eel chute license and a special metal tag which shall give him the right to use and operate an eel chute in the Susquehanna River below the [northern] boundary [of Berwick] line between Wyoming and Luzerne Counties on the north branch below the bridge at the Northumberland-Lycoming County line on the west branch in the Juniata River below Mount Union and in the Delaware River below Easton in accordance with the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The Speaker. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Page 3, Line 2, by striking out after the word "below" the balance of the line.

Amend Page 3, Line 3, by striking out the words "tween Wyoming and Luzerne Counties" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

the New York State line

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

They were agreed to,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to amend section two hundred and twenty of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448), entitled "An act relating to fish; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" as amended, permitting eel chutes on the north branch of the Susquehanna river to the Wyoming-Luzerne County line.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in in this case dispensed with

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 775, as follows:

An Act Relating to the sale delivery weighing and importation of manure for mushroom growing making certain practices in connection therewith misdemeanors and fixing fines and penalties for the violation thereof providing for the payment of such fines into the State Treasury and requiring the Department of Agriculture to enforce the provisions of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever manure is sold or delivered in this Commonwealth to be used in the growing of mushrooms such manure shall be only the natural product as the same is produced by horses in the stable without the addition of water any other manure or any other foreign substance whatsoever For the purposes of this act manure shall be deemed to be adulterated if it contains any water other than that naturally contained therein or if any other manure or any other foreign substance is mixed therewith whether such added water manure or other substance is added thereto or becomes a part thereof by permitting such manure to stand in a manure pit or any other place where water or any other substance may flow or seep into it or otherwise become a part of it

Section 2 It is unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to sell or offer for sale or to deliver to any grower of mushrooms in this Commonwealth any manure that is adulterated as defined in this act

Section 3 It is unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation in connection with any sale furnishing or delivery of manure to represent the same as being fit for growing mushrooms if such manure is adulterated within the meaning of this act

Section 4 Whenever any manure is or has been sold by weight and the price to be paid therefor is to be fixed by weighing the same at any point within this Commonwealth it is unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to deliver for weighing or to cause or permit to be weighed any manure to which has been added any water any other manure or any other substance whatsoever which increases the weight of such manure

Section 5 It is unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to import or to bring into this Commonwealth any manure for the purpose of sale or delivery for use in growing mushrooms in this Commonwealth which manure is adulterated within the meaning of this act

Section 6 Any person copartnership association or corporation who or which by himself or itself or by his or its agents servants or employes violates any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or in the case of an individual or the members of a partnership or the responsible officers of an association or corporation to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six months or both

Section 7 It shall be the duty of the Secretary of Agriculture to enforce the provisions of this act All fines and penalties collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the general fund in the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue

Section 8 The term "manure" as used in this act shall except where a different meaning is clearly intended mean only manure produced by horses

Section 9 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 10 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 11 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in in this case dispensed with

The House proceded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 844, entitled:

An Act providing for the filling of vacancies which happened heretofore or which may hereafter happen in the office of mayor in cities of the second class

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That when any vacancy shall occur in the office of mayor of any city of the second class by death resignation or otherwise the president of the city council shall become acting mayor of the city for a period of thirty days The president of council shall issue his proclamation for a meeting of the city council to be held not less than ten nor more than twenty days after any such vacancy happens in the office of mayor and at such meeting or any adjournment thereof it shall be the duty of the city council by a majority vote of all its members to elect a mayor pro tempore who shall hold office from thirty days after the date such vacancy happened until the first Monday of January succeeding the first municipal election occurring at least thirty days after such vacancy happened at which election a mayor shall be elected for the unexpired term to take office from the first Monday of January succeeding his election.

If any such vacancy happens in the office of mayor within thirty days of the first municipal election succeeding the one at which the mayor was elected or after such municipal election then the mayor pro tempore elected by the city council shall hold office for the unexpired term

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The Speaker. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 5 and 6, by striking out the words "resignation or otherwise."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TRONZO. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny tell me the purpose of the amendment?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this amendment is to make sure that in case of a death which occurs prior to the time that this bill is passed, proper action can be taken by council to put in that position the proper person.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, the charter at the present time has that provision, and until this act is enacted it would not be necessary to make that change. I therefore ask the members of this House to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, this bill No. 844, Printer's No. 114, is merely making a way for a bill known as the Mayor's ripper bill — — —

The SPEAKER. The question is on the amendment. The gentleman will confine himself to explaining the amendment.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the bill should be amended for the simple reason that in case a death occurs in the office of the mayoralty of the city of Pittsburgh, the proper person can be appointed by city council to fill his place, and I feel that the members of this General Assembly should vote "aye" on that amendment.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Tronzo and Mr. Homer S. Brown and were as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 355, Printer's No. 63, on page 10 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Reising

The House Resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 355, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty-six), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety, and welfare of minors: By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hours of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, reissuance, filing, return, and recording of the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment, attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, in certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school districts wherein they are employed; requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts, and police officers; and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder, and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," as amended, by prohibiting employment of minors between fourteen and sixteen years of age, except in certain types of work which will not interfere with school attendance; further limiting the occupations in which minors between fourteen and eighteen years of age may be employed or permitted to work, and the hours of labor; further regulating employment certificates, and requiring such certificates for minors under eighteen; imposing on school districts the duty to issue such certificates; further requiring schedules of the hours of employment to be posted; and repealing certain sections.

On the question recurring

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I ask uannimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 4, line 23, by inserting after the word "[or]" the following: "Provided, That male minors over the age of fourteen may be employed in the distribution, sale, exposing or offering for sale, of any newspaper, magazine, periodical or other publication for not more than fifty-one hours in any one week or more than eight hours in any one day, and after six o'clock in the morning and before eight o'clock in the evening."

Amend sec. 1, page 8, line 26, by inserting at the end of the line, after the word "enacted" the following: "Provided, however, That any male minor sixteen years of age, employed in the distribution, sale, exposing or offering for sale of any newspaper, magazine, periodical or other publication, shall not be required to procure an employment certjficate under this act."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, my I interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising?

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether or not these are the amendments that were suggested and agreed to by the Pennsylvania Newspapers' Publishers Association?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, not in their entirety. In part they were, but then the other people or interests who were considering the welfare of children submitted this proposition, and it seems that unanimous agreement can not be obtained and we feel this is about the nearest we can arrive at it. We do not desire to go backwards. This is leaving the situation for the newspaper boys as it has been for a number of years that this act has been in effect, as I understand it, and therefore we desire to have this amendment put into the bill in order that we can arrive at some conclusion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the explanation of the gentleman from Beaver is quite clear. However, may I merely ask him whether or not that compromise was agreed to by the Pennsylvania Publishers' Association or whether they are still opposed to these amendments?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, they are in part opposed. There are some things about it that they do not approve. I might make it clear as to what they are. They desire to take boys of the age of twelve and employ them as they are now being employed at the age of fourteen, but the child welfare interests, along with myself, do not feel that this is the right thing to do.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if it is the intention of the gentleman after these amendments are inserted, to vote upon this tonight, or is it satisfactory to let them lie over until tomorrow?

Mr. REISING. I had the desire that it be voted on tonight, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the members of the House that under the rules governing amendments, these must lie over until tomorrow for printing.

Mr. REISING. Of course, Mr. Speaker, under that rule it will lie over.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to say to the gentleman from Beaver that I agree with him.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SOWERS. Were amendments submitted to the gentleman giving the right to children above fourteen years of age to work in their father's store, may I ask, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. REISING. Not to my knowledge, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, is that prohibited in the bill as written?

Mr. REISING. Under what section of the act would that come, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I really don't know but I just want to know if it is prohibited in the bill as written.

Mr. REISING. The employment on farms is the same as it has been, and this, as I understand it will take care of the newspaper boy, but the question of a child working in his father's store was not brought up, and was not discussed.

Will the House give its unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Are there objections?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I object.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to transcribe the bill for third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to the bill on second reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to the title be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to sections three, two and one be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the first section?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 4, line 23, by inserting after the word "[or]" the following: "Provided, That male minors over the age of fourteen may be employed in the distribution, sale, exposing or offering for sale, of any newspaper, magazine, periodical or other publication for not more than fifty-one hours in any one week or more than eight hours in any one day, and after six o'clock in the morning and before eight o'clock in the evening."

Amend Sec. 1, page 6, line 26, by inserting at the end of the line, after the word "enacted" the following: "Provided, however, That any male minor sixteen years of age, employd in the distribution, sale, exposing or offering for sale of any newspaper, magazine, periodical or other publication, shall not be required to produce an employment certificate under this act."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of this amendment is, to a large extent, to exempt newspapers from the provision of this bill. I can see no good reason why they should be so exempted. As I understand the amendment, it will only prevent the employment of boys fourteen years of age in the distribution of newspapers after school hours, but will permit them to be employed fifty-one hours a week at that work. In other words, it will take away the protection which we are attempting in this measure to extend to all minors over fourteen years of age, from those employed in the work of distributing newspapers.

I do not know why it is that the newspaper publishers think that they should be exempted from every law that we bring into this House. Almost always they are in here claiming exemption in one form or another. In these days of unemployment I can see no reason why boys fourteen years of age should be taken out of school and put on the streets selling newspapers while their fathers are walking the streets idle and unemployed. The only reason why the newspaper publishers want the boys to do that work is because they can get them to do it cheaper. They talk a lot about the health of the boys and things of that sort, but the thing they are concerned about is to get their papers distributed more cheaply.

I hope that the members of this House will take their campaign pledges seriously and will vote to protect the children of this Commonwealth, all of them and not just some of them. I can see no good reason why we should exempt this particular class just to satisfy a certain selfish group.

I may say that there are a number of newspapers in the Commonwealth that are not in sympathy with this program, and I hope that you will vote down these amendments, and let the bill stand in the form that it is.

If we are going to start in exempting each industry that does not want to be covered, why we might as well not pass the bill at all. Let us protect our children by defeating these amendments. I ask you to vote "no," and, Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, supplementing the remarks of the gentleman, Mr. Hoopes, I wish to state to all those who may be interested in knowing that the complaints to which he has just referred are exceedingly mild as compared to the arguments that I have advanced to the lobbies for the newspapers, in an effort to get the bill through in its original form. However, I have concluded after a lot of work and debate on this matter that the only way that we can get this through this House is to get it through in its present form. Therefore, I will ask the members of the House to support this amendment in order that we can get it through.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support the amendments of the sponsor of this bill. It is true that the Pennsylvania Newpapers' Publishing Association have stated that the present amendments offered for this bill do not cover every section of the bill. Nevertheless, the amendment as offered for this section is entirely in accord with their ideas concerning the amendment to the bill in toto.

I might state that these amendments as now offered were prepared, if I am not mistaken, by one of the departments of the present administration.

It is not the purpose of the newspapers of the state of Pennsylvania to take children out of school in order to secure cheaper wages. It is merely due to the fact that the morning newspapers can be and should be distributed prior to the school hours and that the evening newspapers can be and should be distributed subsequent to the afternoon hours of each school day, to see that the children who have been able to earn extra money while they are attending school, can still be protected. That is the sole purpose of these amendments. They are endeavoring in so far as possible, by these amendments to make this child labor amendment conform to the present code dealing with the use of news boys, that has been adopted and approved by the present Federal administration.

I, therefore, urge you to vote "aye" on these amendments.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it has been said not so very long ago by none other than our president that if a business enterprise can not continue to exist under ordinary working rules whereby men are put to work, and if they have to depend on the labor of children, that that business enterprise has no logical reason to exist. If the newspaper publishing concerns must depend on the work of children they have no right to exist in this Commonwealth.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, it has been suggested that the purpose of these amendments are solely to permit the employment of boys before and after school. I submit to you, members of the House, that no fourteen year old boy should be permitted to work fifty-one hours a week and go to school at the same time. He can not possibly do it and maintain his health. There is no reason for extending the hours to fifty-one hours per week for these particular boys. They certainly can get the newspapers delivered by employing boys in the limit allowed in the bill, forty hours per week and there is no reason why we should extend it, and do, as we have done heretofore, give the publishers special privilege. Let us keep the bill as it is. Let it apply to all boys throughout the Commonwealth and do not penalize those who happen to be employed in a certain industry by permitting them to be worked for long hours, early in the morning and late in the evening. I am certain that the newspapers publisher's business can be adjusted so as to meet these new conditions, if required to do so. Of course, they don't want to do so. It is much easier for them to leave things as they are and to work the boys longer hours. That is always the argument. They do not want to adjust themselves to anything that is likely to cost them more money in conducting their business. We want to protect the health and the welfare of our children. That is the reason why we want the forty hour week. I can see no reason why boys fourteen years of age should be permitted to work more than forty hours a week when their fathers are walking the streets not working at all.

Let us vote down these amendments and increase employment and protect the boy.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Hoopes and Mrs. Wilson and were as follows:

It was agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following reason for my vote.

I am voting for this amendment so that the large number of boys of 14 years of age, who earn their living and help support their families, may not be deprived of this opportunity.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following reason for my vote.

I am voting aye for amendments for the reason that men cannot be obtained to do the work of newspaper boys at even twice or three times the pay and many boys 14 years of age aid in this manner to support their families and aid themselves in obtaining an education by purchasing clothing and other necessaries.

The second and third sections and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 That section three as amended and sections thirteen sixteen and nineteen of the said act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 3 This act shall go into effect on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five.

An Act to amend the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health safety and welfare of minors By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations and under certain specified ages by restricting their hours of labor and regulating certain conditions of their employment by requiring employment certificates for certain minors and prescribing the kinds thereof and the rules for the issuance reissuance filing return and recording of the same by providing that the Industrial Board shall under certain conditions determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act requiring that certain minors shall during the period of their employment attend certain schools to be established as therein provided and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and regulating the conditions of such attendance authorizing the State Board of Education in certain cases to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry the attendance officers of school districts and police officers and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" as amended by prohibiting employment of minors between fourteen and sixteen years of age except in certain types of work which will not interfere with school attendance further limiting the occupations in which minors between fourteen and eighteen years of age may be employed or permitted to work and the hours of labor further regulating employment certificates and requiring such certificates for minors under eighteen imposing on school districts the duty to issue such certificates further requiring schedules of the hours of employment to be posted and repealing certain sections.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 353, entitled:

An Act to provide for the annual registration of industrial establishments by the Department of Labor and Industry, and imposing a penalty for violations of the act.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the sponsor of this bill explain its purposes to the House?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is an administration measure designed to guard against the fly-by-night fellow who comes in here, establishes a manufacturing process, within two or three months holds up the wages of his employes and then leaves town. This bill precludes the possibility of such a happening because he must file with the Secretary of Labor and Industry a notice of his intention to cease operation. The bill is also devised to give the Department of Labor and Industry an accurate and thorough check on the establishments in the state on which the Secretary of Labor and Industry can base unemployment figures in the State of Pennsylvania. Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, referring to page 1, section 2, defining the word "Employment," would the gentleman take that to apply to a physician or professional man who employed four persons in his office?

Mr. COLEMAN. No sir, I would not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman take that to apply to a farmer that uses four persons to merchandise or sell his farm products?

Mr. COLEMAN. No, sir, Mr. Speaker. The bill specifically exempts from the provisions of the bill persons engaged in private domestic service, agriculture or casual emplyoment.

Mr. SOWERS. But, Mr. Speaker, may I ask if that exempts those farmers that sell their own products?

Mr. COLEMAN. It is my understanding, Mr. Speaker, that it will.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, in what way will it do that?

Mr. COLEMAN. That is specifically provided for in line thirteen exempting agriculture from the provisions of the bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, doesn't that mean only the raising of products and not the disposing of them?

Mr. COLEMAN. No sir, it does not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Would the bill, in the gentleman's opinion, apply to an industry that was conducted at home by the family?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, the question is entirely too vague for answer. I would like to have the gentleman elaborate on "an industry at home."

Mr. SOWERS. Take the case of a farmer that preserves and uses his wife and children in his home to prepare those preserves and sell them.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, they would be exempt from the provisions of the bill, as I understand it.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, how does the gentleman come to such a conclusion?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, again I repeat that agriculture is omitted from the provisions of the bill, anything that has to do with agriculture, and the word "farmer" and "industry in the home," I think, comes under the caption of agriculture.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think that the making of preserves in the home and selling the home preserves comes under the definition of agriculture?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, in the case of employment I would regard it as so.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purposes and objects of this bill are very meritorious. I regret, however, to say that I believe, in my opinion, the bill is very poorly drawn. I really believe that it should be sent back to committee so that it might be properly amended. It certainly is not the intention of the Legislature to require a little industry of three or four persons to be registered, and to be registered in the way that this bill provides. This bill will affect every little country store where the wife and children and other relatives wait upon that store. It would affect nearly every practicing attorney in this Commonwealth. Certainly it is not the intention of this House to require that these parties be registered and it seems to me that the sponsor in fairness to the bill and in fairness to the purposes which are sought to be accomplished, should send the bill back to committee for amendment. If the bill does not go back to committee for amendment, I ask you gentlemen to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, bearing in mind that I am in favor of this bill, and also bearing in mind that apparently both the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, are in accord, may I ask the gentleman from Lackawanna whether he has any objection to placing this bill on the postponed calendar until tomorrow in order that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, and the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, may get together in order to clarify the situation that the gentleman from Philadelphia suggests?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I do. The bill is an administration measure. It has been studied and analyzed by the opposition in the House. There isn't anything about the bill, as I view it, that is misleading. It gives the Department of Labor and Industry, as I said before, a thorough and accurate check on the industrial establishments of the state. I see no reason whatsoever why the bill should be put upon the postponed calendar, and I ask the Democratic members of this House to vote for it.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if the gentleman has any objection, for the purpose of giving us an opportunity of consulting with the Attorney General as to whether or not certain amendments to clarify this bill shall be inserted in the bill, to placing it upon the postponed calendar only until tomorrow morning?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I thank the gentleman from Lackawanna for agreeing so to do?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 517, Printer's No. 81, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Burke.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 517, entitled:

An Act providing for the appointment and duties of county detectives in counties of the first class and repealing inconsistent acts

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he is in favor of the principle of keeping the police out of politics?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, as a general proposition, yes.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether as a general proposition he would include all police officers of the City of Philadelphia being kept out of politics?

Mr. BURKE. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I would.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he is in favor of the civil service law for policemen and firemen?

Mr. BURKE. Yes, I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he believes there ought to be a limit to the number of police officers that any borough or city, and particularly the City of Philadelphia, ought to be able to appoint?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer or, rather, ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, what application these questions have to the bill before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. May I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that if he will reply to the question—unless he has objection thereto—I shall endeavor to immediately thereafter point out the application. The last question that I asked the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, was whether or not he believed there ought to be a limit to the number of police officers or detectives that the City of Philadelphia ought to be able to employ.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I see no application of the gentleman's question to the bill now before the House, and I do not care to answer it.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I take it that the gentleman refuses to answer any further questions or merely that particular question?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I am willing to answer any question that is pertinent to the bill.

Mr. WITKIN. May I ask if the gentleman from Philadelphia is familiar with the Act of 1919, as amended by the Act of 1925, which under Section 2, he seeks now to repeal?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mind repeating that question?

Mr. WITKIN. The Act of 1919, as amended by the Act of 1925, referred to in Section 2 of the bill, which the gentleman now seeks to repeal. Mr. Speaker, my question is whether or not the gentleman is familiar with the provisions thereof.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia know that there is a limit to the number of county detectives that may be appointed under that bill?

Mr. BURKE. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. WITKIN. And, Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know the number.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker. I do. There is one chief county detective, one assistant county detective, ten county detectives, at a specified salary, and ten more at a lower specified salary.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, and does the gentleman know that if the repeal of this bill takes effect that under the terms of it that number could be increased to one thousand instead of twenty-two?

Mr. BURKE. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Philadelphia is entirely correct, when he questions the application of certain questions that I placed before him to the terms of this bill, and I now choose to answer those questions.

The first question, if I recall correctly, was, do you believe that police and firemen ought to be kept out of politics, and the second question was whether or not you believe in the police and firemen coming under the civil service.

Now, let us see what this bill does. May I preface my remarks by saying that I do not believe that there is anything partisan about this bill. I do not believe that it is a bill that the Republicans ought to be for and the Democrats against, or vice versa. It is simply a question of good government.

A police officer to-day comes under the civil service. Under this bill the police officers of Philadelphia are taken out of the civil service. The bill of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, specifically states that the District Attorney, by and with the consent of the City Council, can appoint certain men for certain duties, who shall be police officers of the City of Philadelphia, and, using his exact verbiage, "shall be general police officers and shall have all powers now conferred," and so forth.

Now, members of the House, if you vote for this bill then you vote for the proposition that in Philadelphia tomorrow, under a Republican administration, there could be appointed one thousand or more police officers without civil service, because this bill makes no provision for police officers being appointed under the civil service. If you vote for this bill, you vote for the principle of the abolishment of civil service insofar as the police of Philadelphia are concerned.

I have always heard it preached and have always have heard it said by the gentlemen from both parties that the police have no business in politics, but the police under this bill, not being under the civil service, would come right within the teeth of being in politics, because there is nothing in the bill that exempts the particular police officer who would be appointed from being kept out of politics.

I say to the members of the house that whether you be Democrats or Republicans, this bill is bad in principle, and I say, very frankly to you, that I do not want to give to the Republican administration in Philadelphia to-day any more than I would want to give to a Democratic administration the right to take the police and firemen out of the civil service. I believe that they belong in the civil service, and I believe they ought to stay there.

There is one other great objection to this bill, and I point this out to you: what right have council to interfere with the prosecution and the seeking out of those who have committed a crime by a duly elected District Attorney. What right have we to hamstring our District Attorney in Philadelphia? Why should our District Attorney have to go to City Council to say "May I appoint John Jones my chief of detectives?" What right have you, members of the Democratic or Republican party, to say to the District Attorney of Philadelphia, "You are going to appoint whomsoever we want you to appoint, else we will only approve a certain number of appointees."

Members of the House, you are going a step way back into the back woods and you are taking a step that will come back to haunt you, if you try to restrict the District Attorney as to whom he shall appoint or how many he shall appoint. The Act, as it now reads, provides that there shall be twenty-two county detectives. I say that that number has been deemed sufficient for the City of Philadelphia. We do not want the right to appoint fifty-two, do not want the right to appoint more than we have got.

Members of the House, whether you be Democrats or not, I say to you that this bill should not be the football of partisan politics, and just because my friend who proposed it is a Democrat, and just because I happen to be a Republican, I say that that ought not to stop you from voting this bill down. It is bad legislation. I believe it is the worst bill that has been before this House and I ask you to vote it down, because if you don't, you are doing something that is going to take the civil service law out of its present high standing and leave the thing open to all sorts of abuses.

I trust you will vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if under the Act of 1919, as amended by the Act of 1925, the county detectives are not beyond the provisions of the civil service law.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the answer is they are. May I explain that, however? This bill goes further than that. County detectives are not general police officers. Under the terms of the bill you make them general police officers. Their number to-day is only twenty, and although they are outside of the civil service law, nevertheless, they do not have the powers of general police officers, as you here designate them.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia admit that if this bill is passed it will make no change in the status of county detectives so far as their being subject to the civil service law is concerned?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, undoubtedly that is correct, with the explanation that it would refer to twenty odd men and not the number that there could be under this Act, and, bearing in mind also, that those twenty-two detectives, county detectives, to-day are merely employed for the purpose of seeking out and getting evidence for the prosecuting attorney's office, and do not exercise and do not have the power to exercise general police duties, such as you would inflict upon them under the terms of this bill.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe that in my bill the duties of a county detective as there set forth correspond to the present duties of a county detective in Philadelphia?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman to repeat that question?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if House Bill No. 517, as it prescribes the duties of county detectives, if it does not limit the operations and duties of county detectives to matters coming directly under the district attorney.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would answer that question by saying undoubtedly no, it does not. It makes them general police officers. The county detectives, I read, "Said detectives shall be general police officers"—they are not general police officers, in that more than half of them are engaged in ferreting out murder cases and only murder cases. About eight of those county detectives are specialists in seeking out and investigating murder cases only, and I would say that the bill now before us takes them out of that present position and makes them general police officers, and the police officers, being under the civil service law, the general police officers, and the number being unrestricted under your bill, your bill should not prevail.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman if the provisions of this bill preceding the section which he has read do not conform to the present duties of county detectives in Philadelphia.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, it includes the present duties, and adds additional duties and makes them general police officers. You can not get away from the provisions of your bill that makes your county detective a general police officer, even though you may keep within his duties the present duties that he now has.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 482, Printer's No. 78, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Burke.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 482, entitled:

An Act further to amend section one of the act approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275), entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures; providing for their compensation and expenses; prescribing their duties; prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights; and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof," eliminating the minimum salaries of inspectors of weights and measures in counties of the first class, and providing for the appointment of inspectors of weights and measures by the mayors of cities of the first class.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

VOTE RECONSIDERED

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 11 of title, by striking out the word "counties" and inserting in lieu thereof, the following: "cities."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 17 by inserting before the word "shall" the following: "except in counties of the first class."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 24 by striking out the word "counties" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "cities."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BRADLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 255, Printer's No. 75, on page 11, of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Bradley.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 255, entitled:

An Act to prevent fraud and deception in the shipping marketing and sale of anthracite coal providing standards for anthracite coal and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I opposed the passage of this bill last Wednesday when it was on third reading. At that time I gave my reasons why I felt this bill should not pass. I will not burden the House with another speech on that subject but I merely wish to call your attention again to the fact that if this bill passes in its original form it will do one of two things, it will either put the burden on the coal companies at the present time of a huge cost in order that they may meet the different requirements under the bill or it will mean the loss of considerable labor due to the shutting down of various stripping operations.

As a member from one of the anthracite communities, I urge the members of this House to vote "no" on the final passage of this bill.

Mr. BRADLEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hope that you will consider this bill and vote "aye" on it. As you know, this stripping machine takes the place of a lot of miners, and we are getting a lot of coal or rather, we are paying for a lot of coal that is not the kind of coal we are paying for.

While some the strippings are giving us fresh mined coal—there is not questions about that, that does not say anything about the methods they are using. We have thousands of men not working today who would gladly do the work if we would take away this machine and classify the coal as it should be classified.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose the passage of this bill. This bill if passed will do nothing more than put additional costs on anthracite coal, and it is very evident to all of you that these costs will not be borne by the coal company. Eventually it is the customer that will have to pay the cost, and I feel, as I know a majority of you do, that this is no time to place additional costs that are not necessary upon the producer, whereby those costs will be just passed to the consumer, turned back eventually, and the hardship will fall upon the workers of the anthracite coal region. The provisions of this bill, it is almost impossible to carry out. You have to tag, as I may call it, practically every kind of coal by truck or railroad or any other means of transportation out of the anthracite region into the city, and you define the specific kind of coal, and each different kind of coal will have to be run through the breaker at a different time. It seems to me that it will be almost impossible to enforce this act without bringing hardship on the anthracite region and I ask the members to vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHROPE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Schuylkill made mention of the difficulty of keeping separate stripped coal from the other coal. What is the difference in the heat value that the two coals have?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, there is no difference between the two.

Mr. REISING. Well then, Mr. Speaker, why is the provision made for separation of the two grades of coal?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, my answer is that the gentleman will have to ask the sponsor of the bill because I cannot answer it.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman elaborated on the fact that there were two grades of coal and that it would be difficult to separate, and he did not state that the one coal was the same as the other, so I felt that it would be all right to ask him those questions.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, the bill classifies two separate kinds of coal, but they come from the same vein.

Mr. REISING. May I inquire, Mr. Speaker, whether coming from the same vein, it is not a fact that by being exposed to the air it loses some of its heat value?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, the stripped coal is not exposed to the air for any length of time. The earth is removed and then the coal is reached and removed, and it is exposed for only a very short period, during which it does not lose any heat value.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, what objection do the miners have to this operation?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, it will increase the cost of coal and therefore in the competition between fuel oil and coal, the coal will be the sufferer because anthracite coal in the cities will be higher in price if the cost of production is increased.

Mr. REISING. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, may I ask, that this stripping is done mostly with machinery?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, to a large degree, yes.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if it is not true that that operation does not reduce the cost of production greatly.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, some of this coal where strippers are used could never be reached by the miners and would never be mined by them.

Mr. REISING. You say that the heat value of the coal is the same?

The SPEAKER. Are the gentlemen holding a conversation? Does the gentleman from Beaver wish to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill further?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, one more question. The point I want to make clear, Mr. Speaker, is whether or not there is a difference in the heat value of the stripped coal and the other coal?

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I am no chemist but from what I know of coal there is no difference.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1935 No. 20

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 26, 1935.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Lord, each new day brings new responsibilities, new burdens and new opportunities. Grant that we may be brave enough to face the responsibilities, strong enough to bear the burdens and sufficiently alert to discover the opportunities brought to us by the dawning of his new day.

May its hours be filled with honest effort to serve Thee and our fellow men. At its close may we be comforted to know that we have endeavored to do Thy will. Such knowledge alone brings ease of conscience and a sense of Divine approval. These alone bring true happiness.

We commit this Senate and all who are here present unto Thee.

Watch over us and guide us in the way that leads unto eternal life. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BAUMER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ABOLISH THE FEDERAL GASOLINE TAX

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution Serial No. 113, relative to memoralizing Congress to abolish the Federal gasoline tax, which was reported from the Committee on Federal Relations, on February 19th.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 18, 1935.

The taxing of fuel used in the operation of motor vehicles has, from its arliest inception, been considered justified because of the dedication of funds arising therefrom to the construction and maintenance of modern smooth surfaced highways, specially enjoyed by those who are called upon to pay the tax.

The government of the United States now exacts one hundred and seventy millions of dollars during each year from this source of taxation, which is expended for general governmental purposes, which sum should properly be diverted to the several states for use upon their highways.

Fourteen States of this Union already have petitioned their Senators and Representatives in Congress in an effort to bring about an abolition of the Federal tax on motor vehicle fuels, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact appropriate Federal legislation to forthwith abolish the Federal tax of one cent per gallon on motor vehicle fuels.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this Senate.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as one member of the fast disappearing band of elder statesmen I feel it to be my duty to instruct the Democratic floor leader in his duties to his party. On that fatal day in January when triumphant Democracy was hailed into the seat of Government I had my back against the wall in the main corridor of the Capitol, watching for the procession; and, to my delight, at the very head of the procession was the Grand Marshal, the Senator from Northampton. Unfortunately, ever since that event I have detected a certain atmosphere of imperialism which has gathered about the head of the Senator from Northampton.

In those happy days when there were only seven Democrats on the other side of the aisle, when we called one another by the name of Herman and Warren and Henry and Charlie, when everything was in common, if a member of the Senate had a resolution, he could write the resolution and the Democrats or the Republicans were all for it,—they did not even listen to it. All that is now changed; this gap is yawning between old friends. And this resolution, which I thought was to help Governor Earle's tax program, is looked upon with suspicion by the Democratic floor leader. Is it possible that he has become so imperialistic that he now regards his chief as the President in the White House rather than the Governor in his mansion on the Susquehanna River?

This resolution, which is anxiously awaited by Speaker Byrnes and the Vice President—whose names escapes me—will, of course, diminish the Federal revenue; but I trust that the Democratic leader, the Senator from Northampton, will recognize that just as charity begins at home so also loyalty begins at home, and I beg of him to be loyal to his Governor and forget imperialism and the White House.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I cannot believe that this is any of our business. I am sure that the Senate of the United States will resent any intrusion of word from this Senate, and I think we would resent any intrusion from the Senate of the United States, to tell us what we should do.

This is an emergncy we are in these days, and Congress is having its troubles the same as we are having our troubles; and I feel that it is not our business to interfere with or suggest to the Congress of the United States what they should do in these troublesome times.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

A division being called for, thirty Senators voted in the affirmative and ten Senators in the negative,

Whereupon, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representaiives for its concurrence.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 26, 1935.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 141, as follows:

An Act authorizing the abatement of certain tax penalties and interest on county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties and interest imposed on delinquent county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years assessed against any real estate may be abated by the authority levying the tax if said delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided and if the taxes due on such real estate for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five are paid at the time prescribed by law for the payment of taxes

In order to receive the benefits of this act twenty per centum of the delinquent taxes due for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and for all previous years shall be paid on or before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five twenty per centum on or before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six twenty per centum on or before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven twenty per centum on or before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and the final twenty per centum on or before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine.

If any taxpayer availing himself of the provisions of this act shall fail to pay any instalment of taxes as hereinbefore provided for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years as hereinafter provided then the penalties and interest due on such unpaid instalment or instalments shall not be abated

Any taxpayer may anticipate the payment of such delinquent taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and previous years and receive the benefit of this act.

This act shall be construed to apply to all taxes whether or not liens for such taxes have been returned for non payment or have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been instituted in any court in said county

The benefits of this act shall extend to and accrue to any grantee transferee mortgagee or other party in interest in the real estate against which the above mentioned taxes have been assessed and levied

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 286, entitled:

An Act to amend section one as amended of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorded in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provide for raising revenue for State purpose," by imposing tax upon obligations of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and certain other Federal agencies.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I should like to say a few words as to this bill. This again raises the question whether our able and distinguished Democratic friend loves Rome more than Caesar. Now, we all know that the southern States get about 99% of their relief from the Federal Government,—I think Mississippi gets 99.9 per cent. South Carolina gets 99.8 per cent. and so on. And in the northern States they contribute dollar for dollar. This bill came about because the Federal Government proceeded to tax the State of Ohio on their liquor licenses, on the ground that it was primarily a Federal Government matter; and the Federal Government is slashing that money out of Ohio. It is not only on licenses; the Federal Government is attempting to collect a tax on the value of the stocks in the State Stores—on which you may know the cases before the Supreme Court.

Now then, this bill maintains that the securities of the H. O. L. C., another Federal enterprise in the securities field, are just as much proprietary—or of a private nature—as is the liquor business; and I hope if the Democrats believe that charity begins at home they will help the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by voting for this bill. And I believe the Government might want it; and it certainly would be a very interesting test of whether what is sauce for the goose cannot be sauce for the gander.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to know whether this amendment, if made to the general law, would be a matter of legislative function or judicial function.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is an amendment to Section 1 of the Act of 1913, the four-mill personal property tax, so that all loans, bonds and so forth heretofore or hereafter issued by the Federal Home Owners' Loan Cooperation, or by any other Federal board or agency, and so forth, exercising a proprietary rather than a governmental function, shall pay a tax of four mills on personal property.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the fact that when the H. O. L. C. bonds are issued they are to be considered as proprietary bonds,—will that make it a matter of legislative action or of judicial action?

Mr .WOODWARD. Judicial, eventually.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, if it is a judicial matter, then, for what purpose is this act in the Assembly?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this act is to bring within the limits of the four-mills act a new set of securities which may be owned in Pennsylvania . You may have a large number, in your possession, of H. O. L. C. bonds,—you look very properous to me, and you are not paying any personal property tax on them. If this is signed by the Governor,—until the Supreme Court knocks it out,—you will have to pay a tax of four mills on your H. O. L. C. bonds. They tax us on our liquor; why should we not tax them on their bonds?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will it take a legislative act for the proper Court to decide what are taxable under the present law as it now stands?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it surely will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr .Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, with great pleasure.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to know whether the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, feels that he should engage counsel to answer the questions that have been propounded.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, no; I have been in this body so long I have become judicial in my aspect.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would not have this bill, which I think very important, become a party matter. After all, I see no reason why the H. O. L. C. bonds should not bear their burden of taxation; for, when it is analyzed, after all the man who holds the H. O. L. C. bonds is the one who heretofore held a first mortgage, or at least a mortgage, and upon that mortgage he had to pay a four mills tax.

The H. O. L. C. bonds at the present time are selling above par. The holder, therefore, is not the poor man who had to exchange his security from the mortgage holder for the bonds, but he is the man who holds a better security, guaranteed by the United States Government, a security that is selling above par; and there is a great deal of this security in Pennsylvania, and I see no reason why that man should not pay his proportionate share of taxes at the present time, under the present conditions, the same as he had to pay his share of taxes before, when he held the first mortgage.

And the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, this morning there were six bills that were pertaining to amendments suggested to the Workmen's Compensation Act of 1915, which were referred by the Chair to the Committee on Judiciary Special. On investigation I learned that bills similar, or, at least, somewhat similar in nature are already in the Committee on Labor and Industry; and in order that both sets of bills may receive intelligent consideration, and may be considered with each other and contrasted, and that any amendment to the Compensation Act at all will be enacted during this session, and that we may have the best thought contained in all sets of bills, I respectfully ask that the Chair recommit these bills to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

Mr. STAUDENHEIER, from the Committee on Judiciary Special reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 392, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three hundred and nine of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," by changing the basis for computation of weekly wages.

Also from the Committee on Judiciary Special reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 393, entitled:

An Act to amend article three of the act approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled: "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," by providing for autopsies in cases of death.

Also from the Committee on Judiciary Special reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 394, entitled:

An Act to amend sections three hundred and seven and four hundred and ten as amended, and section three hundred and ten of the act approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled: "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," by denying the right to compensation to non-resident alien dependents.

Also from the Committee on Judiciary Special reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 395, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four hundred and twenty-two of the act approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled: "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," by modifying the rules of evidence before the workmen's compensation board and referees.

Also from the Committee on Judiciary Special reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 396, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (g) of section three hundred and six of the act approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled: "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," as amended by modifying the rule as to compensation in cases of hernia.

Also from the Committee on Judiciary Special reported as committed, Senate Bill 397, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections four hundred and thirteen and four hundred and thirty-four of the act approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled: "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment, establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder." by further defining the limitations of the review modification, setting aside and reinstating of agreements and awards, and on the setting aside of final receipts.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that public hearings are to be held on these bills and others by the Committee on Labor and Industry. So that all bills of this character may be considered at such hearings, these bills are recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry, Senate Bills Nos. 392, 393, 394, 395, 396 and 397.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

DELEGATES TO AMERICAN LEGISLATORS' CONGRESS

The PRESIDENT. In behalf of the President Pro Tempore, the Chair announces the appointment of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, and the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Rupp, as delegates to represent the Senate of Pennsylvania at the American Legislators' Congress to be held in connection with the council of State Governments on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 28 and March 1 and 2, 1935, at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of personal privilege.

HEARING BY COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I merely want to explain to members of the Senate that the Committee on Constitutional Changes was ready to have a hearing tomorrow, but that all who have asked to be heard have requested that they be heard next week and not tomorrow.

It appears that the Pennsylvania Bar Association, which has asked to be heard next week, cannot, through its representatives, speak authoritatively until after they have held their executive meeting next Saturday, March 2nd; and the others, some six in number, have stated that they wish to be heard next week instead of tomorrow. That is why there is to be no hearing this week by the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:10 P. M. until 9 o'clock Monday evening, March 4, 1935.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, February 26, 1935.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend George W. Spotts, pastor of Trinity Reformed Church, Telford, Pa., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, Thou Who art the giver of every good and perfect gift placed here at our disposal as we labor here upon earth, we here meet in Thy Holy presence this morning in this legislative hall as men and women who bear the invested confidence of many people of the various districts of Pennsylvania who have chosen us to represent their cause in this law making body. May this responsibility be sensed by all of us.

Bless, we beseech Thee, the Governor of the Commonwealth and all others in authority.

All this we ask in the name of Him Who has brought light, life and immortality. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. Van Allsburg the further reading was dispened with and the Journal approved.
